

Attack!

Revolutionary Voice of the National Alliance

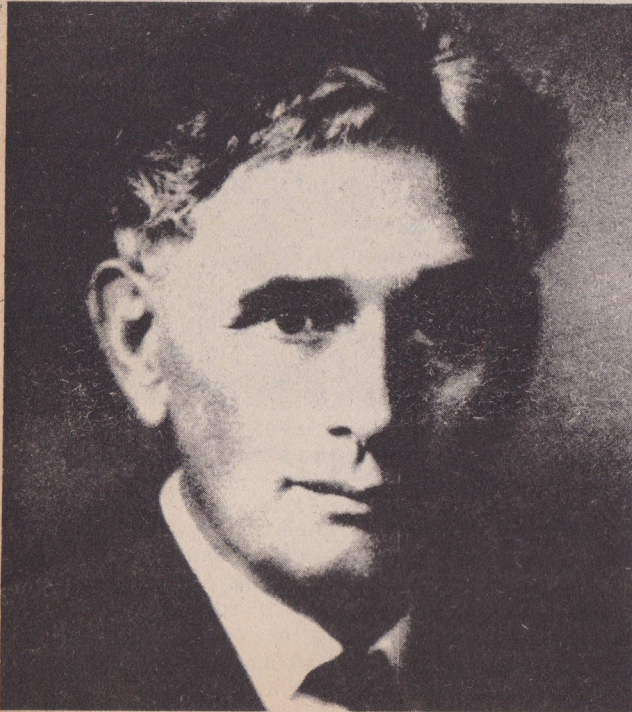

No. 48

Special Issue

25 cents

The Truth for All Americans

This is the only American newspaper which prints the whole truth. Defying the controlled news media, ATTACK! gives you the news they deliberately suppress. It rips aside the curtain of silence and lies which conceals the wirepullers behind the scenes. And ATTACK! gives you a chance to spread the truth to others. Please buy as many copies as you possibly can, and spread them around. Thanks!

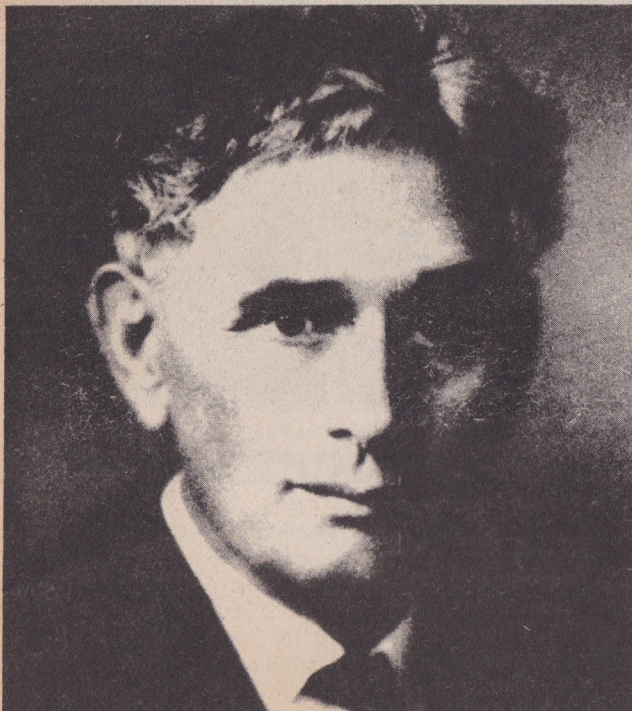

Secret Out

in revealing documents
on his war guilt—see p. 12

“Disaster!”

Secret Out

in revealing documents
on his war guilt—see p.12

“Disaster!”

say hate groups of this
man’s reappointment—see p.4

“Disaster!”

say hate groups of this
man's reappointment—see p. 4

Conspirators trembling as he keeps exposing them—see p. 11

What It's All About

A lot of people take the attitude that, well, sure, the country's got problems, but what can I do about it? I might as well mind my own business and get along the best I can.

In the National Alliance we look at it a little differently. We think there is something we can do.

We believe that we understand what's causing America's problems. We can see a few common factors which are at the root of all the trouble.

If we can get at those factors and change them, we can make a big difference. We can build a better America.

One of these factors — and it's a big one — is that most White Americans have lost their feeling of identity.

Another way of saying this is that they think of themselves merely as individuals, nothing more. They aren't a part of anything bigger than themselves.

Their purpose in life doesn't go much beyond looking out for Number One: providing for their own welfare and recreation. If they're married, they probably include the other members of the family in their purpose, but that's about it.

They have no roots in the past and no responsibility to the future. A psychologist would say they are "alienated."

This is a bad state of affairs. It results in unhappy people and a sick society.

And it's dangerous. People who have no sense of identity or solidarity are easy prey for other many have turned to drugs and other "escapes" from a life that is largely meaningless.

The way to begin curing all these problems is to give White Americans a strong sense of identity. That's part of what we in the National Alliance and its youth arm, the National Youth Alliance, are trying to do.

We're teaching Americans to look at life in a new way: Each White person is not only an individual, but he is also a member of his racial community — a community with roots in the most distant past and with a destiny in the unlimited future.

The individual should regard himself as a vital link in the chain of generations connecting his race's great past with its glorious future. He should think not only of his own welfare and security but also of the welfare and security of his race.

He should understand that, if America is to survive and prosper, the people who built the country — the great, White majority — must once again become masters in their own house, and that this can only happen if they put the interests of the race and the nation ahead of personal interests.

This educational task, which is carried out in part by ATTACK! and by the books we distribute, is only part of what we are doing. The bigger task is to build a new community of all those who share our faith and our concern for the future.

We teach, and we organize

New Awakening in Argentina

The struggle for power — and for the soul of the Argentine people — which has been raging in Argentina for several years has brought one burning issue to the fore in recent weeks: the Jewish question.

Until now it has been a well-kept secret outside Argentina that Jews have been playing a major role in that country's civil strife. The Jewish community in Argentina numbers about 600,000 and dominates Argentine commerce. It also provides financing, much of the leadership, and media support for Argentina's leftist terrorists.

Argentine patriots have long been aware of the Jewish-leftist connections, but until recently have been unable to act decisively against Jews because of government and church protection for them. Nevertheless, patriots have waged an active and effective propaganda campaign designed to alert the Argentine public to the deadly menace in their midst. Despite repeated Jewish demands that the government suppress all books, magazines, and newspapers exposing their activities, the average Argentine citizen can easily purchase such publications at newsstands in Buenos Aires and other Argentine cities.

Now patriots are beginning to take direct action against leading Jewish subversives in Argentina. Several have been abducted and executed recently, and patriots promise that many more will suffer the same fate.

From Canada . . .

Ark Chambermaids

MONTREAL (AP) — Some chambermaids are taking their summer vacation in the traditional hazy. At least two were killed after the completion of their duties.

Robert G. Richard, the police chief, said that the victims were a Polish, Hungarian, Spanish and French woman. He said the police had no ground to make any arrests.

The first one was the African. Her methods are small, we say, direct. They are not over and talk later. And they don't mind grabbing the seat of a girl's pants when they are

Roeder Addresses Alliance Meeting

Washington-area members and supporters of the National Alliance were pleased to have Mr. Manfred Roeder as a special guest at their regular Sunday-evening meeting on August 29. Mr. Roeder is the leader of the German Citizens' Initiative (Deutsche Buergerinitiative), a patriotic action-group which he founded in his home community of Schwarzenborn, Germany, four years ago and which is now active throughout Germany.

Mr. Roeder, a 47-year-old attorney, told those at the meeting about the ways in which his group has been challenging the alien-minded, Brandt-Schmidt occupatdollars in blackmail payments being extorted from Germany by the government of Israel in order to support "concentration camp survivors" in idle luxury; the continued imprisonment of Hitler's deputy, Rudolf Hess, in Spandau Fortress for the "crime" of attempting to halt the war between England and Germany in 1941; and the utter lack of any sense of honor or patriotism in the democratic politicians who have misruled Germany under Jewish-Allied auspices since 1945.

The consequences of these statements have been a flood of publicity in the German news media, an outpouring of support from tens of thousands of German citizens, and repeated efforts by the government to silence the German Citizens' Initiative. In this last regard, dozens of criminal charges have been brought against Mr. Roeder and his associates, and he has been barred from the further practice of law.

His group is bearing up well under this persecution and continuing to grow, however. His recent visit to America was for the purpose of establishing contacts with patriots in this country.

problems. We can see a few common factors which are at the root of all the trouble.

If we can get at those factors and change them, we can make a big difference. We can build a better America.

One of these factors — and it's a big one — is that most White Americans have lost their feeling of identity.

Another way of saying this is that they think of themselves merely as individuals, nothing more. They aren't a part of anything bigger than themselves.

Their purpose in life doesn't go much beyond looking out for Number One: providing for their own welfare and recreation. If they're married, they probably include the other members of the family in their purpose, but that's about it.

They have no roots in the past and no responsibility to the future. A psychologist would say they are "alienated."

This is a bad state of affairs. It results in unhappy people and a sick society.

And it's dangerous. People who have no sense of identity or solidarity are easy prey for other groups of people who know who they are and what they want.

That's why we've lost control of our news media, for example. That's why tiny Israel can dictate America's foreign policy and cause oil boycotts against us.

It's why White kids are getting knocked around so much by Black kids in our schools. And it's why terrorist gangs are on the rise, killing White people in the streets, kidnapping, raping, and generally showing us that they have no fear and no respect for us.

Americans are in the habit of looking to their government for solutions to problems like these. The trouble with that approach is that the government itself is a big part of the problem.

We're teaching Americans to look at life in a new way: Each White person is not only an individual, but he is also a member of his racial community — a community with roots in the most distant past and with a destiny in the unlimited future.

The individual should regard himself as a vital link in the chain of generations connecting his race's great past with its glorious future. He should think not only of his own welfare and security but also of the welfare and security of his race.

He should understand that, if America is to survive and prosper, the people who built the country — the great, White majority — must once again become masters in their own house, and that this can only happen if they put the interests of the race and the nation ahead of personal interests.

This educational task, which is carried out in part by ATTACK! and by the books we distribute, is only part of what we are doing. The bigger task is to build a new community of all those who share our faith and our concern for the future.

We teach, and we organize those whom we have taught into a coherent force for reaching out to others. Thus, we grow, and our strength and capabilities grow.

Eventually, our community will be large enough to exert a substantial influence on the affairs of the larger, national community. Already, in certain cases where we had a lot of leverage, we've been able to make our efforts felt on a national scale.

So our main task for now is to grow — just continue growing and becoming stronger as fast as we can. And the way we do that is to reach out to more and more Americans who are realizing the emptiness and the sterility of a life with no purpose beyond itself.

We reach out by sending our people into the streets to sell of the leadership, and media support for Argentina's leftist terrorists.

Argentine patriots have long been aware of the Jewish-leftist connections, but until recently have been unable to act decisively against Jews because of government and church protection for them. Nevertheless, patriots have waged an active and effective propaganda campaign designed to alert the Argentine public to the

Roeder Addresses Alliance Meeting

Washington-area members and supporters of the National Alliance were pleased to have Mr. Manfred Roeder as a special guest at their regular Sunday-evening meeting on August 29. Mr. Roeder is the leader of the German Citizens' Initiative (Deutsche Buergerinitiative), a patriotic action-group which he founded in his home community of Schwarzenborn, Germany, four years ago and which is now active throughout Germany.

Mr. Roeder, a 47-year-old attorney, told those at the meeting about the ways in which his group has been challenging the alien-minded, Brandt-Schmidt occupation government in the Western Zone of Germany and how the government, the media, and the public have been responding.

Although the German Citizens' Initiative has organized a number of spectacular public protests against the pornography industry and other forms of moral degeneracy in Germany, it has received by far its strongest response from its public statements on certain forbidden topics, especially the myth of "six million gassed Jews" during World War II.

Mr. Roeder and his associates have also spoken out loudly, repeatedly, and effectively about such scandals as the billions of dollars in blackmail payments being extorted from Germany by the government of Israel in order to support "concentration camp survivors" in idle luxury; the continued imprisonment of Hitler's deputy, Rudolf Hess, in Spandau Fortress for the "crime" of attempting to halt the war between England and Germany in 1941; and the utter lack of any sense of honor or patriotism in the democratic politicians who have misruled Germany under Jewish-Allied auspices since 1945.

The consequences of these statements have been a flood of publicity in the German news media, an outpouring of support from tens of thousands of German citizens, and repeated efforts by the government to silence the German Citizens' Initiative. In this last regard, dozens of criminal charges have been brought against Mr. Roeder and his associates, and he has been barred from the further practice of law.

His group is bearing up well under this persecution and continuing to grow, however. His recent visit to America was for the purpose of establishing contacts with patriots in this country.

EVERY 12 MINUTES AN AMERICAN WOMAN IS ATTACKED!..

one-half actual size

Chemical Shield
NON-LETHAL
EYE CONTROL
ENFORCEMENT

Chemical Shield is a powerful, military-type tear gas and anti-they're married, they probably include the other members of the family in their purpose, but that's about it.

They have no roots in the past and no responsibility to the future. A psychologist would say they are "alienated."

This is a bad state of affairs. It results in unhappy people and a sick society.

And it's dangerous. People who have no sense of identity or solidarity are easy prey for other groups of people who know who they are and what they want.

That's why we've lost control of our news media, for example. That's why tiny Israel can dictate America's foreign policy and cause oil boycotts against us.

It's why White kids are getting knocked around so much by Black kids in our schools. And it's why terrorist gangs are on the rise, killing White people in the streets, kidnapping, raping, and generally showing us that they have no fear and no respect for us.

Americans are in the habit of looking to their government for solutions to problems like these. The trouble with that approach is that the government itself is a big part of the problem.

The politicians in the government are concerned about America's problems only to the extent that they influence the outcome of the next election. They are captives of the media, the minority pressure groups, and their own greed and ambition.

With people like that running the country, it's no wonder we're in trouble. It's no wonder the schools are failing to instill a pride of race, culture, and nation in young Americans.

It's no wonder that so many people have no proper sense of values. It's no wonder that so many people are becoming masters in their own house, and that this can only happen if they put the interests of the race and the nation ahead of personal interests.

This educational task, which is carried out in part by ATTACK! and by the books we distribute, is only part of what we are doing. The bigger task is to build a new community of all those who share our faith and our concern for the future.

We teach, and we organize those whom we have taught into a coherent force for reaching out to others. Thus, we grow, and our strength and capabilities grow.

Eventually, our community will be large enough to exert a substantial influence on the affairs of the larger, national community. Already, in certain cases where we had a lot of leverage, we've been able to make our efforts felt on a national scale.

So our main task for now is to grow — just continue growing and becoming stronger as fast as we can. And the way we do that is to reach out to more and more Americans who are realizing the emptiness and the sterility of a life with no purpose beyond itself.

We reach out by sending our people into the streets to sell copies of this newspaper you're reading. We reach out by talking to groups of people in the schools and, whenever there's a chance, by organizing demonstrations and marches.

We do a lot of other things too, but they're all aimed at just one thing: catching your attention and your interest so we can tell you how much more wonderful life is when you're working for something that really matters — and so we can invite you to work with us.

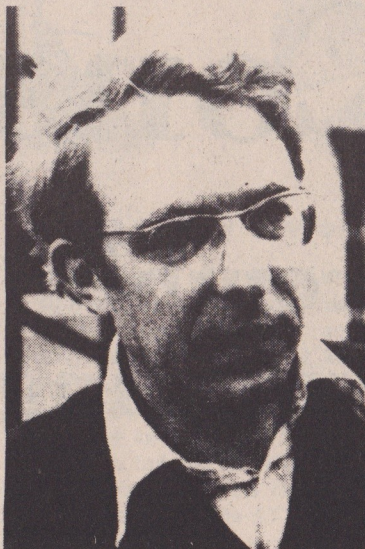

That's what it's all about.

at their regular Sunday-evening meeting on August 29. Mr. Roeder is the leader of the German Citizens' Initiative (Deutsche Buergerinitiative), a patriotic action-group which he founded in his home community of Schwarzenborn, Germany, four years ago and which is now active throughout Germany.

Mr. Roeder, a 47-year-old attorney, told those at the meeting about the ways in which his group has been challenging the alien-minded, Brandt-Schmidt occupation government in the Western Zone of Germany and how the government, the media, and the public have been responding.

Although the German Citizens' Initiative has organized a number of spectacular public protests against the pornography industry and other forms of moral degeneracy in Germany, it has received by far its strongest response from its public statements on certain forbidden topics, especially the myth of "six million gassed Jews" during World War II.

Mr. Roeder and his associates have also spoken out loudly, repeatedly, and effectively about such scandals as the billions of survivors" in idle luxury; the continued imprisonment of Hitler's deputy, Rudolf Hess, in Spandau Fortress for the "crime" of attempting to halt the war between England and Germany in 1941; and the utter lack of any sense of honor or patriotism in the democratic politicians who have misruled Germany under Jewish-Allied auspices since 1945.

MANFRED ROEDER

The consequences of these statements have been a flood of by the government to silence the German Citizens' Initiative. In this last regard, dozens of criminal charges have been brought against Mr. Roeder and his associates, and he has been barred from the further practice of law.

His group is bearing up well under this persecution and continuing to grow, however. His recent visit to America was for the purpose of establishing contacts with patriots in this country.

EVERY 12 MINUTES AN AMERICAN WOMAN IS ATTACKED!..

Chemical Shield is a powerful, military-type tear gas and anti-riot agent (CS). It comes in two convenient canisters, a compact size for shirt pocket and a larger size for purse, coat pocket, desk drawer, or glove compartment. The Pocket Model has a shirt-pocket clip and a special locking device to prevent accidental firing. The Police Model will deliver as many as 100 bursts at an effective range up to 15 feet.

Protect Yourself!

Order Chemical Shield for your home, office, car, pocket or purse.

Make check payable to:

National Alliance Box 3535, Washington, DC 20007

Editorial

Suicidal Policy

Both what is happening in Lebanon and what is happening in southern Africa are happening as direct, foreseeable consequences of the foreign policy of the United States. And both are directly contrary to the interests of the American people.

The continuing genocide of Moslems by Christians and of Christians by Moslems in Lebanon is one of the great triumphs of Henry Kissinger's Middle East policy. It is working exactly the way he planned.

As long as the strife between right-wing Lebanese Christians and left-wing Lebanese and Palestinian Moslems can be kept going, the pressure is off Israel. The Jews can happily continue machine-gunning Palestinian school children in the West Bank and in Galilee who throw rocks at their occupation troops, and there is no worry about retribution by Palestinian fedayeen slipping across the border from Lebanon.

And the strife can be kept going as long as the Jews keep supplying the right-wing Lebanese with armaments and ammunition — all of which are stamped "Made in U.S.A." Everyone involved, from the supply officers in the Pentagon to the Palestinian refugees in their bullet-riddled hovels, understands that a sizable portion of the endless stream of expensive military equipment being shipped from America to Israel for the latter's "defense" is immediately being reshipped to Lebanon.

Although the Israeli government won't officially admit it, the Jews are chortling and boasting about it in all their newspapers: another way to kill the enemies of the Jews without risking a single, precious, Jewish hide.

Very, very clever of the Jews. But not so clever of the American people, who remain in blissful ignorance of all the Washington-Tel Aviv machinations which keep the body count in Beirut climbing higher each day — along with the legacy of Arab hatred for America.

But our responsibility for the slaughter in Lebanon pales into insignificance beside our guilt for allowing our Jew-ridden government to continue its anti-White policy in Rhodesia and South Africa. Surely not many White Americans are taken in by Mr.

Kissinger's pious statements about "seeking a peaceful solution" in southern Africa, while he deliberately pours oil on the flames of Black rebellion and Black terrorism.

Can anyone doubt that the reason Blacks and mulattos are rioting and burning today in South Africa is because the execrable little Jew from America has told them repeatedly that the American government supports their cause? They also have before them the instructive example of the terrorists operating against Rhodesia from Mozambique, who are receiving aid money from the United States so as to be able to continue their bloody work.

Americans may get by with no worse penalty for their Middle East folly than having to do a little walking and a little shivering the next time the exasperated Arabs turn off the oil. But if there is any justice in this world we will pay a far dearer price for acquiescing in the murder of White farmers and their families in Rhodesia and the destruction of White civilization in southern Africa.

'Responsible Conservatives' Leave 3rd Party

When the American Independent Party chose former Georgia Governor Lester Maddox as their Presidential candidate during their convention at the end of August, the group's contingent of "responsible conservatives" all picked up their marbles and went home in a huff. Maddox, an

country with an uncomfortably high proportion of whacko types obsessed with far-out theories of one sort or another.

But the real reasons for the hasty departure of the "responsible" contingent were Maddox's stand on race and the anti-Zionist sentiments expressed by many of

never be used to raise campaign funds for the AIP's segregationist candidate.

The AIP, which is headed by San Diego businessman William K. Shearer, was founded in 1967 to promote the Presidential candidacy of George Wallace. The party was on the ballot in all 50

NAACP Threatens Riots

After the Republican Party proposed during its August convention a Constitutional amendment banning forced racial busing, an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People reacted by threatening more large-scale Negro riots.

Clarence Mitchell, head of the NAACP's Washington office, declared in an August 24 interview that if an attempt is made to halt the forced racial busing of school children Blacks will launch a bloody civil war in America that will make the violence in Lebanon and Ireland seem "like a picnic."

Although the NAACP, the largest organization promoting Black-White racial mixing, purports to be a Negro group, it has been controlled and financed from its inception by Jews rather than Negroes.

Church Subversion Worse

In South Africa and Rhodesia the Christian churches, both Protestant and Catholic, are more and more openly turning against the Whites who built and nurtured them and taking the side of their Black enemies.

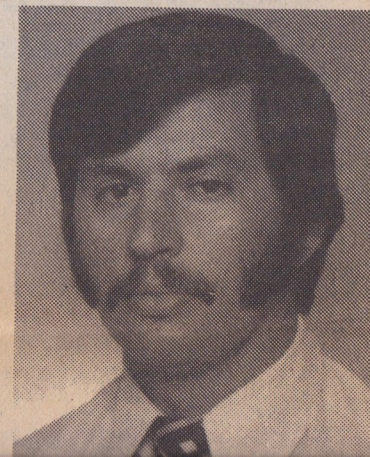

On August 14 Roman Catholic Bishop Donal Lamont, of Umtali, Rhodesia, for years the principal White propagandist for Black terrorists operating in Rhodesia, announced that henceforth the terrorists could count on receiving aid from his church's mission stations. Less than two weeks later he was charged by the government with a specific act of failing to report the presence of Black terrorists who stopped at his church on one of their raids into Rhodesia to kill Whites.

Also in August the Dutch Reformed Church, a Protestant sect formed by South Africa's Boers, issued a resolution calling for an end to the South African government's ban on interracial marriage.

Canadian Patriots Hit

In the latest in a series of harassing actions against the Toronto-based Western Guard, Canadian police arrested the patriotic group's leader, Donald Andrews, on July 19 and charged him with arson and conspiracy to commit mischief. The arson charge is related to fires which have broken out at the homes of several racially mixed couples in Toronto, and the conspiracy charge stems from allegations that Andrews was planning to create a disturbance involving the Israeli soccer team during the Olympic Games in Canada.

Muslims by Christians and of Christians by Moslems in Lebanon is one of the great triumphs of Henry Kissinger's Middle East policy. It is working exactly the way he planned.

As long as the strife between right-wing Lebanese Christians and left-wing Lebanese and Palestinian Moslems can be kept going, the pressure is off Israel. The Jews can happily continue machine-gunning Palestinian school children in the West Bank and in Galilee who throw rocks at their occupation troops, and there is no worry about retribution by Palestinian fedayeen slipping across the border from Lebanon.

And the strife can be kept going as long as the Jews keep supplying the right-wing Lebanese with armaments and ammunition — all of which are stamped "Made in U.S.A." Everyone involved, from

Although the Israeli government won't officially admit it, the Jews are chortling and boasting about it in all their newspapers: another way to kill the enemies of the Jews without risking a single, precious, Jewish hide.

Very, very clever of the Jews. But not so clever of the American people, who remain in blissful ignorance of all the Washington-Tel Aviv machinations which keep the body count in Beirut climbing higher each day — along with the legacy of Arab hatred for America.

But our responsibility for the slaughter in Lebanon pales into insignificance beside our guilt for allowing our Jew-ridden government to continue its anti-White policy in Rhodesia and South Africa. Surely not many White Americans are taken in by Mr.

nothing and burning today in South Africa is because the execrable little Jew from America has told them repeatedly that the American government supports their cause? They also have before them the instructive example of the terrorists operating against Rhodesia from Mozambique, who are receiving aid money from the United States so as to be able to continue their bloody work.

Americans may get by with no worse penalty for their Middle East folly than having to do a little walking and a little shivering the next time the exasperated Arabs turn off the oil. But if there is any justice in this world we will pay a far dearer price for acquiescing in the murder of White farmers and their families in Rhodesia and the destruction of White civilization in southern Africa.

Church Subversion Worse

In South Africa and Rhodesia the Christian churches, both Protestant and Catholic, are more and more openly turning against the Whites who built and nurtured them and taking the side of their Black enemies.

On August 14 Roman Catholic Bishop Donal Lamont, of Umtali, Rhodesia, for years the principal White propagandist for Black terrorists operating in Rhodesia, announced that henceforth the terrorists could count on receiving aid from his church's mission stations. Less than two weeks later he was charged by the government with a specific act of failing to report the presence of Black terrorists who stopped at his church on one of their raids into Rhodesia to kill Whites.

Also in August the Dutch Reformed Church, a Protestant sect formed by South Africa's Boers, issued a resolution calling for an end to the South African government's ban on interracial marriage.

Canadian Patriots Hit

In the latest in a series of harassing actions against the Toronto-based Western Guard, Canadian police arrested the patriotic group's leader, Donald Andrews, on July 19 and charged him with arson and conspiracy to commit mischief. The arson charge is related to fires which have broken out at the homes of several racially mixed couples in Toronto, and the conspiracy charge stems from allegations that Andrews was planning to create a disturbance involving the Israeli soccer team during the Olympic Games in Canada.

Canadian authorities at first refused to allow bail for Andrews. When he was finally freed on a $7,000 cash bond after 18 days of confinement, the conditions of his release were that he resign from the Western Guard and have absolutely no further contact with Western Guard members, pending his trial. Such conditions have never been imposed on members of communist or Zionist groups arrested in Canada.

DONALD ANDREWS

The Western Guard vows to become even more militant in its struggle against the enemies of the West as a result of this governmental persecution, and Donald Andrews says he is prepared to make whatever personal sacrifices are required of him.

'Responsible Conservatives' Leave 3rd Party

When the American Independent Party chose former Georgia Governor Lester Maddox as their Presidential candidate during their convention at the end of August, the group's contingent of "responsible conservatives" all picked up their marbles and went home in a huff. Maddox, an avowed segregationist, is not "responsible" enough for them.

Among the departing delegates were several self-styled conservative intellectuals, including National Review publisher William Rusher; the AIP's principal potential fund-raiser, Virginia mailing-list expert Richard A. Viguerie; and Howard Phillips, head of the Conservative Caucus, a Washington fund-raising operation backed by Viguerie.

As they left, one of them said of those delegates who stayed: "They're not conservatives; they're out-and-out kooks." There is certainly some truth in that assessment. Fifty years of uninterrupted failure have left the conservative movement in this country with an uncomfortably high proportion of whacko types obsessed with far-out theories of one sort or another.

But the real reasons for the hasty departure of the "responsible" contingent were Maddox's stand on race and the anti-Zionist sentiments expressed by many of the AIP convention delegates. "Responsible conservatives," besides being ardent admirers of Jewish business acumen in general and Israeli diplomatic and political shenanigans in particular, want the world to know that they are unsullied by any taint of "racism."

Said Howard Phillips, a Jewish "convert" to the conservative cause whose antecedents are in the Soviet Union and who formerly headed the Black-oriented Office of Economic Opportunity under Richard Nixon: "We're unprepared to associate ourselves with people who don't believe in racial equality." Viguerie expressed his agreement with Phillips and vowed his mailing lists would never be used to raise campaign funds for the AIP's segregationist candidate.

The AIP, which is headed by San Diego businessman William K. Shearer, was founded in 1967 to promote the Presidential candidacy of George Wallace. The party was on the ballot in all 50 states in 1968 but dropped to 33 states in 1972. Shearer says he expects about as many ballots again this year, but others feel that without Viguerie's fund-raising capability the party will suffer a further decline in strength.

Actually, the AIP should consider itself fortunate to be rid of supporters of the Phillips-Rusher-Viguerie stripe, whose "conservatism" consists in a longing for a return to the laissez-faire economics of the 1920's but whose positions on the really fundamental issues of race and alien subversion are no different from those of Jimmy Carter or Gerald Ford.

Unfortunately, Lester Maddox has not made his own position on the latter issue very clear. His Children are stamped "made in U.S.A." Everyone involved, from white civilization in southern Africa.

Americans are taken in by Mr.

'Responsible Conservatives' Leave 3rd Party

When the American Independent Party chose former Georgia Governor Lester Maddox as their Presidential candidate during their convention at the end of August, the group's contingent of "responsible conservatives" all picked up their marbles and went home in a huff. Maddox, an avowed segregationist, is not "responsible" enough for them.

Among the departing delegates were several self-styled conservative intellectuals, including National Review publisher William Rusher; the AIP's principal potential fund-raiser, Virginia mailing-list expert Richard A. Viguerie; and Howard Phillips, head of the Conservative Caucus, a Washington fund-raising operation backed by Viguerie.

As they left, one of them said of those delegates who stayed: "They're not conservatives; they're out-and-out kooks." There is certainly some truth in that assessment. Fifty years of uninterrupted failure have left the conservative movement in this country with an uncomfortably high proportion of whacko types obsessed with far-out theories of one sort or another.

But the real reasons for the hasty departure of the "responsible" contingent were Maddox's stand on race and the anti-Zionist sentiments expressed by many of the AIP convention delegates. "Responsible conservatives," besides being ardent admirers of Jewish business acumen in general and Israeli diplomatic and political shenanigans in particular, want the world to know that they are unsullied by any taint of "racism."

Said Howard Phillips, a Jewish "convert" to the conservative cause whose antecedents are in the Soviet Union and who formerly headed the Black-oriented Office of Economic Opportunity under Richard Nixon: "We're unprepared to associate ourselves with people who don't believe in racial equality." Viguerie expressed his agreement with Phillips and vowed his mailing lists would never be used to raise campaign funds for the AIP's segregationist candidate.

The AIP, which is headed by San Diego businessman William K. Shearer, was founded in 1967 to promote the Presidential candidacy of George Wallace. The party was on the ballot in all 50 states in 1968 but dropped to 33 states in 1972. Shearer says he expects about as many ballots again this year, but others feel that without Viguerie's fund-raising capability the party will suffer a further decline in strength.

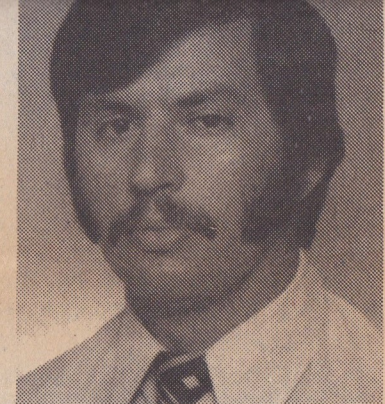

Actually, the AIP should consider itself fortunate to be rid of supporters of the Phillips-Rusher-Viguerie stripe, whose "conservatism" consists in a longing for a return to the laissez-faire economics of the 1920's but whose positions on the really fundamental issues of race and alien subversion are no different from those of Jimmy Carter or Gerald Ford.

Unfortunately, Lester Maddox has not made his own position on the latter issue very clear. His statements on the racial problem in America and his public expressions of support for our kinsmen in Rhodesia and South Africa are admirable, but his views on the Zionist domination of America remain cloudy. Let us hope that he clarifies these during his campaign.

In any event, it will be refreshing to have him in the race, if only because one of the principal themes of his campaign will be to let the world know that Jimmy ("you can trust me") Carter, whom Maddox knows well from the years they spent together in the Georgia statehouse, is, in Maddox's words, "the most totally dishonest man I have ever met."

Toronto-based Western Guard, Canadian police arrested the patriotic group's leader, Donald Andrews, on July 19 and charged him with arson and conspiracy to commit mischief. The arson charge is related to fires which have broken out at the homes of several racially mixed couples in Toronto, and the conspiracy charge stems from allegations that Andrews was planning to create a disturbance involving the Israeli soccer team during the Olympic Games in Canada.

Canadian authorities at first refused to allow bail for Andrews. When he was finally freed on a $7,000 cash bond after 18 days of confinement, the conditions of his release were that he resign from the Western Guard and have absolutely no further contact with Western Guard members, pending his trial. Such conditions have never been imposed on members of communist or Zionist groups arrested in Canada.

DONALD ANDREWS

The Western Guard vows to become even more militant in its struggle against the enemies of the West as a result of this governmental persecution, and Donald Andrews says he is prepared to make whatever personal sacrifices are required of him.

POLISH FREEDOM FIGHTERS, a militantly anti-communist group headed by Josef Mlot-Mroz, honored ATTACK! Assistant Editor Nick Camerota [standing at head table, above] by presenting him with a patriotism award at the group's recent Bicentennial banquet in Salem, Mass. Mr. Camerota was repeatedly interrupted by applause as he addressed the group.

ATTACK!

All material in this paper © 1976 by the National Alliance.

Address all correspondence:

National Alliance
Box 3535

Washington, DC 20007

Telephone: (703) 525-3223

EDITOR

Dr. William Pierce

ASSISTANT EDITORS

Books & Films: Nick Camerota

Graphics: Dennis Nix

Lester Maddox — He needs to clarify his stand on Zionism.

Dr. Pierce Also Smeared as "Hatemonster"

Exposure Making Jews Uneasy

A stir of uneasiness has been noticeable in the Jewish community in America in recent weeks. It is reflected in a growing number of articles with especially shrill tones in various Jewish tabloids and, to a lesser extent, in mass-circulation newspapers: the Jewish reaction to continuing revelations and criticisms, from a wide variety of sources, of the Jewish domination of American political, economic, and cultural life.

Jews are particularly nervous about Spiro Agnew's repeated attacks on the Jewish monopoly control of America's mass media.

These attacks have been especially effective because of the former Vice President's great popularity among Americans with a conservative orientation.

But even more worrisome to Jews is the evidence that there is a growing groundswell of resentment against them — a groundswell for which Agnew is simply the best-known spokesman at this time, but which is also producing many other spokesmen and an increasingly receptive general audience.

Worry about this phenomenon is making Jews jittery, and they are responding in an increasingly

intemperate — even hysterical — manner to their critics. They lashed out with startling viciousness at General George Brown, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in July. And on August 21 Jack Anderson, who serves as a Gentile front-man for the KGB-like Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, attacked Dr. William Pierce, ATTACK! editor, in his syndicated newspaper column, labeling him a "hatemonster."

It was also in August that Israeli Knesset member Menachem Beigin, who writes a weekly column which is carried by several Jewish tabloids in this country, shrieked in one of his columns that "whoever raises his hand against the Jews, we will punish him, no matter where he is in the world." Beigin is the former head of the bloodthirsty Zionist terror gang, the Irgun, which specialized in kidnapping and assassinating British soldiers and civilians during the pre-1948 period of the British mandate in Palestine.

The Jews have good reason to be nervous. Their security — their very survival — depends today on one thing. That thing is not the enormous concentration of wealth in their hands, nor their control over the U.S. government, nor even the intimidating effect of the trained Zionist murder squads that Menachem Beigin threatened will be dispatched against anyone who gets in the Jews' way; it is public ignorance of their activities. The Jew is only safe so long as the non-Jewish people among whom he lives do not realize what he is up to.

For decades Americans have been too fat and happy to pay attention to what has been going hysterically labelling as a "vicious anti-Semite" every public figure — like General Brown — whose public statements are only 99 per cent pro-Jewish.

Although their grip on America is stronger today than it has ever been, they have begun to realize that the sleeping giant will one day awaken. And they are beginning to tremble in guilty fear of that day. For they know that when it comes neither their billions in ill-gotten loot nor their Israeli murder squads will be able to save them from long-delayed justice.

Countering Agnew

The question of a response to Spiro Agnew, who now it is conclusive intends to carry on his vendetta against the Jews and Israel, is not easy to answer. Agnew is slick and conniving and will stop at nothing to gain his end. Evidently in his kind of mind he blames the Jews for his fall from grace and it is clear that we have on our hands another Father Coughlin.

Even though Agnew is not invulnerable, since he was forced to resign as Vice President, it would be a mistake to counter him with continual reference to his fiscal misadventures. Rather he should be countered with ridicule — to which he is prone.

A little humor can make him a laughing stock. It will not sit well with the majority of the American public that he is defending the Arabs, which he is doing of course by charging that Israel is to blame for the Mideast problems and the Jews by supporting Israel are therefore guilty and their loyalty is first not to the United States but to a foreign country — Israel.

But there is always the unthinking minority on the right and the top echelon of those in academia and in the industrial and commercial world who blame the Jews for whatever ills beset America. These were the supporters of Father Coughlin, Gerald L.K. Smith and the rabble-rousers throughout history, not excluding Hitler.

So we are in for a long siege. We weathered the others and we will live through Agnew. It just is not a pleasant decade or so to contemplate.

Jewry at the Crossroads

By Prof. Howard L. Adelson

A Few Words About General Brown

If President Gerald Ford wanted to lose an election — he did it this time when he renominated General George S. Brown, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

How President Ford could reward bigotry for a second time is beyond us. The President recently condemned Spiro Agnew for his anti-Semitic allegations — yet he nominates General Brown, whose utterances were equally as bad, if not worse. Brown's outspoken anti-Semitism can cause injury to the democratic processes we celebrate today.

When Brown was questioned before the Senate he reiterated his anti-Semitic slurs for the fact, he spoke more carefully.

His renomination cannot be dismissed as inconsequen-

Page 27 • JEWISH PRESS • Friday, July 9, 1976

The Jewish Post Friday, August 13, 1976

101 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. 10003 989-6262
Subscription price $15.00 per year
Single copies 25c; Back issues over 3 months old 50c
All editorial correspondence should be addressed to the
Indianapolis Office, 411 North Park Ave. 46204
GABRIEL COHEN, Editor and Publisher
CHARLES ROTH, Executive Editor

number of articles with shrill tones in various Jewish tabloids and, to a lesser extent, in mass-circulation newspapers: the Jewish reaction to continuing revelations and criticisms, from a wide variety of sources, of the Jewish domination of American political, economic, and cultural life.

Jews are particularly nervous about Spiro Agnew's repeated attacks on the Jewish monopoly control of America's mass media.

servative orientation.

But even more worrisome to Jews is the evidence that there is a growing groundswell of resentment against them — a groundswell for which Agnew is simply the best-known spokesman at this time, but which is also producing many other spokesmen and an increasingly receptive general audience.

Worry about this phenomenon is making Jews jittery, and they are responding in an increasingly

chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in July. And on August 21 Jack Anderson, who serves as a Gentile front-man for the KGB-like Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, attacked Dr. William Pierce, ATTACK! editor, in his syndicated newspaper column, labeling him a "hatemonger."

It was also in August that Israeli Knesset member Menachem Beigin, who writes a weekly column which is carried by several Jewish tabloids in this country, shrieked in one of his columns that "whoever raises his hand against the Jews, we will punish him, no matter where he is in the world." Beigin is the former head of the bloodthirsty Zionist terror gang, the Irgun, which specialized in kidnapping and assassinating British soldiers and civilians during the pre-1948 period of the British mandate in Palestine.

The Jews have good reason to be nervous. Their security — their very survival — depends today on one thing. That thing is not the enormous concentration of wealth in their hands, nor their control over the U.S. government, nor even the intimidating effect of the trained Zionist murder squads that Menachem Beigin threatened will be dispatched against anyone who gets in the Jews' way; it is public ignorance of their activities. The Jew is only safe so long as the non-Jewish people among whom he lives do not realize what he is up to.

For decades Americans have been too fat and happy to pay attention to what has been going on around them. The Jewish control of the news media helped to maintain this unfortunate situation, of course, but a large portion of the blame belongs squarely on the heads of tens of millions of White Americans who didn't want to know the truth.

It is difficult to say just what has changed in the past year to partially remedy the situation. Jews were just as much behind the forced racial mixing of Blacks and Whites 20 years ago as they are today. Our elected "leaders" were just as disgustingly subservient to cent Jewish.

Although their grip on America is stronger today than it has ever been, they have begun to realize neither their billions in ill-gotten loot nor their Israeli murder squads will be able to save them from long-delayed justice.

Countering Agnew

The question of a response to Spiro Agnew, who now it is conclusive intends to carry on his vendetta against the Jews and Israel, is not easy to answer. Agnew is slick and conniving and will stop at nothing to gain his end. Evidently in his kind of mind he blames the Jews for his fall from grace and it is clear that we have on our hands another Father Coughlin.

Even though Agnew is not invulnerable, since he was forced to resign as Vice President, it would be a mistake to counter him with continual reference to his fiscal misadventures. Rather he should be countered with ridicule — to which he is prone.

A little humor can make him a laughing stock. It will not sit well with the majority of the American public that he is defending the Arabs, which he is doing of course by charging that Israel is to blame for the Mideast problems and the Jews by supporting Israel are therefore guilty and their loyalty is first not to the United States but to a foreign country — Israel.

But there is always the unthinking minority on the right and the top echelon of those in academia and in the industrial and commercial world who blame the Jews for whatever ills beset America. These were the supporters of Father Coughlin, Gerald L.K. Smith and the rabblers throughout history, not excluding Hitler.

So we are in for a long siege. We weathered the others and we will live through Agnew. It just is not a pleasant decade or so to contemplate.

101 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. 10003 989-6262
Subscription price $15.00 per year
Single copies 25c; Back issues over 3 months old 50c
All editorial correspondence should be addressed to the
Indianapolis Office, 611 North Park Ave. 46204
GABRIEL COHEN, Editor and Publisher
CHARLES ROTH, Executive Editor

JEWISH POST editorial of August 13 urges ridicule as best way to discredit former Vice President Spiro Agnew's continuing revelations of Jewish control of America. Jews inadvertently honor Agnew by comparing him with the late Father Coughlin, the courageous radio priest of the 1930's who defied threats of excommunication to continue broadcasting his call for a Jew-free America.

No More War!

The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...
The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...
The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...

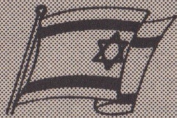

The Black Man's Gift to Portugal

The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...
The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...
The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...

Who Rules America?

The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...
The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...
The Jewish monopoly in America... are the only source of the effects of the...

Jewry at the Crossroads

By Prof. Howard L. Adelson

A Few Words About General Brown

If President Gerald Ford wanted to lose an election — he did it this time when he renominated General George S. Brown. Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

How President Ford could reward bigotry for a second time is beyond us. The President recently condemned Spiro Agnew for his anti-Semitic allegations — yet he nominates General Brown, whose utterances were equally as bad, if not worse. Brown's outspoken anti-Semitism can cause injury to the democratic processes we celebrate today.

When Brown was questioned before the Senate he reiterated his anti-Semitic slurs for the fact, he spoke more carefully.

His renomination cannot be dismissed as inconsequential since it is within Brown's responsibility to ship materials to Israel.

Last week the Congress confirmed General Brown's position, now the only one who could remove him is President Ford. If President Ford expects support from the Jewish community, so long as Brown is part of his staff, that support many never be forthcoming.

We urge the President to reconsider this appointment.

JEWISH PRESS editorial of July 9 threatens Gerald Ford with a cutoff of Jewish support in reprisal for his nomination of General George S. Brown for a second term as the nation's top military officer. General Brown has enraged Jews by publicly stating that they control the U.S. Congress. Elsewhere in the same issue the Jewish Press called the Brown nomination a "disaster" and Brown "a vicious anti-Semite" who "has

Page 27 • JEWISH PRESS • Friday, July 9, 1976

he did it this time when he renominated General George S. Brown, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

How President Ford could reward bigotry for a second time is beyond us. The President recently condemned Spiro Agnew for his anti-Semitic allegations — yet he nominates General Brown, whose utterances were equally as bad, if not worse. Brown's outspoken anti-Semitism can cause injury to the democratic processes we celebrate today.

When Brown was questioned before the Senate he reiterated his anti-Semitic slurs for the fact, he spoke more carefully.

His renomination cannot be dismissed as inconsequential since it is within Brown's responsibility to ship materials to Israel.

Last week the Congress confirmed General Brown's position, now the only one who could remove him is President Ford. If President Ford expects support from the Jewish community, so long as Brown is part of his staff, that support many never be forthcoming.

We urge the President to reconsider this appointment.

JEWISH PRESS editorial of July 9 threatens Gerald Ford with a cutoff of Jewish support in reprisal for his nomination of General George S. Brown for a second term as the nation's top military officer. General Brown has enraged Jews by publicly stating that they control the U.S. Congress. Elsewhere in the same issue the Jewish Press called the Brown nomination a "disaster" and Brown "a vicious anti-Semite" who "has allied himself with the forces of evil." With rising hysteria, the Brooklyn-based Jewish tabloid proclaimed: "No apology is acceptable. George S. Brown is unfit to wear the uniform of the United States. Those who fight on his behalf or who try to exculpate his words and deeds are unfit to hold high office in the United States."

S.A. Blacks Kill Inciter

One of the two "Whites" reported killed by Black rioters in South Africa in June was actually not a White person but a Jew who had spend years attempting to instigate the very activity in which he was killed.

Dr. Melville Leonard Edelstein, a sociologist, was beaten and stomped to death by enraged Blacks in the all-Black township of Soweto, near Johannesburg, during the first few minutes of the June disturbances which took the lives of one European and more than 200 Blacks.

Edelstein, 56, was in his Soweto office when the rioting broke out. He had been working among the Blacks, nominally as a government "welfare officer," but actually as an instigator of Black demands for more "civil rights." He had taken numerous polls among Soweto Blacks as a means of encouraging them to make demands on the White South African government, and he had written numerous pamphlets with the same aim in mind.

When one of the Blacks who worked for Edelstein heard of his death, she cried out: "He was one of us!"

in their hands, nor their control over the U.S. government, nor even the intimidating effect of the trained Zionist murder squads that Menachem Beigin threatened will be dispatched against anyone who gets in the Jews' way; it is public ignorance of their activities. The Jew is only safe so long as the non-Jewish people among whom he lives do not realize what he is up to.

For decades Americans have been too fat and happy to pay attention to what has been going on around them. The Jewish control of the news media helped to maintain this unfortunate situation, of course, but a large portion of the blame belongs squarely on the heads of tens of millions of White Americans who didn't want to know the truth.

It is difficult to say just what has changed in the past year to partially remedy the situation. Jews were just as much behind the forced racial mixing of Blacks and Whites 20 years ago as they are today. Our elected "leaders" were just as disgustingly subservient to the Jews 10 years ago as they are today. And Jewish domination had made approximately as much of a pigsty of America five years ago as it has today. But today, for whatever reason, hundreds of thousands of Americans are noticing these things. They are beginning to be concerned about them.

They are neither rednecks nor "haters," as Jack Anderson and his ilk claim. Most of them are intelligent, sensitive Americans. And tomorrow there will be millions of them, unless the Jews and their front men are able to silence, overnight, every honest citizen with the courage of his convictions.

That is why the Jews are nervous. That is why they are frantically over-reacting to every new revelation of previously hidden Jewish activity and Jewish power. That is why they are in the world and commercial world who blame the Jews for whatever ills beset America. These were the supporters of Father Coughlin, Gerald L.K. Smith and the rabblers throughout history, not excluding Hitler.

So we are in for a long siege. We weathered the others and we will live through Agnew. It just is not a pleasant decade or so to contemplate.

101 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. 10003 989-6262
Subscription price $15.00 per year
Single copies 25c; Back issues over 3 months old 50c
All editorial correspondence should be addressed to the
Indianapolis Office, 611 North Park Ave. 46204
GABRIEL COHEN, Editor and Publisher
CHARLES ROTH, Executive Editor

JEWISH POST editorial of August 13 urges ridicule as best way to discredit former Vice President Spiro Agnew's continuing revelations of Jewish control of America. Jews inadvertently honor Agnew by comparing him with the late Father Coughlin, the courageous radio priest of the 1930's who defied threats of excommunication to continue broadcasting his call for a Jew-free America.

SPECIAL: INTRODUCTORY PACKET
RUSHED postpaid to you or a friend for only $1.00

Each packet contains a comprehensive selection of National Alliance publications, including leaflets, bumper sticker, and at least three different issues of ATTACK!

48

ORDER TODAY

National Alliance, Box 3535, Washington, DC 20007

17th episode

fiction

The Turner Diaries

by Andrew Macdonald

Editor's Note: The National Alliance has exclusive pre-publication rights to Andrew Macdonald's new book and is presenting it in installments in each issue of ATTACK!

Synopsis to date: Earl Turner is a young electrical engineer and patriot living in the Washington, D.C., area only a few years hence. Alarmed and dissatisfied over the prospect of the American people becoming a raceless and cultureless mulatto proletariat ruled over by an increasingly tyrannical and arbitrary System of bureaucrats, media masters, and secret police, he joins the Organization.

At first the Organization is mostly a racially oriented, political debating and publishing society. After the Cohen Act outlaws the private ownership of firearms in 1978 and is followed by a mass roundup of owners of illegal guns in 1979 (the infamous Gun Raids), in which Turner is arrested, the Organization becomes radicalized and begins preparing itself to wage guerrilla war against the System.

When the System launches a second mass roundup of "racists" and other political dissidents two years later, most of the Organization's members escape the dragnet and slip underground.

In the hideout to which Turner has fled with three other members of the Organization, he begins writing down his thoughts and experiences each day. It is these writings, unearthed by an archaeological team nearly a century after the successful culmination of the Organization's revolution against the System, which constitute The Turner Diaries.

Following several violent clashes between the System and various underground units of the Organization around the country, the System's political police launch an all-out effort to crush the Organization.

The major metropolitan areas of the country are turned into armed camps in the System's response to the Organization's attacks, and the transition to a police state is greatly speeded up. The System then begins encouraging mob action by the Blacks and other non-White minorities in order to further intimidate the White population and hinder the Organization's recruiting efforts.

Tightening up its own internal structure and didn't have the courage to tell her that in the future we will have even less time together.

I only found that out myself yesterday. When I reported to Major Williams last night after returning from Florida, he told me that I'll be travelling a lot in the next few months. I didn't get all the details from him, but he hinted that the Organization is preparing for an all-out, nationwide offensive this summer, and I am to be a sort of roving military engineer.

But today I put that out of my mind and just enjoyed being alive and free and alone with a lovely girl in the midst of Nature's beauty.

As we were driving home this evening, we heard the news on the radio which capped a perfect day: the Organization hit the Israeli embassy in Washington this afternoon. No better date in the year could have been chosen for such an action!

For months an Israeli murder squad, working out of their embassy, has been picking off our people around the country. Today we settled the score—for the moment.

We struck with heavy mortars while the Israelis were throwing a cocktail party for their obedient servants in the U.S. Senate. A number of Israeli officials had flown in for the occasion, and there must have been more than 300 people in the embassy when our 4.2-inch mortars began raining TNT and phosphorus onto their heads through the roof.

The attack only lasted two or three minutes, according to the news report, but more than 40 projectiles struck the embassy, leaving nothing but a burned-out heap of wreckage—and only a handful of survivors! So, we must have had at least two mortars firing. That confirms what I was told last week about our new weapons acquisitions.

One fascinating incident in the news story, which the censors somehow failed to cut before it was broadcast, was the murder of a group of tourists by an embassy guard. During the attack an Israeli came running out of the crumbling building with a submachine gun, his clothing in flames. He spotted a group of a dozen tourists, all women and small children, gawking at the scene of destruction from across the street. Shrieking out his hatred in guttural Hebrew, the Jew opened fire on them, killing nine on the spot and critically wounded three others. Of course, he was not charged by the police. Your day is coming, Jews, your day is coming!

I should be getting to bed early tonight in order to be Florida chemist. I explained to him that his part of the job is to procure a suitable radioactive material and then, using his special facilities, safely load it into the mortar projectiles I will bring him.

Harrison had a fit. He complained that he had only offered to supply the Organization with small quantities of radionuclides and other hard-to-obtain materials. He did not want to become involved in actually handling any ordnance, and he especially objected to the quantity of material required by our plan. Not many people in the country have access to so much radioactive material, and he is afraid it will be traced to him.

I tried reasoning with him. I explained that if we try to load the projectiles ourselves, without the shielded handling facilities he has, one or more of our people will surely be exposed to a lethal dose of radiation. And I told him that he is free to choose a radionuclide, or a mixture of radionuclides, which will cast the least suspicion on him—so long as it is suitable for our purpose.

But he flatly refused. "It's out of the question," he said. "It would jeopardize my entire career."

"Dr. Harrison," I replied, "I am afraid you do not understand the situation. We are at war. The future of our race depends upon the outcome of this war. As a member of the Organization you are obliged to put your responsibility to our common effort ahead of all personal considerations. You are subject to the Organization's discipline."

Harrison turned white and began stammering, but I continued relentlessly: "If you continue to refuse my request, I am prepared to kill you on the spot." As a matter of fact, I was unarmed, because I had flown down on a commercial airliner, but Harrison didn't know that. He swallowed a couple of times, found his voice, and said he will do what he can.

We went over our figures and our requirements again and settled on an approximate timetable. Before I left I assured Harrison that if he feels this operation will place him in too much jeopardy to continue as a "legal" we can bring him underground after it is completed.

He is obviously still very nervous and unhappy, but I don't think he will try to betray us. The Organization has established a very high degree of credibility for its threats. Just to be on the safe side, however, we will use another courier when the time comes to drive the modified projectiles down to Florida to be loaded and

Editor's Note: The National Alliance has exclusive pre-publication rights to Andrew Macdonald's new book and is presenting it in installments in each issue of ATTACK!

Synopsis to date: Earl Turner is a young electrical engineer and patriot living in the Washington, D.C., area only a few years hence. Alarmed and dissatisfied over the prospect of the American people becoming a raceless and cultureless mulatto proletariat ruled over by an increasingly tyrannical and arbitrary System of bureaucrats, media masters, and secret police, he joins the Organization.

At first the Organization is mostly a racially oriented, political debating and publishing society. After the Cohen Act outlaws the private ownership of firearms in 1978 and is followed by a mass roundup of owners of illegal guns in 1979 (the infamous Gun Raids), in which Turner is arrested, the Organization becomes radicalized and begins preparing itself to wage guerrilla war against the System.

When the System launches a second mass roundup of "racists" and other political dissidents two years later, most of the Organization's members escape the dragnet and slip underground.

In the hideout to which Turner has fled with three other members of the Organization, he begins writing down his thoughts and experiences each day. It is these writings, unearthed by an archaeological team nearly a century after the successful culmination of the Organization's revolution against the System, which constitute The Turner Diaries.

Following several violent clashes between the System and various underground units of the Organization around the country, the System's political police launch an all-out effort to crush the Organization.

The major metropolitan areas of the country are turned into armed camps in the System's response to the Organization's attacks, and the transition to a police state is greatly speeded up. The System then begins encouraging mob action by the Blacks and other non-White minorities in order to further intimidate the White population and hinder the Organization's recruiting efforts.

Tightening up its own internal structure and procedures in order to weather a long, hard fight, the Organization begins initiating a few of its most proven members into a secret, inner organization — the Order. Earl Turner is one of these.

The Organization as a whole shifts its emphasis from tactical terror attacks to strategic, economic warfare against the System.

didn't have the courage to tell her that in the future we will have even less time together.

I only found that out myself yesterday. When I reported to Major Williams last night after returning from Florida, he told me that I'll be travelling a lot in the next few months. I didn't get all the details from him, but he hinted that the Organization is preparing for an all-out, nationwide offensive this summer, and I am to be a sort of roving military engineer.

But today I put that out of my mind and just enjoyed being alive and free and alone with a lovely girl in the midst of Nature's beauty.

As we were driving home this evening, we heard the news on the radio which capped a perfect day: the Organization hit the Israeli embassy in Washington this afternoon. No better date in the year could have been chosen for such an action!

For months an Israeli murder squad, working out of their embassy, has been picking off our people around the country. Today we settled the score—for the moment.

We struck with heavy mortars while the Israelis were throwing a cocktail party for their obedient servants in the U.S. Senate. A number of Israeli officials had flown in for the occasion, and there must have been more than 300 people in the embassy when our 4.2-inch mortars began raining TNT and phosphorus onto their heads through the roof.

The attack only lasted two or three minutes, according to the news report, but more than 40 projectiles struck the embassy, leaving nothing but a burned-out heap of wreckage—and only a handful of survivors! So, we must have had at least two mortars firing. That confirms what I was told last week about our new weapons acquisitions.

One fascinating incident in the news story, which the censors somehow failed to cut before it was broadcast, was the murder of a group of tourists by an embassy guard. During the attack an Israeli came running out of the crumbling building with a submachine gun, his clothing in flames. He spotted a group of a dozen tourists, all women and small children, gawking at the scene of destruction from across the street. Shrieking out his hatred in guttural Hebrew, the Jew opened fire on them, killing nine on the spot and critically wounded three others. Of course, he was not charged by the police. Your day is coming, Jews, your day is coming!

I should be getting to bed early tonight in order to be ready for a long day tomorrow, but the excitement of our achievement this afternoon makes it impossible for me to sleep yet. The Organization has demonstrated once again what an incomparable weapon the mortar is for guerrilla warfare. I am much more enthusiastic now about our new plan for Evanston, and I'll be better braced for overcoming any more balkiness on the part of our professor in Florida.

Last Saturday, when I was discussing my plan for getting radioactive material into the Evanston plant with Henry and Ed Sanders, they convinced me that a mortar could do the job better, and that we are now well supplied in that department. So I redesigned the delivery package, changing it from a walking cone to a 4.2-inch mortar

Florida chemist. I explained to him that his part of the job is to procure a suitable radioactive material and then, using his special facilities, safely load it into the mortar projectiles I will bring him.

Harrison had a fit. He complained that he had only offered to supply the Organization with small quantities of radionuclides and other hard-to-obtain materials. He did not want to become involved in actually handling any ordnance, and he especially objected to the quantity of material required by our plan. Not many people in the country have access to so much radioactive material, and he is afraid it will be traced to him.

I tried reasoning with him. I explained that if we try to load the projectiles ourselves, without the shielded handling facilities he has, one or more of our people will surely be exposed to a lethal dose of radiation. And I told him that he is free to choose a radionuclide, or a mixture of radionuclides, which will cast the least suspicion on him—so long as it is suitable for our purpose.

But he flatly refused. "It's out of the question," he said. "It would jeopardize my entire career."

"Dr. Harrison," I replied, "I am afraid you do not understand the situation. We are at war. The future of our race depends upon the outcome of this war. As a member of the Organization you are obliged to put your responsibility to our common effort ahead of all personal considerations. You are subject to the Organization's discipline."

Harrison turned white and began stammering, but I continued relentlessly: "If you continue to refuse my request, I am prepared to kill you on the spot." As a matter of fact, I was unarmed, because I had flown down on a commercial airliner, but Harrison didn't know that. He swallowed a couple of times, found his voice, and said he will do what he can.

We went over our figures and our requirements again and settled on an approximate timetable. Before I left I assured Harrison that if he feels this operation will place him in too much jeopardy to continue as a "legal" we can bring him underground after it is completed.

He is obviously still very nervous and unhappy, but I don't think he will try to betray us. The Organization has established a very high degree of credibility for its threats. Just to be on the safe side, however, we will use another courier when the time comes to drive the modified projectiles down to Florida to be loaded and brought back. No technical knowledge is required for that.

I don't like to act like a "tough guy" and threaten people; that is an unnatural role for me. But I have very little sympathy for people like Harrison, and I am sure that if he had not agreed to cooperate, I would have leaped on him and strangled him with my bare hands.

I guess there are a lot of other people who think they are playing it smart by looking out for themselves and letting us take all the risks and do all the dirty work. They figure they will reap the benefits with us if we win, and they won't lose anything if we lose. That's the way it has been in most other wars and revolutions, but I don't believe it will work out that way this time. Our attitude is that those whose only concern is to enjoy life in these times of trial

April 20, 1983. A beautiful day, a day of rest and peace, after a hectic week. Katherine and I drove to the mountains early this morning and constitute The Turner Diaries.

Following several violent clashes between the System and various underground units of the Organization around the country, the System's political police launch an all-out effort to crush the Organization.

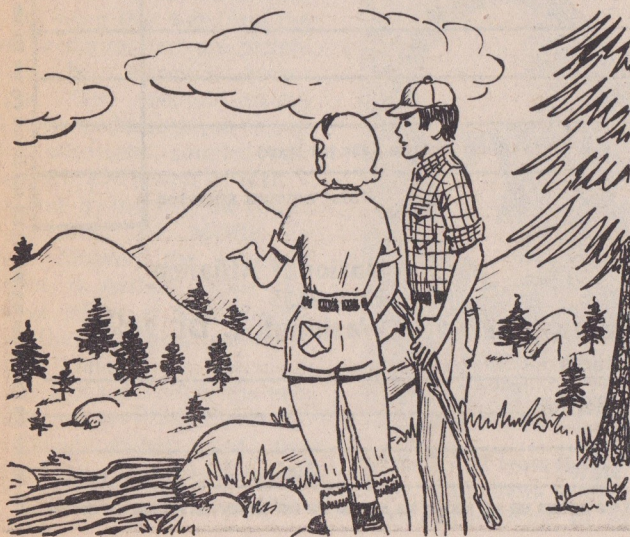

The major metropolitan areas of the country are turned into armed camps in the System's response to the Organization's attacks, and the transition to a police state is greatly speeded up. The System then begins encouraging mob action by the Blacks and other non-White minorities in order to further intimidate the White population and hinder the Organization's recruiting efforts.

Tightening up its own internal structure and procedures in order to weather a long, hard fight, the Organization begins initiating a few of its most proven members into a secret, inner organization — the Order. Earl Turner is one of these.

The Organization as a whole shifts its emphasis from tactical terror attacks to strategic, economic warfare against the System.

April 20, 1983. A beautiful day, a day of rest and peace, after a hectic week. Katherine and I drove to the mountains early this morning and spent the day walking in the woods. It was cool and bright and clear. After a picnic lunch we made love in a little meadow under the open sky.

We talked of many things, and we were both happy and carefree. The only shadow which fell on our happiness was Katherine's complaint about the number of out-of-town trips the Organization has sent me on recently, even though I have been out of prison for less than a month. I have had at least two mortars firing. That confirms what I was told last week about our new weapons acquisitions.

One fascinating incident in the news story, which the censors somehow failed to cut before it was broadcast, was the murder of a group of tourists by an embassy guard. During the attack an Israeli came running out of the crumbling building with a submachine gun, his clothing in flames. He spotted a group of a dozen tourists, all women and small children, gawking at the scene of destruction from across the street. Shrieking out his hatred in guttural Hebrew, the Jew opened fire on them, killing nine on the spot and critically wounded three others. Of course, he was not charged by the police. Your day is coming, Jews, your day is coming!

I should be getting to bed early tonight in order to be ready for a long day tomorrow, but the excitement of our achievement this afternoon makes it impossible for me to sleep yet. The Organization has demonstrated once again what an incomparable weapon the mortar is for guerrilla warfare. I am much more enthusiastic now about our new plan for Evanston, and I'll be better braced for overcoming any more balkiness on the part of our professor in Florida.

Last Saturday, when I was discussing my plan for getting radioactive material into the Evanston plant with Henry and Ed Sanders, they convinced me that a mortar could do the job better, and that we are now well supplied in that department. So I redesigned the delivery package, changing it from a walking cane to a 4.2-inch mortar projectile.

We will replace the phosphorus in three WP rounds with our radioactive contaminant. After we have zeroed in the target with conventional rounds, we'll fire our three modified projectiles, which will be adjusted to exactly the same weight, of course.

This way of doing it has three advantages over my original plan. First, it is surer; there is much less chance of something going wrong. Second, we will be delivering approximately 10 times as much contaminant, and the bursting charges in the projectiles will disperse it better than anything we could hope for with a loaded walking cane. And third, it need not be a suicide mission. We can keep the "hot" projectiles shielded until the moment they are to be fired, so the mortar crew will not be exposed to a lethal dose of radiation.

My big worry was whether we would be able to get our projectiles inside the power station, instead of just on the roof. The building is so heavily constructed that I doubt they would penetrate, even with delayed-action fuses. Ed Sanders convinced me, though, that once a 4.2-incher is zeroed in and firmly seated it will deliver rounds with sufficient accuracy and a low enough trajectory so that we will have an excellent hit probability on the side of the generator building facing the shore, which is practically one, huge window, 10 stories high and more than 200 yards wide.

Armed with this new plan, I went to talk to Harrison, our of fact, I was unarmed, because I had flown down on a commercial airliner, but Harrison didn't know that. He swallowed a couple of times, found his voice, and said he will do what he can.

We went over our figures and our requirements again and settled on an approximate timetable. Before I left I assured Harrison that if he feels this operation will place him in too much jeopardy to continue as a "legal" we can bring him underground after it is completed.

He is obviously still very nervous and unhappy, but I don't think he will try to betray us. The Organization has established a very high degree of credibility for its threats. Just to be on the safe side, however, we will use another courier when the time comes to drive the modified projectiles down to Florida to be loaded and brought back. No technical knowledge is required for that.

I don't like to act like a "tough guy" and threaten people; that is an unnatural role for me. But I have very little sympathy for people like Harrison, and I am sure that if he had not agreed to cooperate, I would have leaped on him and strangled him with my bare hands.

I guess there are a lot of other people who think they are playing it smart by looking out for themselves and letting us take all the risks and do all the dirty work. They figure they will reap the benefits with us if we win, and they won't lose anything if we lose. That's the way it has been in most other wars and revolutions, but I don't believe it will work out that way this time. Our attitude is that those whose only concern is to enjoy life in these times of trial for our race do not deserve life. Let them die. In the conduct of this war we certainly will not concern ourselves with looking out for their welfare. More and more it will be a case of either being for us, all the way, or against us.

April 25. Off to New York tomorrow for at least a week. Several things cooking up there which require my attention. The business down in Florida should have been taken care of by the time I return, and, if so, it'll be another trip to Chicago for me, this time by car.

The Yids are really screaming about the attack on their embassy. They are giving far more emphasis in the news media to this attack than they did to either the attack on the Capitol or the bombing of the FBI building. Each day on TV it gets worse, with more and more of the old "gas chamber" propaganda that has worked so well for them in the past. They are really pulling their hair and rending their garments: "Oy, voh, how we are suffering! How we are persecuted! Why did you let it happen to us? Weren't six million enough?"

What an act of outraged innocence! They are so good at it that they almost have me weeping along with them. But, strangely, there has not been another mention of the murder of those nine tourists by the Israeli guard. Ah, well, they were only Gentiles!

One unexpected benefit to us from the embassy action

See DIARIES, p.6

Diaries

from p. 5

has been a major quarrel between the Blacks and their Jewish patrons. Purely by coincidence the attack came three days before the date which had been set for a nationwide "strike for equality"—another of those giant, media affairs to be stage-managed by the Human Relations Councils, in which "spontaneous" demonstrations were to be held simultaneously in a number of large cities, with Black and White citizens joining together in a call for the government to break down the last of the barriers between the races and assure the Blacks of "full equality."

But then last Thursday, the day after we hit the Israelis, the big boys in the Councils—Jews, of course—called it all off. They decided they can't afford to share the media spotlight with the Blacks until they have finished milking their own "martyrdom" in the embassy raid for all it is worth.

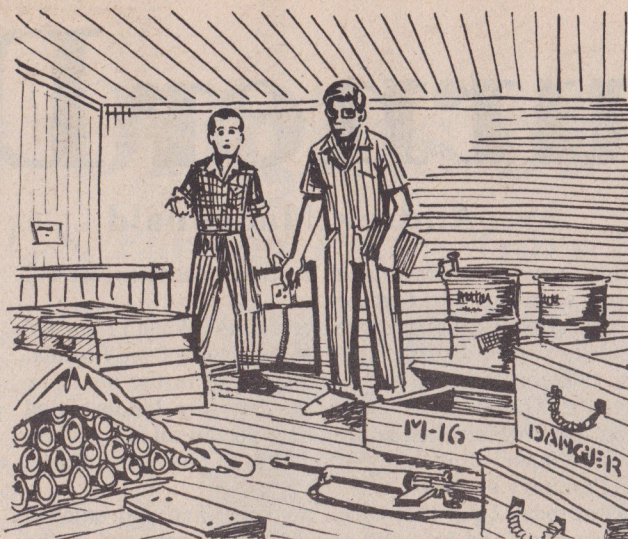

A few of the more militant Black leaders, who spent a long time working on the preparations for the equality strike, didn't see it that way. They have long resented the high-handed way in which the Jews manipulate and exploit the entire "equality" movement for their own ends, and this was the last straw for some of them. There were angry accusations and counter-accusations, which culminated Saturday in the Jews' number-one house nigger, the nominal "chairman" of the National Association of Human Relations Councils, giving a press interview at which he denounced his Jewish masters. From now on, he said, the Human Relations Councils will not recognize the Jewish claim to minority status. They will be treated just like the White majority and will no longer be exempt from investigation and punishment for "racism."

He was out on his ear before he knew what happened, of course, and his place has been taken by a better-house-broken Black, but the fat is already in the fire. On the streets the roving bands of Black "deputies" have gotten the word, and woe betide any member of the self-chosen tribe who falls into their hands! Several have already died while being "questioned," just in the last two days.

The "Toms" will eventually get their more militant and resentful brethren back into line, but meanwhile Izzy and Sambo are really at one another's throats, tooth and nail, and it is a joy to behold.

May 6. It's nice to be home again, even if only for a day. But New York was interesting! I saw more ordnance up there than I ever imagined we'd have at our disposal.

One of our specialized units in New York has been acquiring military material of all sorts and stockpiling it. The purpose of my visit was to survey the types of military gadgets available which might be useful to me in designing and building special weapons and sabotage devices, so that I can make recommendations for future be traced back to us. The phony shipping tags we put on the cartons are coded to tell us what the contents are. You'll find that our rather special water heaters have been installed in the headquarters of quite a few of our combat units along the east coast, but we ship them everywhere in the country."

Almost in a daze, I wandered among the heaps of weaponry. I stopped beside a ceiling-high stack of large, olive-drab crates. Stencilled on each crate were the words: "Mortar, 4.2 inch, M 30, Complete," and under that, "Gross Wt. 700 lbs."

"Where did you get these?" I asked. I remembered all the work we had done a year and a half ago modifying just one mortar of ancient vintage.

"Those came in last week from Fort Dix," Richard answered. "The people in one of our units just outside Trenton paid a Black supply sergeant on the base $10,000 to swipe a truck with those things on it and deliver it to them. Then they brought them up here two at a time in the back of a pickup."

"We receive materiel here from more than a dozen bases and arsenals in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Look what we got last month from Picatinny Arsenal," he said, throwing back a tarpaulin covering a nearby stack of cylindrical objects.

I leaned over to examine them. They were fibre-board tubes about two feet long and five inches in diameter. Each one contained an M329 high-explosive mortar projectile. There must have been at least 300 of them in that one pile.

Richard continued his explanation: "It used to be that most of our new weapons were smuggled off military bases one at a time, by our own people who were stationed there. But lately we've switched to hiring Black service personnel to bring the stuff from the back of the truck."

Book Bargains

WESTERN HISTORY & PREHISTORY

- AGRICOLA & GERMANIA Tacitus — Description of native peoples of Britain and Germany at time of Christ. 176 pages softback 1.95
ARTHUR'S BRITAIN Alcock — Good racial, cultural history of Britain from late 4th - early 7th century. Illus. 415 soft 5.95
BEOWULF — Modern English translation of great 8th-century English heroic epic. 122 soft 1.95
GERMANIC PEOPLE Owen — Origin, expansion, prehistoric culture of German, English, Scandinavian peoples. 317 soft 2.45
HISTORIES Herodotus — Entertaining, detailed story of Greek-Persian conflict by great 5th-century BC historian. 624 soft 3.95
MYTHS OF THE NORSEMEN Green — Easy-reading synthesis of Northern cosmo-theology: Yggdrasil to Ragnarok. 208 soft 1.15
PERSIAN EXPEDITION Xenophon — The Ten Thousand fight their way across an alien land 2300 years ago. 375 soft 3.50
PROSE EDDA Sturluson — Mythological work of Iceland's greatest medieval writer. 132 soft 1.50
SONG OF ROLAND — Greatest Frankish epic poem. Roland's heroic stand at Roncevaux. 206 soft 2.50
STONEHENGE DECODED Hawkins — Fascinating look at culture, science in prehistoric Britain. Illustrated 202 soft 2.25
THUCYDIDES: COMPLETE WRITINGS — History of Peloponnesian war in a hard cover. 510 hard 2.95

RACE

- CONQUEST OF A CONTINENT Grant — New reprint of the 1933 classic which the ADL frantically tried to ban. 393 hard 9.95
EVOLUTION OF MAN & SOCIETY Darlington — History, cultural developments seen as reflections of racial type. 752 soft 5.95
IQ & RACIAL DIFFERENCES Garrett — New summary of Negro-White intelligence differences destroys equality myth. 57 soft 1.00
OF HORSES & MEN de Barby — Excellent, artistically illustrated satire on "equality." Good gift. Hot item! 16 soft 1.50
SEX VS. CIVILIZATION Pendell — Dysgenic breeding patterns as result of neo-liberal doctrine. 239 soft 1.00

THE ENEMY

- ANTI-HUMANS Bacu — Story of torture, oppression by alien-controlled communist regime in Rumania. 270 hard 5.00
BEHIND COMMUNISM Britton — History of communism through post-WWII years. Names, photos of Red leaders. 97 soft 1.00
BOLSHEVISM FROM MOSES TO LENIN Eckart — Penetrating analysis of alien subversion through the centuries. 21 soft 1.00
INTERNATIONAL JEW Ford — New reprint of original text, exactly as published by Henry Ford in 1920's. 4 vols 992 soft 24.00
IRON CURTAIN OVER AMERICA Beatty — Army intel. officer reports on hidden commu-Zionist influences in U.S. 268 soft 3.00
NAMELESS WAR Ramsay — Penetrating analysis of Jewish subversion in England, by a member of Parliament. 124 soft 2.00
NEW UNHAPPY LORDS Chesterton — Exposure of backstage wirepullers of communist-capitalist-Zionist alliance. 255 soft 2.50
WEB OF SUBVERSION Burnham — Story of commu-Zionist spy network which covered U.S. after WWII. 214 soft 1.00
YOU GENTILES Samuel — Amazingly frank confession of Jewish attitudes and aims by top Jewish writer. 221 soft 3.00

SELF-DEFENSE

- BOOBYTRAPS FM5-31 — Complete "how-to-do it" manual: field improvisations, elaborate installations. Illus. 133 soft 4.00
EXPLOSIVES & DEMOLITIONS FM5-25 — Complete info on explosives, demolition of bridges, roads, bldgs. Illus. 188 soft 5.00
HAND-TO-HAND COMBAT FM 21-150 — U.S. Army manual on hand and knife attacks, defenses. Brutal, useful. Illus. 191 soft 3.50
IMPROVISED MUNITIONS TM 31-210 — Army's "do-it-yourself" handbook on explosives, incendiaries, weapons. Illus. 160 soft 5.00
INCENDIARIES TM31-301-1 — Complete instructions on preparing incendiary devices for sabotage, terror. Illus. 146 soft 5.00
LIVING OFF THE COUNTRY Angier — Survival techniques, improvisation, Nature lore for guerrillas outside city. 241 hard 6.95
SILENCERS (FRANKFORD ARSENAL R-1896) — US govt manual on silencer design, construction, performance. Illus. 205 soft 6.00
TOTAL RESISTANCE Bern — Swiss contingency plan for civilian resistance after Red takeover. Illus. 173 hard 9.95
UNCONV. WAR DEVICES & TECHN TM31-200-1 — Spec weapons, sabotage their own "martyrdom" in the embassy and for all the world.

A few of the more militant Black leaders, who spent a long time working on the preparations for the equality strike, didn't see it that way. They have long resented the high-handed way in which the Jews manipulate and exploit the entire "equality" movement for their own ends, and this was the last straw for some of them. There were angry accusations and counter-accusations, which culminated Saturday in the Jews' number-one house nigger, the nominal "chairman" of the National Association of Human Relations Councils, giving a press interview at which he denounced his Jewish masters. From now on, he said, the Human Relations Councils will not recognize the Jewish claim to minority status. They will be treated just like the White majority and will no longer be exempt from investigation and punishment for "racism."

He was out on his ear before he knew what happened, of course, and his place has been taken by a better-house-broken Black, but the fat is already in the fire. On the streets the roving bands of Black "deputies" have gotten the word, and woe betide any member of the self-chosen tribe who falls into their hands! Several have already died while being "questioned," just in the last two days.

The "Toms" will eventually get their more militant and resentful brethren back into line, but meanwhile Izzy and Sambo are really at one another's throats, tooth and nail, and it is a joy to behold.

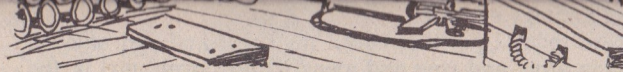

May 6. It's nice to be home again, even if only for a day. But New York was interesting! I saw more ordnance up there than I ever imagined we'd have at our disposal.

One of our specialized units in New York has been acquiring military material of all sorts and stockpiling it. The purpose of my visit was to survey the types of military gadgets available which might be useful to me in designing and building special weapons and sabotage devices, so that I can make recommendations for future procurement priorities.

I was met at the airport by a girl, who drove me to a wholesale plumbing supply store in an incredibly filthy industrial and warehouse area in Queens, near the East River. Garbage, old newspapers, and empty liquor bottles were strewn all over. We had to navigate around the stripped and rusting hulks of several abandoned autos which nearly blocked the narrow street, before the girl finally pulled into a small, muddy parking area behind a tall, chain-link fence.

She knocked at a steel door marked "employees only," and we were quickly admitted to a gloomy, dusty store-room filled with bins of pipe fittings. There she turned me over to a cheerful young man, about 25 years old, dressed in greasy coveralls and carrying a clipboard. He introduced himself only as "Richard" and offered me a cup of coffee from a disreputable-looking electric urn at one end of a long counter near the door.

Then we took an old and rickety freight elevator to the second floor of the building. When we stepped out of the elevator, I gasped in surprise. In a huge, low-ceilinged room, more than a hundred feet on a side, there were immense heaps of every sort of military weaponry imagin-

be traced back to us. The phony shipping tags we put on the cartons are coded to tell us what the contents are. You'll find that our rather special water heaters have been installed in the headquarters of quite a few of our combat units along the east coast, but we ship them everywhere in the country."

Almost in a daze, I wandered among the heaps of weaponry. I stopped beside a ceiling-high stack of large, olive-drab crates. Stencilled on each crate were the words: "Mortar, 4.2 inch, M 30, Complete," and under that, "Gross Wt. 700 lbs."

"Where did you get these?" I asked. I remembered all the work we had done a year and a half ago modifying just one mortar of ancient vintage.

"Those came in last week from Fort Dix," Richard answered. "The people in one of our units just outside Trenton paid a Black supply sergeant on the base $10,000 to swipe a truck with those things on it and deliver it to them. Then they brought them up here two at a time in the back of a pickup.

"We receive materiel here from more than a dozen bases and arsenals in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Look what we got last month from Picatinny Arsenal," he said, throwing back a tarpaulin covering a nearby stack of cylindrical objects.

I leaned over to examine them. They were fibre-board tubes about two feet long and five inches in diameter. Each one contained an M329 high-explosive mortar projectile. There must have been at least 300 of them in that one pile.

Richard continued his explanation: "It used to be that most of our new weapons were smuggled off military bases one at a time, by our own people who were stationed there. But lately we've switched to hiring Black service personnel to hijack the stuff for us by the truckload. We don't always get exactly what we want that way, but we get a lot more of it.

"We've set up a couple of phony fronts posing as Mafia buyers for the illegal weapons exporting business. Our people on the bases steer the buyers to Blacks in charge of the weapons storage areas. For enough money they'll walk off with the whole base for us. They just have to share some of the money we give them with a few of their "soul brothers" on guard duty.

"There are several advantages for us. First, it's easier for the Blacks to swipe the stuff without getting caught. The political police aren't watching them as closely as they are the White service personnel, and the Blacks already have organized networks on all the bases for siphoning off and selling tires, gasoline, PX supplies, and other things for which there is a civilian demand. And it allows our people in the service to concentrate on their main task, which is recruiting other White servicemen and building our strength inside the military."

I spent the rest of the day going through everything in the room and mentally cataloguing it. When I left I took samples of a couple dozen different types of high-explosive fuzes, igniters, and other odds and ends I wanted to

at Roncesvalles. 206 soft 2.50
STONEHENGE DECODED Hawkins — Fascinating look at culture, science in prehistoric Britain. Illustrated 202 soft 2.25
THUCYDIDES: COMPLETE WRITINGS — History of Peloponesian war in a hard cover. 510 hard 2.95

RACE

CONQUEST OF A CONTINENT Grant — New reprint of the 1933 classic which the ADL frantically tried to ban. 393 hard 9.95
EVOLUTION OF MAN & SOCIETY Darlington — History, cultural developments seen as reflections of racial type. 752 soft 5.95
IQ & RACIAL DIFFERENCES Garrett — New summary of Negro-White intelligence differences destroys equality myth. 57 soft 1.00
OF HORSES & MEN de Barby — Excellent, artistically illustrated satire on "equality." Good gift. Hot item! 16 soft 1.50
SEX VS. CIVILIZATION Pendell — Dysgenic breeding patterns as result of neo-liberal doctrine. 239 soft 1.00

THE ENEMY

ANTI-HUMANS Bacu — Story of torture, oppression by alien-controlled communist regime in Rumania. 270 hard 5.00
BEHIND COMMUNISM Britton — History of communism through post-WWII years. Names, photos of Red leaders. 97 soft 1.00
BOLSHEVISM FROM MOSES TO LENIN Eckart — Penetrating analysis of alien subversion through the centuries. 21 soft 1.00
INTERNATIONAL JEW Ford — New reprint of original text, exactly as published by Henry Ford in 1920's. 4 vols 992 soft 24.00
IRON CURTAIN OVER AMERICA Beatty — Army intel. officer reports on hidden commu-Zionist influences in U.S. 268 soft 3.00
NAMELESS WAR Ramsay — Penetrating analysis of Jewish subversion in England, by a member of Parliament. 124 soft 2.00
NEW UNHAPPY LORDS Chesterton — Exposure of backstage wirepullers of communist-capitalist-Zionist alliance. 255 soft 2.50
WEB OF SUBVERSION Burnham — Story of commu-Zionist spy network which covered U.S. after WWII. 214 soft 1.00
YOU GENTILES Samuel — Amazingly frank confession of Jewish attitudes and aims by top Jewish writer. 221 soft 3.00

SELF-DEFENSE

BOOBYTRAPS FM5-31 — Complete "how-to-do it" manual: field improvisations, elaborate installations. Illus. 133 soft 4.00
EXPLOSIVES & DEMOLITIONS FM5-25 — Complete info on explosives, demolition of bridges, roads, bldgs. Illus. 188 soft 5.00
HAND-TO-HAND COMBAT FM 21-150 — U.S. Army manual on hand and knife attacks, defenses. Brutal, useful. Illus. 191 soft 3.50
IMPROVED MUNITIONS TM 31-210 — Army's "do-it-yourself" handbook on explosives, incendiaries, weapons. Illus. 160 soft 5.00
INCENDIARIES TM31-301-1 — Complete instructions on preparing incendiary devices for sabotage, terror. Illus. 146 soft 5.00
LIVING OFF THE COUNTRY Angier — Survival techniques, improvisation, Nature lore for guerrillas outside city. 241 hard 6.95
SILENCERS (FRANKFORD ARSENAL R-1896) — US govt manual on silencer design, construction, performance. Illus. 205 soft 6.00
TOTAL RESISTANCE Bern — Swiss contingency plan for civilian resistance after Red takeover. Illus. 173 hard 9.95
UNCONV WAR DEVICES & TECHN TM31-200-1 — Spec. weapons, sabotage devices, homemade bombs & guns. Illus. 234 soft 5.00

POLITICS & PHILOSOPHY

DISPOSSESSED MAJORITY Robertson — Provocative analysis, on racial basis, of America's plight. Hot item! 548 hard 7.95; soft 3.95
MEIN KAMPF Hitler — Story of Germany's struggle for freedom and the philosophy behind it. Hot item! 694 (2 vol) soft 3.95; hard 5.95
RUDOLF HESS: PRISONER OF PEACE Hess — Tragic, inspiring story of man who tried to stop WWII. Hot item! 151 hard 4.95

All books listed are in stock. Same-day shipment or refund if sold out when we receive your order. IMPORTANT: include shipping and handling charges with your order — 25 cents for each book.

RUSH me the books from your list I have indicated below. I enclose full payment and handling costs.

Title

...the who runs into their hands: several are already died while being "questioned," just in the last two days.

The "Toms" will eventually get their more militant and resentful brethren back into line, but meanwhile Izzy and Sambo are really at one another's throats, tooth and nail, and it is a joy to behold.

May 6. It's nice to be home again, even if only for a day. But New York was interesting! I saw more ordnance up there than I ever imagined we'd have at our disposal.

One of our specialized units in New York has been acquiring military material of all sorts and stockpiling it. The purpose of my visit was to survey the types of military gadgets available which might be useful to me in designing and building special weapons and sabotage devices, so that I can make recommendations for future procurement priorities.

I was met at the airport by a girl, who drove me to a wholesale plumbing supply store in an incredibly filthy industrial and warehouse area in Queens, near the East River. Garbage, old newspapers, and empty liquor bottles were strewn all over. We had to navigate around the stripped and rusting hulks of several abandoned autos which nearly blocked the narrow street, before the girl finally pulled into a small, muddy parking area behind a tall, chain-link fence.

She knocked at a steel door marked "employees only," and we were quickly admitted to a gloomy, dusty store-room filled with bins of pipe fittings. There she turned me over to a cheerful young man, about 25 years old, dressed in greasy coveralls and carrying a clipboard. He introduced himself only as "Richard" and offered me a cup of coffee from a disreputable-looking electric urn at one end of a long counter near the door.

Then we took an old and rickety freight elevator to the second floor of the building. When we stepped out of the elevator, I gasped in surprise. In a huge, low-ceilinged room, more than a hundred feet on a side, there were immense heaps of every sort of military weaponry imaginable: automatic rifles, machine guns, flame throwers, mortars, and literally thousands of cases of ammunition, grenades, explosives, detonators, boosters, and spare parts. I don't know how the floor supported it all.

In one corner of the room four men and a woman worked at two long benches under fluorescent lights. One man was grinding the serial numbers off automatic rifles, which he took one at a time from a stack of approximately 50, while the others oiled and reassembled the rifles and then carefully packed them inside a large hot-water heater from which the top had been removed. I saw a dozen large cartons nearby which contained other water heaters.

"That's the way we store and ship the weapons," Richard explained. "We remove the serial numbers just to make it harder for the authorities to figure out where we're getting the stuff, in case they ever find any of it. And once the water heaters leave here, there's no way they can back of a pickup. "We receive materiel here from more than a dozen bases and arsenals in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Look what we got last month from Picatinny Arsenal," he said, throwing back a tarpaulin covering a nearby stack of cylindrical objects.

I leaned over to examine them. They were fibre-board tubes about two feet long and five inches in diameter. Each one contained an M329 high-explosive mortar projectile. There must have been at least 300 of them in that one pile.

Richard continued his explanation: "It used to be that most of our new weapons were smuggled off military bases one at a time, by our own people who were stationed there. But lately we've switched to hiring Black service personnel to hijack the stuff for us by the truckload. We don't always get exactly what we want that way, but we get a lot more of it.

"We've set up a couple of phony fronts posing as Mafia buyers for the illegal weapons exporting business. Our people on the bases steer the buyers to Blacks in charge of the weapons storage areas. For enough money they'll walk off with the whole base for us. They just have to share some of the money we give them with a few of their "soul brothers" on guard duty.

"There are several advantages for us. First, it's easier for the Blacks to swipe the stuff without getting caught. The political police aren't watching them as closely as they are the White service personnel, and the Blacks already have organized networks on all the bases for siphoning off and selling tires, gasoline, PX supplies, and other things for which there is a civilian demand. And it allows our people in the service to concentrate on their main task, which is recruiting other White servicemen and building our strength inside the military."

I spent the rest of the day going through everything in the room and mentally cataloguing it. When I left I took samples of a couple dozen different types of high-explosive fuzes, igniters, and other odds and ends I wanted to experiment with. Which meant I had to come back on the train.

The situation in the military is double-edged. With more than 25 per cent Blacks in the Army and nearly that many in the other services, morale, discipline, and efficiency are shockingly low. That makes it enormously easier for us to steal weapons and also to recruit, especially among the career personnel, who resent what has been done to their services.

But it also poses a fearful danger in the long run, because the day will come when we must make our move inside the military. With so many Blacks under arms, there is bound to be a bloody shambles. While we are cleaning out the Blacks and reorganizing the services, the country will be virtually defenseless.

Well, I guess it has been planned that way.

To be continued ...

WEB OF SUBVERSION Burnham — Story of commu-Zionist spy network which covered U.S. after WWII. 214 soft 1.00
YOU GENTILES Samuel — Amazingly frank confession of Jewish attitudes and aims by top Jewish writer. 221 soft 3.00

SELF-DEFENSE

BOOBYTRAPS FM5-31 — Complete "how-to-do it" manual: field improvisations, elaborate installations. Illus. 133 soft 4.00
EXPLOSIVES & DEMOLITIONS FM5-25 — Complete info on explosives, demolition of bridges, roads, bldgs. Illus. 188 soft 5.00
HAND-TO-HAND COMBAT FM 21-150 — U.S. Army manual on hand and knife attacks, defenses. Brutal, useful. Illus. 191 soft 3.50
IMPROVED MUNITIONS TM 31-210 — Army's "do-it-yourself" handbook on explosives, incendiaries, weapons. Illus. 160 soft 5.00
INCENDIARIES TM31-301-1 — Complete instructions on preparing incendiary devices for sabotage, terror. Illus. 146 soft 5.00
LIVING OFF THE COUNTRY Angier — Survival techniques, improvisation, Nature lore for guerrillas outside city. 241 hard 6.95
SILENCERS (FRANKFORD ARSENAL R-1896) — US govt manual on silencer design, construction, performance. Illus. 205 soft 6.00
TOTAL RESISTANCE Bern — Swiss contingency plan for civilian resistance after Red takeover. Illus. 173 hard 9.95
UNCONV WAR DEVICES & TECHN TM31-200-1 — Spec. weapons, sabotage devices, homemade bombs & guns. Illus. 234 soft 5.00

POLITICS & PHILOSOPHY

DISPOSSESSED MAJORITY Robertson — Provocative analysis, on racial basis, of America's plight. Hot item! 548 hard 7.95; soft 3.95
MEIN KAMPF Hitler — Story of Germany's struggle for freedom and the philosophy behind it. Hot item! 694 (2 vol) soft 3.95; hard 5.95
RUDOLF HESS: PRISONER OF PEACE Hess — Tragic, inspiring story of man who tried to stop WWII. Hot item! 151 hard 4.95

All books listed are in stock. Same-day shipment or refund if sold out when we receive your order. IMPORTANT: include shipping and handling charges with your order — 25 cents for each book.

RUSH me the books from your list I have indicated below. I enclose full payment and handling costs.

Title

Handling charge (25c per book)
Total amount enclosed

National Alliance
Box 3535
Washington, DC 20007

Mail books to:

Name _____
Street _____
City _____
State _____ Zip _____

Join our Fight!

Who We Are

The National Alliance is a growing, dynamic organization of patriotic men and women concerned about America's future and determined to take a hand in shaping that future.

Our members come from a wide variety of backgrounds, but we all share four things in common:

First, a deep and vital concern for our Western racial-cultural heritage. We esteem that heritage, created for us by the blood and toil of our ancestors over many thousands of years, as our most precious possession. We accept as the sacred obligation of our generation the defense and the furtherance of that heritage, so that we may pass it on, enhanced, to our descendants.

Second, a recognition of the natural inequality of men. We recognize that any truly progressive society cannot be based on an artificially imposed "equality", just as it cannot be based on a system of privilege according to wealth or social class, but must instead be organized so as to offer to each member of society an opportunity, commensurate with his demonstrated character and ability, for the contribution of the fruits of his talent to the whole community.

Third, an absolute rejection of neo-liberalism in all its sickly and destructive manifestations. We understand that this disease of the spirit, whether it raises its head in the guise of revolutionary Marxism or as the media-peddled philosophy-religion of the present System, is alien to our people and must be utterly rooted out and eliminated.

involved. That is, we all place the common interest before our self-interest and dedicate ourselves to personal struggle in behalf of that common interest.

What We Want

Our members are working to build a revolutionary new order of things in American life — a new order based on natural laws.

We want to develop in America a healthy cultural and racial approach to politics reflecting an understanding of authority, discipline, duty, and honor.

We want to achieve an organic society which will not only protect and perpetuate the great, traditional values of Western civilization but will purify the Western world of the degeneracy of communism and liberalism.

We want to secure for our people control over our own destiny by eliminating from the nerve centers of our society every anti-American and anti-Western influence.

We want to safeguard our racial identity by putting an end to the present insanity of enforced racial integration, which is threatening all involved with social chaos, cultural dissolution, and racial death.

We want to foster among our people, through the recapture of our information media and our educational system, a new spiritual outlook: the outlook of free men living and working in harmony with Nature.

We want to make possible for our people a new way of life, a meaningful and satisfying way of life as opposed to the present rat race in which every man and every woman exists

Canada, Europe, southern Africa, Australia, or elsewhere, and that other races must develop in accord with their own, distinct racial-cultural imperatives — without help or hindrance from us except where such development poses a distinct threat to our own security.

What You Can Do

In order to achieve our goal of a free, White, sane, and healthy America, many thousands of us must work together as a disciplined National Alliance team, and our ideas must reach and influence millions of others. You can begin working with us toward this goal just by filling out the application below and mailing it to us with your first month's dues or pledge.

If you become a member, you must par-

Who We Are

The National Alliance is a growing, dynamic organization of patriotic men and women concerned about America's future and determined to take a hand in shaping that future.

Our members come from a wide variety of backgrounds, but we all share four things in common:

First, a deep and vital concern for our Western racial-cultural heritage. We esteem that heritage, created for us by the blood and toil of our ancestors over many thousands of years, as our most precious possession. We accept as the sacred obligation of our generation the defense and the furtherance of that heritage, so that we may pass it on, enhanced, to our descendants.

Second, a recognition of the natural inequality of men. We recognize that any truly progressive society cannot be based on an artificially imposed "equality", just as it cannot be based on a system of privilege according to wealth or social class, but must instead be organized so as to offer to each member of society an opportunity, commensurate with his demonstrated character and ability, for the contribution of the fruits of his talent to the whole community.

Third, an absolute rejection of neo-liberalism in all its sickly and destructive manifestations. We understand that this disease of the spirit, whether it raises its head in the guise of revolutionary Marxism or as the media-peddled philosophy-religion of the present System, is alien to our people and must be utterly rooted out and eliminated, along with its bearers.

Fourth, an eager willingness to take an active part in promoting our ideals and combating the enemies of those ideals, even when considerable self-sacrifice may be involved. That is, we all place the common interest before our self-interest and dedicate ourselves to personal struggle in behalf of that common interest.

What We Want

Our members are working to build a revolutionary new order of things in American life — a new order based on natural laws.

We want to develop in America a healthy cultural and racial approach to politics reflecting an understanding of authority, discipline, duty, and honor.

We want to achieve an organic society which will not only protect and perpetuate the great, traditional values of Western civilization but will purify the Western world of the degeneracy of communism and liberalism.

We want to secure for our people control over our own destiny by eliminating from the nerve centers of our society every anti-American and anti-Western influence.

We want to safeguard our racial identity by putting an end to the present insanity of enforced racial integration, which is threatening all involved with social chaos, cultural dissolution, and racial death.

We want to foster among our people, through the recapture of our information media and our educational system, a new spiritual outlook: the outlook of free men living and working in harmony with Nature.

We want to make possible for our people a new way of life, a meaningful and satisfying way of life as opposed to the present rat race in which every man and every woman exists simply as an exploitable economic unit.

We want our country, one day, to have a sane policy toward the other nations of the world, in place of the self-destructive idiocy which presently passes for American foreign policy. We need a policy based on a recognition that our interests are bound up with those of the other peoples sharing our common racial-cultural heritage, whether in Canada, Europe, southern Africa, Australia, or elsewhere, and that other races must develop in accord with their own, distinct racial-cultural imperatives — without help or hindrance from us except where such development poses a distinct threat to our own security.

What You Can Do

In order to achieve our goal of a free, White, sane, and healthy America, many thousands of us must work together as a disciplined National Alliance team, and our ideas must reach and influence millions of others. You can begin working with us toward this goal just by filling out the application below and mailing it to us with your first month's dues or pledge.

If you become a member, you must participate in our recruiting program by distributing a minimum of 10 copies of AT-TACK! each month, which will be sent to you automatically.

If you become a supporter, recruiting activity is optional. Your pledge supports our program of activities, and you may purchase recruiting materials for distribution if and when you choose.

according to wealth or social class, but must instead be organized so as to offer to each member of society an opportunity, commensurate with his demonstrated character and ability, for the contribution of the fruits of his talent to the whole community.

Third, an absolute rejection of neo-liberalism in all its sickly and destructive manifestations. We understand that this disease of the spirit, whether it raises its head in the guise of revolutionary Marxism or as the media-peddled philosophy-religion of the present System, is alien to our people and must be utterly rooted out and eliminated, along with its bearers.

Fourth, an eager willingness to take an active part in promoting our ideals and combating the enemies of those ideals, even when considerable self-sacrifice may be in-

We want to safeguard our racial identity by putting an end to the present insanity of enforced racial integration, which is threatening all involved with social chaos, cultural dissolution, and racial death.

We want to foster among our people, through the recapture of our information media and our educational system, a new spiritual outlook: the outlook of free men living and working in harmony with Nature.

We want to make possible for our people a new way of life, a meaningful and satisfying way of life as opposed to the present rat race in which every man and every woman exists simply as an exploitable economic unit.

We want our country, one day, to have a sane policy toward the other nations of the world, in place of the self-destructive idiocy which presently passes for American foreign policy. We need a policy based on a recognition that our interests are bound up with those of the other peoples sharing our common racial-cultural heritage, whether in

What You Can Do

In order to achieve our goal of a free, White, sane, and healthy America, many thousands of us must work together as a disciplined National Alliance team, and our ideas must reach and influence millions of others. You can begin working with us toward this goal just by filling out the application below and mailing it to us with your first month's dues or pledge.

If you become a member, you must participate in our recruiting program by distributing a minimum of 10 copies of ATTACK! each month, which will be sent to you automatically.

If you become a supporter, recruiting activity is optional. Your pledge supports our program of activities, and you may purchase recruiting materials for distribution if and when you choose.

Want to Know More?

Read ACTION, the internal bulletin of the National Alliance. Just complete the application form to the right in order to receive your first issue.

ACTION is for those Americans who want to become actively involved in the struggle for our future. It contains news of interest primarily to the members and supporters of the National Alliance.

But it is also for those who are interested in the deeper, underlying issues which must be resolved before today's political, social, and racial problems can be successfully attacked. It probes the ultimate questions of man's spiritual nature, his purpose, and his destiny. It provides the spiritual-philosophical foundation for a new view of man and the universe — a new faith for men and women of our race which reaffirms ancient truths and gives the answers necessary for finding a way through today's chaos and reaching the one Path of Life.

ACTION

National Alliance

Box 3535
Washington, D.C. 20007

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

Please enroll me as a:

☐

Member. Send me my membership card, the current issue of ACTION, and my first month's supply of ATTACK!s to use for recruiting.

Each month I can distribute:

☐

10 ATTACK!s ($3 min. dues).

☐

25 ATTACK!s ($4 min. dues).

☐

50 ATTACK!s ($5 min. dues).

☐

100 ATTACK!s ($8 min. dues).

My monthly dues will be $_____, and my first month's dues are enclosed.

☐

Supporter. Send me the current issue of ACTION and be sure that I receive an ATTACK! via first class mail each month. My monthly pledge will be $_____, and my first month's pledge is enclosed.

One may participate in the National Alliance program as either a member or a supporter.

A member must work actively to recruit for the Alliance, while a supporter pledges monthly contributions to the Alliance in an amount he can afford.

Both members and supporters receive ATTACK! and the internal bulletin, ACTION, each month via first class mail.

Members also receive an additional supply of ATTACK!s each month to use for recruiting. Each member decides how many ATTACK!s he can distribute (10 minimum) and how much he can afford to pay in monthly dues ($3 minimum).

Name _____

Street _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Age _____ Marital Status _____

Sex _____ Race _____ Phone _____

The Masters of the Media

There is no greater power in the world today than that wielded by the manipulators of public opinion in America. No king or pope of old, no conquering general or high priest ever disposed of a power even remotely approaching that of the few dozen men who control America's mass media.

Big Brother Is Watching You

Their power is not distant and impersonal; it reaches into every home in America, and it works its will during nearly every waking hour. It is the power which shapes and molds the mind of virtually every citizen, young or old, rich or poor, simple or sophisticated.

The mass media form for us our image of the world and then tell us what to think about that image. Essentially everything we know — or think we know — about events outside our own neighborhood or circle of acquaintances comes to us via our daily newspaper, weekly news magazine, radio, or TV.

Thinking Fashionably

The way in which the news is covered: which items are emphasized and which are played down, the reporter's choice of words and the commentator's tone of voice, the choice of headline and illustration — all these things profoundly affect our attitudes.

On top of this, of course, the analysts and editors remove any remaining doubt from our minds as to just what we are to think about it all.

adopted a stance which is only moderately pro-Israel.

"Heads I Win, Tails You Lose"

Thus, even the citizen who complains about "managed news" falls into the trap of thinking that, because he is presented with an apparent spectrum of viewpoints on each major issue, he can escape the thought controllers' influence by believing the editor or commentator of his choice. He doesn't realize that it's one of those proverbial "heads I win, tails you lose" arrangements. The media masters do not leave him any options except the ones they don't mind him choosing.

Wirepullers Exposed

And who are these all-powerful masters of the media? For a partial answer, consider the TV-news broadcasting industry. This is probably the single most influential mass medium, and the answer we find here provides the clue to all the other media.

Virtually all national and international TV news in the U.S. is filmed, edited, and broadcast by just three corporations: American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. (ABC), Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. (CBS), and National Broadcasting Company (NBC).

ABC

The president and chief executive officer of ABC is Leonard Goldenson, who has held those positions since 1953. The general manager of ABC News, which produces all of ABC's radio and TV news programs, is Martin Rubenstein, and under Mr.

persons in executive positions, but the seven men named above are at the key control points. They are the ones who have the ultimate decision-making authority. They dictate what 210 million Americans shall learn of what has happened in the nation and in the world each day. All seven of them — Goldenson, Rubenstein, Westin, Paley, Salant, Schlosser, and Wald — are Jews.

Newspapers Too

After television, daily newspapers are the most influential mass medium in America. Sixty-two million of them are sold (and, presumably, read) each day.

Those 62,000,000 copies are divided between some 1,700 different publications. One might guess that the sheer number of different newspapers would in itself provide a guarantee against minority control of this important medium. Unfortunately, such is not the case.

Today, more than half the daily newspaper circulation in America is controlled directly, and the remainder indirectly, by Jews, a minority group which makes up only 2.9 per cent of the total population. This extraordinary and dangerous situation has come about as a consequence of the fact that newspapers are not paid for by their subscribers but by their advertisers. It is advertising revenue — not the nickels or dimes paid by a newspaper's readers — that largely pays the editor's salary and yields the owner's profit.

Selective Advertising

Whenever the large advertisers in a city choose to favor one newspaper over another with their business, that newspaper will prosper and its competitors perish. Since the beginning of this century, when Jewish mercantile power in America became a dominant economic force, there has been a steady rise in the number of American newspapers in Jewish hands, accompanied by a steady decline in the number of competing Gentile newspapers — primarily as a result of selective advertising policies by Jewish merchants.

Furthermore, even those newspapers still under Gentile ownership and management are so thoroughly dependent upon Jewish advertising revenue that their editorial and news reporting policies are largely constrained by Jewish likes and dislikes. It holds true in the newspaper business as elsewhere that he who pays the piper calls the tune.

See MEDIA, p. 9

Big Brother Is Watching You

Their power is not distant and impersonal; it reaches into every home in America, and it works its will during nearly every waking hour. It is the power which shapes and molds the mind of virtually every citizen, young or old, rich or poor, simple or sophisticated.

The mass media form for us our image of the world and then tell us what to think about that image. Essentially everything we know — or think we know — about events outside our own neighborhood or circle of acquaintances comes to us via our daily newspaper, weekly news magazine, radio, or TV.

Thinking Fashionably

The way in which the news is covered: which items are emphasized and which are played down, the reporter's choice of words and the commentator's tone of voice, the choice of headline and illustration — all these things profoundly affect our attitudes.

On top of this, of course, the analysts and editors remove any remaining doubt from our minds as to just what we are to think about it all.

They guide our thoughts and opinions so that we can be in tune with the in crowd, the beautiful people, the smart money.

Permissible Opinions Only!

The really insidious thing about this form of thought control is that even when we realize the news is biased, the media masters are still able to manipulate most of us. This is because they not only slant the news they present, but they establish tacit boundaries and ground rules for the permissible spectrum of opinion.

As an example of opinion boundaries, consider the way the media treat news of the Middle East. Some editors, columnists, and commentators are slavishly major issue, he can escape the thought controllers' influence by believing the editor or commentator of his choice. He doesn't realize that it's one of those proverbial "heads I win, tails you lose" arrangements. The media masters do not leave him any options except the ones they don't mind him choosing.

Wirepullers Exposed

And who are these all-powerful masters of the media? For a partial answer, consider the TV-news broadcasting industry. This is probably the single most influential mass medium, and the answer we find here provides the clue to all the other media.

Virtually all national and international TV news in the U.S. is filmed, edited, and broadcast by just three corporations: American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. (ABC), Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. (CBS), and National Broadcasting Company (NBC).

ABC

The president and chief executive officer of ABC is Leonard Goldenson, who has held those positions since 1953. The general manager of ABC News, which produces all of ABC's radio and TV news programs, is Martin Rubenstein, and under Mr. Rubenstein, as executive producer of ABC's television news programs (since 1969) is Avram Westin.

CBS

The top man at CBS (since 1948) is Chairman of the Board William S. Paley. The CBS News subsidiary is run by President Richard S. Salant, who has had that job since 1966.

NBC

The president and chief operating officer of NBC is Herbert S. Schlosser. Under Schlosser, as president of NBC News, is Richard Wald.

Alien News Monopoly

Salant, Schlosser, and Wald — are Jews.

Newspapers Too

After television, daily newspapers are the most influential mass medium in America. Sixty-two million of them are sold (and, presumably, read) each day.

Those 62,000,000 copies are divided between some 1,700 different publications. One might guess that the sheer number of different newspapers would in traordinary and dangerous situation has come about as a consequence of the fact that newspapers are not paid for by their subscribers but by their advertisers. It is advertising revenue — not the nickels or dimes paid by a newspaper's readers — that largely pays the editor's salary and yields the owner's profit.

Selective Advertising

Whenever the large advertisers in a city choose to favor one newspaper over another with primarily as a result of selective advertising policies by Jewish merchants.

Furthermore, even those newspapers still under Gentile ownership and management are so thoroughly dependent upon Jewish advertising revenue that their editorial and news reporting policies are largely constrained by Jewish likes and dislikes. It holds true in the newspaper business as elsewhere that he who pays the piper calls the tune.

See MEDIA, p. 9

ABC BOSS GOLDENSON

CBS BOSS PALEY

NBC BOSS SCHLOSSER

Subscribe!

to ATTACK!

- the hardest hitting . . .
- the fastest growing . . .
- the most relevant publication in America

The way in which the news is covered: which items are emphasized and which are played down, the reporter's choice of words and the commentator's tone of voice, the choice of headline and illustration — all these things profoundly affect our attitudes.

On top of this, of course, the analysts and editors remove any remaining doubt from our minds as to just what we are to think about it all.

They guide our thoughts and opinions so that we can be in tune with the in crowd, the beautiful people, the smart money.

Permissible Opinions Only!

The really insidious thing about this form of thought control is that even when we realize the news is biased, the media masters are still able to manipulate most of us. This is because they not only slant the news they present, but they establish tacit boundaries and ground rules for the permissible spectrum of opinion.

As an example of opinion boundaries, consider the way the media treat news of the Middle East. Some editors, columnists, and commentators are slavishly pro-Zionist in their every utterance, while others have just three corporations: American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. (ABC), Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. (CBS), and National Broadcasting Company (NBC).

ABC

The president and chief executive officer of ABC is Leonard Goldenson, who has held those positions since 1953. The general manager of ABC News, which produces all of ABC's radio and TV news programs, is Martin Rubenstein, and under Mr. Rubenstein, as executive producer of ABC's television news programs (since 1969) is Avram Westin.

CBS

The top man at CBS (since 1948) is Chairman of the Board William S. Paley. The CBS News subsidiary is run by President Richard S. Salant, who has had that job since 1966.

NBC

The president and chief operating officer of NBC is Herbert S. Schlosser. Under Schlosser, as president of NBC News, is Richard Wald.

Alien News Monopoly

The major broadcasting corporations employ hundreds of

ABC BOSS GOLDENSON

CBS BOSS PALEY

NBC BOSS SCHLOSSER

Subscribe!

to ATTACK!

- the hardest hitting . . .
- the fastest growing . . .
- the most relevant publication in America.

Get every important, exciting issue by mail as soon as it comes off the press!

National Alliance
Box 3535
Washington, D.C. 20007

Send me the next 12 issues of ATTACK!
I enclose $5 in payment.

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

⁴⁸ Make checks payable to NATIONAL ALLIANCE.

Order Extra Copies of this Newspaper for Your Friends

5/$1 25/$3 100/$8 1,000/$60

Postage Prepaid

Media

As Jewish control over American newspapers has grown, so has the newspaper business lost its original competitive-free enterprise nature and become monopolistic. This process has advanced so far that today in 97 per cent of the American cities which have a local daily newspaper there is no local competitor.

Only in fifty-five of the nation's largest cities does there still exist daily newspaper competition, and in most of these cities the competition is only nominal, as between morning and afternoon papers, which are often under the same ownership. Examples of the latter are the morning New Orleans Times-Picayune and the evening New Orleans States & Item, the morning Springfield Union and the evening Springfield News, Portland's morning Oregonian and evening Oregon Journal — all owned by Jewish newspaper czar Samuel Newhouse.

Instrument of Jewish Policy

Thus, in nearly all cases a newspaper editor may print what he pleases (or, rather, what his employers and advertisers wish him to print) without fear of contradiction by a competitor. It is this lack of effective competition which has resulted in the press in America becoming, for all practical purposes, an instrument of Jewish policy.

The use of the press by the Jewish minority to set the policies which affect the lives of all Americans could hardly be better illustrated than by the examples of the nation's two most prestigious and influential newspapers: the New York Times and the Washington Post.

New York Times

from p. 8

able to purchase the paper from Jones' estate in 1896 for a modest price. After Ochs' acquisition of the New York Times, advertising revenues rose dramatically.

The present Jewish owners of the newspaper, the Sulzberger family, are related to Ochs through the marriage of Ochs' daughter, Iphigene, to Arthur Hays Sulzberger in 1917. Their son, Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, is the paper's current president and publisher.

Washington Post

A close second to the New York Times in national influence is the Washington Post, which, by establishing its "leaks" in most governmental agencies in Washington, has an inside track on news involving the Federal government.

The Washington Post was founded in 1877 by Stilson Hutchins and purchased from him in 1905 by John R. McLean. Later inherited by Edward B. McLean, the paper was forced into bankruptcy during the Great Depression and was sold at auction in June 1933 to Eugene Meyer, a Jewish financier, for a trifling $825,000.

Spiking the Competition

As World War II approached a feud was waged between the Washington Post and one of its chief competitors, the Times-Herald. The Post's policy, of course, was internationalist and pro-war, while the Times-Herald, owned by Eleanor Patterson of the Patterson-McCormick clan, was non-interventionist and "America First."

Eleanor Patterson's cousin, Colonel Robert McCormick, particularly enraged the Jews in 1941 by publishing in his Chicago

It is hoped that the information provided in this series may be of some benefit to those of our people who, in the face of increasingly erratic and hostile behavior from their government and the minorities it serves, still have a modicum of racial pride and self-reliance and the desire to survive until, through an organized effort, we can make an end of the plague which now besets us and restore sanity and order to our land once again.

Self-Defense I

The average American, in choosing a weapon or weapons to be used for the defense of his person, his family, and his property, should consider several factors carefully before making a decision.

The most important factor is effectiveness. A weapon must be chosen which is fully adequate for the situations in which its use is anticipated. Here we will consider the defense of a home or apartment from either individual intruders or bands of marauders, such as might be expected during a Negro riot or other large-scale breakdown of law and order.

If one is concerned only with burglars or other individual intruders, almost any firearm—either a long gun or a handgun—may be adequate. But the citizen who wants to be prepared for the conditions of life toward which our government is inevitably leading us needs a weapon with firepower. Who wants to look forward to having to use a handgun or a bolt-needs a submachine gun, an automatic or semiautomatic rifle or carbine, or a semiautomatic or pump-action shotgun. (All fully automatic weapons have already been outlawed by the government.)

For the citizen who wants to avoid illegality as long as he can, two weapons are specifically recommended: the semiautomatic, .30 caliber, U.S. M1 carbine, with several 30-round magazines (in a bore) sawed off to the legal limit of 18-inch barrel length and loaded with No. 4 buckshot is a formidable weapon for dealing with a mob. Since each cartridge contains 27 pellets, with a five-round autoloader one can lay down a well-dispersed barrage of 135 projectiles of .25 caliber each in about two seconds.

Such a lethal hail of lead is beyond the capacity of any submachine gun and will make an

U.S. M1 Carbine

few jurisdictions, the use of this weapon with a 30-round magazine may already be illegal); and the 12-gauge, semiautomatic or pump-action shotgun, with a minimum capacity of five cartridges (preferably seven).

The M1 carbine is to be preferred over heavier and more powerful semiautomatic weapons, such as the .30-06 M1 Garand and various semiautomatic sporting rifles, primarily because it offers greater firepower. Its ballistics are adequate for human targets at all ranges which are likely to be encountered in purely defensive situations. Furthermore, its light weight, small size, and negligible recoil recommend it for use by a woman or any inexperienced shooter.

A 12-gauge shotgun (don't even consider a shotgun of smaller awful lot of Black mincemeat. An experienced shotgunner can do nearly as well with a pump-action weapon.

One advantage of a shotgun is its flexibility. Although No. 4 buckshot is recommended for general usage, giving a four-foot-diameter killing pattern at 40 yards, any 12-gauge cartridge that is handy can be used in a pinch.

The 12-gauge rifled slug extends the effective range of the shotgun to well over 100 yards; it will practically tear a man in half at that distance and will penetrate automobile bodies and wooden walls as well.

Finally, shotguns, because of their widespread use for sporting purposes, will probably be the last firearms to be banned by the government.

Next month: handguns.

Only in fifty-five of the nation's largest cities does there still exist daily newspaper competition, and in most of these cities the competition is only nominal, as between morning and afternoon papers, which are often under the same ownership. Examples of the latter are the morning New Orleans Times-Picayune and the evening New Orleans States & Item, the morning Springfield Union and the evening Springfield News, Portland's morning Oregonian and evening Oregon Journal — all owned by Jewish newspaper czar Samuel Newhouse.

Instrument of Jewish Policy

Thus, in nearly all cases a newspaper editor may print what he pleases (or, rather, what his employers and advertisers wish him to print) without fear of contradiction by a competitor. It is this lack of effective competition which has resulted in the press in America becoming, for all practical purposes, an instrument of Jewish policy.

The use of the press by the Jewish minority to set the policies which affect the lives of all Americans could hardly be better illustrated than by the examples of the nation's two most prestigious and influential newspapers: the New York Times and the Washington Post.

New York Times

The New York Times is the unofficial social, fashion, entertainment, political, and cultural guide of the nation. Its influence and ideas reach into every stratum of American life. It is sold in virtually every community in the United States.

The New York Times (originally New York Daily Times) was founded in 1851 by Henry J. Raymond (1820-1869) and George Jones (1811-1891).

Shortly after Jones' death in 1891, the newspaper experienced a drop in advertising revenue that forced it near bankruptcy.

As a consequence Adolph Ochs, a wealthy Jewish publisher, was son, Arthur Hays Sulzberger, is the paper's current president and publisher.

Washington Post

A close second to the New York Times in national influence is the Washington Post, which, by establishing its "leaks" in most governmental agencies in Washington, has an inside track on news involving the Federal government.

The Washington Post was founded in 1877 by Stilson Hutchins and purchased from him in 1905 by John R. McLean. Later inherited by Edward B. McLean, the paper was forced into bankruptcy during the Great Depression and was sold at auction in June 1933 to Eugene Meyer, a Jewish financier, for a trifling $825,000.

Spiking the Competition

As World War II approached a feud was waged between the Washington Post and one of its chief competitors, the Times-Herald. The Post's policy, of course, was internationalist and pro-war, while the Times-Herald, owned by Eleanor Patterson of the Patterson-McCormick clan, was non-interventionist and "America First."

Eleanor Patterson's cousin, Colonel Robert McCormick, particularly enraged the Jews in 1941 by publishing in his Chicago Tribune secret government documents proving that President Roosevelt was deliberately attempting to embroil America in the war then raging in Europe. Consequently, when McCormick purchased the Times-Herald from his cousin's estate after her death in 1948, Washington's Jewish merchants conducted an advertising boycott against him. By 1954 the Times-Herald was losing more than a million dollars a year, and McCormick was finally forced to sell out to Meyer, who promptly closed the paper down.

The Washington Post is

people who, in the face of increasingly erratic and hostile behavior from their government and the minorities it serves, still have a modicum of racial pride and self-reliance and the desire to survive until, through an organized effort, we can make an end of the plague which now besets us and restore sanity and order to our land once again.

Self-Defense I

The average American, in choosing a weapon or weapons to be used for the defense of his person, his family, and his property, should consider several factors carefully before making a decision.

The most important factor is effectiveness. A weapon must be chosen which is fully adequate for the situations in which its use is anticipated. Here we will consider the defense of a home or apartment from either individual intruders or bands of marauders, such as might be expected during a Negro riot or other large-scale breakdown of law and order.

If one is concerned only with burglars or other individual intruders, almost any firearm—either a long gun or a handgun—may be adequate. But the citizen who wants to be prepared for the conditions of life toward which our government is inevitably leading us needs a weapon with firepower. Who wants to look forward to having to use a handgun or a bolt-action .22 to defend his family from a rampaging mob of 40 or 50 Blacks bent on rape and pillage?

To handle such a situation one

Meyer Graham, Eugene Meyer's daughter, who is the principal stockholder and board chairman of the Washington Post Co., and Larry H. Israel, who is the president and chief operating officer.

The Washington Post Co. also owns Newsweek magazine and a number of radio and television broadcasting stations.

Instinct for Power

And the situation is even worse pump-action shotguns. (All fully automatic weapons have already been outlawed by the government.)

For the citizen who wants to avoid illegality as long as he can, two weapons are specifically recommended: the semiautomatic, .30 caliber, U.S. M1 carbine, with several 30-round magazines (in a few jurisdictions, the use of this weapon with a 30-round magazine may already be illegal); and the 12-gauge, semiautomatic or pump-action shotgun, with a minimum capacity of five cartridges (preferably seven).

U.S. M1 Carbine

The M1 carbine is to be preferred over heavier and more powerful semiautomatic weapons, such as the .30-06 M1 Garand and various semiautomatic sporting rifles, primarily because it offers greater firepower. Its ballistics are adequate for human targets at all ranges which are likely to be encountered in purely defensive situations. Furthermore, its light weight, small size, and negligible recoil recommend it for use by a woman or any inexperienced shooter.

A 12-gauge shotgun (don't even consider a shotgun of smaller formidable weapon for dealing with a mob. Since each cartridge contains 27 pellets, with a five-round autoloader one can lay down a well-dispersed barrage of 135 projectiles of .25 caliber each in about two seconds.

Such a lethal hail of lead is beyond the capacity of any sub-machine gun and will make an awful lot of Black mincemeat. An experienced shotgunner can do nearly as well with a pump-action weapon.

One advantage of a shotgun is its flexibility. Although No. 4 buckshot is recommended for general usage, giving a four-foot-diameter killing pattern at 40 yards, any 12-gauge cartridge that is handy can be used in a pinch.

The 12-gauge rifled slug extends the effective range of the shotgun to well over 100 yards; it will practically tear a man in half at that distance and will penetrate automobile bodies and wooden walls as well.

Finally, shotguns, because of their widespread use for sporting purposes, will probably be the last firearms to be banned by the government.

Next month: handguns.

Autoloading Shotgun

motion-picture industry and other media. Jews, with an uncanny instinct for power, insinuated themselves into every nook and cranny of the communications industries decades before the profound influence of the media on public opinion and the democratic political process was generally recognized.

During the early part of this century they established their bridgeheads in the press, motion pictures, and radio broadcasting.

This Jewish control of the American mass media is the single most important fact of life, not just in America, but in the whole world today. And there is nothing: famine, inflation, fuel crisis, war — more dangerous to the future of our people.

Until this Jewish control of American public opinion is broken, continued misfortune, confusion, and decadence shall be our lot, and there can be no petition which has resulted in the press in America becoming, for all practical purposes, an instrument of Jewish policy.

The use of the press by the Jewish minority to set the policies which affect the lives of all Americans could hardly be better illustrated than by the examples of the nation's two most prestigious and influential newspapers: the New York Times and the Washington Post.

New York Times

The New York Times is the unofficial social, fashion, entertainment, political, and cultural guide of the nation. Its influence and ideas reach into every stratum of American life. It is sold in virtually every community in the United States.

The New York Times (originally New York Daily Times) was founded in 1851 by Henry J. Raymond (1820-1869) and George Jones (1811-1891).

Shortly after Jones' death in 1891, the newspaper experienced a drop in advertising revenue that forced it near bankruptcy. As a consequence Adolph Ochs, a wealthy Jewish publisher, was

NYT BOSS SULZBERGER

As World War II approached a feud was waged between the Washington Post and one of its chief competitors, the Times-Herald. The Post's policy, of course, was internationalist and pro-war, while the Times-Herald, owned by Eleanor Patterson of the Patterson-McCormick clan, was non-interventionist and "America First."

Eleanor Patterson's cousin, Colonel Robert McCormick, particularly enraged the Jews in 1941 by publishing in his Chicago Tribune secret government documents proving that President Roosevelt was deliberately attempting to embroil America in the war then raging in Europe. Consequently, when McCormick purchased the Times-Herald from his cousin's estate after her death in 1948, Washington's Jewish merchants conducted an advertising boycott against him. By 1954 the Times-Herald was losing more than a million dollars a year, and McCormick was finally forced to sell out to Meyer, who promptly closed the paper down.

The Washington Post is presently run by Katharine ders or bands of marauders, such as might be expected during a Negro riot or other large-scale breakdown of law and order.

WP BOSS MEYER-GRAHAM

If one is concerned only with burglars or other individual intruders, almost any firearm—either a long gun or a handgun—may be adequate. But the citizen who wants to be prepared for the conditions of life toward which our government is inevitably leading us needs a weapon with firepower. Who wants to look forward to having to use a handgun or a bolt-action .22 to defend his family from a rampaging mob of 40 or 50 Blacks bent on rape and pillage?

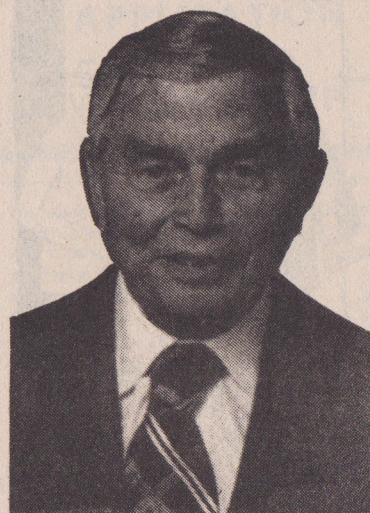

To handle such a situation one

Meyer Graham, Eugene Meyer's daughter, who is the principal stockholder and board chairman of the Washington Post Co., and Larry H. Israel, who is the president and chief operating officer.

The Washington Post Co. also owns Newsweek magazine and a number of radio and television broadcasting stations.

Instinct for Power

And the situation is even worse — if that is possible — in the various semiautomatic sporting rifles, primarily because it offers greater firepower. Its ballistics are adequate for human targets at all ranges which are likely to be encountered in purely defensive situations. Furthermore, its light weight, small size, and negligible recoil recommend it for use by a woman or any inexperienced shooter.

NEWS CZAR NEWHOUSE

A 12-gauge shotgun (don't even consider a shotgun of smaller

Autoloading Shotgun

The 12-gauge rifled slug extends the effective range of the shotgun to well over 100 yards; it will practically tear a man in half at that distance and will penetrate automobile bodies and wooden walls as well.

Finally, shotguns, because of their widespread use for sporting purposes, will probably be the last firearms to be banned by the government.

Next month: handguns.

motion-picture industry and other media. Jews, with an uncanny instinct for power, insinuated themselves into every nook and cranny of the communications industries decades before the profound influence of the media on public opinion and the democratic political process was generally recognized.

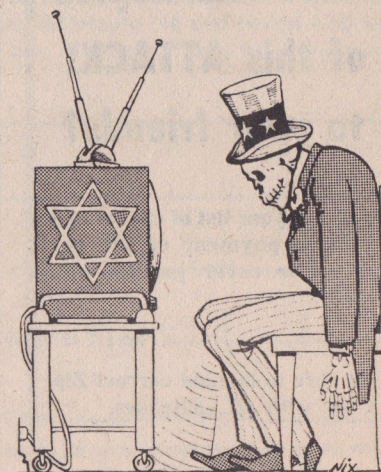

During the early part of this century they established their bridgeheads in the press, motion pictures, and radio broadcasting. By World War II they were already in a commanding position. In the period since 1945 they have so tightened their grip on the mass media that they exercise a virtual monopoly control.

Leading America by the Nose

Coordinating their business interests with their political interests, they have not only profited financially from their control of the media but they have used that control like a ring in America's nose to build a power base for themselves which few dare oppose. They can make Congressmen and Presidents and — as Watergate has so clearly shown — break them at their pleasure.

This Jewish control of the American mass media is the single most important fact of life, not just in America, but in the whole world today. And there is nothing: famine, inflation, fuel crisis, war — more dangerous to the future of our people.

Until this Jewish control of American public opinion is broken, continued misfortune, confusion, and decadence shall be our lot, and there can be no national liberation or regeneration.

Questions people ask

Q. I know it's a pretty sorry choice, but which Presidential candidate would you recommend that patriots vote for in November, Ford or Carter?

A. Neither. Stay away from the polls. No self-respecting White person should lend even the appearance of legitimacy to a Presidential election by participating in one until the Zionist grip on America's public-opinion-forming media has been broken.

Q. But if we don't vote, how can we hope to break the Zionist conspiracy?

A. You cannot hope to break it by voting, so long as the great majority of White Americans remain unconscious of its existence, its methods, and its aims. But there are three things you can do: first, help to expose the conspiracy by disseminating copies of this newspaper and other materials published by the National Alliance to the people of your community, thus circumventing the conspiracy's monopoly control of the information media; second, become conscious of the true identity and mission of our people by attending National Alliance meetings or listening to tape recordings of those meetings; and, third, help spread the consciousness of the great Truth we are teaching to others who are capable of understanding it, so that this Truth can some day be the basis for a worldwide reawakening of our race and the building of a new society.

Q. Briefly, what is this great Truth?

the Creator's Path of self-completion.

But in our race there is something unique — a latent fire, an incipient spark of divinity, a restless seeking, an upward urge. It is the first glimmering of consciousness of our identity and our mission.

Now, at a time when we are threatened worldwide with oblivion as a result of a suicidal rush to embrace the false god of "equality," we must become fully conscious so that we can find our way once again to the upward Path.

Then our destiny will be Godhood.

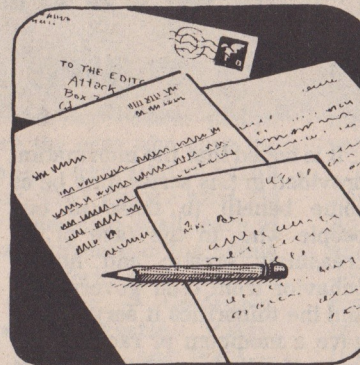

That, briefly, is our Truth. But in order for you to understand it fully you must learn what is taught in our meetings. You must gain full consciousness of the meaning of this Truth before you can find the Path ordained for our people.

Q. How will finding this Path help me?

A. The Path of Life is not an easy Path. Finding it will not "help" you, in the sense of bringing you either wealth or happiness. On the contrary, those who follow the Path, especially in these perverse times, must expect only difficulty, danger, hardship, and sacrifice, for many years.

The reward lies in learning to live a life which expresses in the way you behave, every day, your oneness with the Whole. It lies in a growing consciousness of the Divine Spark inside you. It lies in being able to exchange a purposeless life for a purposeful one. It lies in knowing that your efforts

The People Speak

San Quentin Again

Dear Sirs:

I am a White prisoner here at San Quentin, and while housed in its adjustment center (because I'm not embarrassed to be White) I had the pleasure of reading your paper, which was being sent to another White man there. Your paper is great and very factual.

There are many Whites here who could profit by reading ATTACK!, and I myself would greatly enjoy the opportunity to once again read it. The problem is that I am now in a different block, where no one receives ATTACK! I don't have the money to purchase a subscription and would be very grateful if one could be given me free of cost. I assure you that if I receive ATTACK! I will pass it on to other White prisoners, some of them greatly in need of enlightenment.

Thank you, and keep up the good work.

D.R.L.
Tamal, CA

ATTACK! Copied

Gentlemen:

It is interesting to note that the mass-circulation newspapers and year. It means that, for the indefinite future, Americans' real earning power is apparently going to rise more slowly than in any sustained period since the Depression."

Reading that immediately called to mind a front-page article which appeared in ATTACK! more than a year ago. It was headlined "Living Standard in U.S. to Drop: Productivity Down for 2nd Year as Non-White Quotas, Inefficiency Rise." Portions of the Washington Post editorial could have been copied from the ATTACK! article, especially the explanation that productivity is the real measure of a nation's efficiency and depends directly on the average quality of the national work force.

Of course, the Washington Post didn't explain why the quality of the American work force is down, as ATTACK! did. The Post pretended the whole thing is a mystery.

Sincerely,
Mrs. P.L.
Richmond, VA

Nick Camerota

Nick's Observations

Hail the Conquering Zeros!

Well, America, how'd you like it? It was quite a sight: all those grown men wearing garish hats, throwing balloons around, and waving those dumb signs while screaming themselves hoarse. The tone and intellectual level of the Democratic and Republican national conventions were such that these momentous events might have passed for some crass television game show. One almost expected Monty Hall and that wandering band of zanies dressed as giant rutabagas to materialize at any moment.

Then there were the speeches. Most of the texts might have been snatched from the offices of the National Lampoon.

The Republican self-burlesque attempting to be everybody's boy. Smiley just runs on his I'll-never-tell-you-a-lie act while going lightly on the issues. Whether the proposed debate with Ford will flush the "real" Carter out is anyone's guess.

In any event, Carter seems to have certain voting blocs locked up:

1) Women: passivity and dependence are two hallmarks of our increasingly effeminate society. Carter is not particularly controversial (yet) and has a nice smile; he does not project a strikingly male personality. In his navy photos, Carter looks every inch a capon. He threatens no one. His never-ending talk of "love" and "momma really gets to on America's public-opinion forming media has been broken.

Q. But if we don't vote, how can we hope to break the Zionist conspiracy?

A. You cannot hope to break it by voting, so long as the great majority of White Americans remain unconscious of its existence, its methods, and its aims. But there are three things you can do: first, help to expose the conspiracy by disseminating copies of this newspaper and other materials published by the National Alliance to the people of your community, thus circumventing the conspiracy's monopoly control of the information media; second, become conscious of the true identity and mission of our people by attending National Alliance meetings or listening to tape recordings of those meetings; and, third, help spread the consciousness of the great Truth we are teaching to others who are capable of understanding it, so that this Truth can some day be the basis for a worldwide reawakening of our race and the building of a new society.

Q. Briefly, what is this great Truth?

A. There is but one reality, which is the Whole, the Creator, the Self-created.

The purpose of the Whole is self-completion, total self-realization, which is approached through a never-ending evolutionary process.

Each of us is a part of the Whole and, therefore, both an embodiment and an agent of the Creator. Heretofore we have been unconscious agents, and our service of the Creator's purpose has been very imperfect. We have strayed from the one true Path — embrace the false god of "equality," we must become fully conscious so that we can find our way once again to the upward Path.

Then our destiny will be Godhood.

That, briefly, is our Truth. But in order for you to understand it fully you must learn what is taught in our meetings. You must gain full consciousness of the meaning of this Truth before you can find the Path ordained for our people.

Q. How will finding this Path help me?

A. The Path of Life is not an easy Path. Finding it will not "help" you, in the sense of bringing you either wealth or happiness. On the contrary, those who follow the Path, especially in these perverse times, must expect only difficulty, danger, hardship, and sacrifice, for many years.

The reward lies in learning to live a life which expresses in the way you behave, every day, your oneness with the Whole. It lies in a growing consciousness of the Divine Spark inside you. It lies in being able to exchange a purposeless life for a purposeful one. It lies in knowing that your efforts and sacrifices count, that you are living for the sake of eternity and, in so doing, are becoming a part of that eternity.

Q. How can I learn more?

A. You can attend a National Alliance meeting, or, if you don't live in the Washington area, you can listen to a tape recording of a meeting. Write Box 3535, Washington, D.C. 20007, and ask for an Introductory Meeting Cassette. Include $3 with your request. If you later become a member of the Alliance you will have an opportunity to purchase tapes of other meetings.

San Quentin Again

Dear Sirs:

I am a White prisoner here at San Quentin, and while housed in its adjustment center (because I'm not embarrassed to be White) I had the pleasure of reading your paper, which was being sent to another White man there. Your paper is great and very factual.

There are many Whites here who could profit by reading ATTACK!, and I myself would greatly enjoy the opportunity to once again read it. The problem is that I am now in a different block, where no one receives ATTACK! I don't have the money to purchase a subscription and would be very grateful if one could be given me free of cost. I assure you that if I receive ATTACK! I will pass it on to other White prisoners, some of them greatly in need of enlightenment.

Thank you, and keep up the good work.

D.R.L.
Tamal, CA

ATTACK! Copied

Gentlemen:

It is interesting to note that the mass-circulation newspapers and magazines are getting around to worrying out loud about some of the social problems which ATTACK! warned about months and even years ago.

Today (August 23) there is an editorial in the Washington Post which begins with the warning that "American productivity is no longer rising the way it used to If you smooth the bumps and jolts out of the graph, you will find that in the United States (unlike Europe or Japan) the growth of productivity has been slackening steadily for two decades. In the early 1950's it grew at a rate of well over 3 per cent a year. The rate now is hardly 1 per cent a editorial could have been copied

Richmond, VA

Nick Camerota

Nick's Observations

Hail the Conquering Zeros!

Well, America, how'd you like it? It was quite a sight: all those grown men wearing garish hats, throwing balloons around, and waving those dumb signs while screaming themselves hoarse. The tone and intellectual level of the Democratic and Republican national conventions were such that these momentous events might have passed for some crass television game show. One almost expected Monty Hall and that wandering band of zanies dressed as giant rutabagas to materialize at any moment.

Then there were the speeches. Most of the texts might have been snatched from the offices of the National Lampoon.

The Republican self-burlesque was great fun; taken in small doses, their show was the more entertaining. However, I confess to punching my TV's off button as Rocky mounted the rostrum. His performances are strictly Captain Kangaroo and, besides, Nelson's voice could scale a fish.

I did watch Reagan's pitch. His velvet voice and cool self-assurance were extremely impressive. But, alas, the handsome ex-actor was thrown over by his fickle public for a stumbling, dough-faced ex-football player. The Goddess of Democracy can be cruel.

At least we don't have to fret over our national dignity. After all, Jerry Ford never starred in Bedtime for Bonzo or made himself ridiculous by wooing the Cattle Queen of Montana. On the other hand, we may have to suffer the grave misfortune of four more years of Henry Kissinger.

attempting to be everybody's boy. Smiley just runs on his I'll-never-tell-you-a-lie act while going lightly on the issues. Whether the proposed debate with Ford will flush the "real" Carter out is anyone's guess.

In any event, Carter seems to have certain voting blocs locked up:

1) Women: passivity and dependence are two hallmarks of our increasingly effeminate society. Carter is not particularly controversial (yet) and has a nice smile; he does not project a strikingly male personality. In his navy photos, Carter looks every inch a capon. He threatens no one. His never-ending talk of "luv" and momma really gets to the females.

2) Blacks: although they now generally vote Democratic in Presidential elections anyway, this latter-day scalawag's embrace of Martin Luther King, Sr., helped allay certain Black fears.

3) Religious cranks: this overlooked American subculture and underrated voting bloc deserves closer study. Tom Wolfe's provocative article, "The 'ME' Decade and the Third Great Awakening" (New York magazine, August 23, 1976), deals briefly with Carter's appeal to "born again" believers. Perhaps the most revealing Carter study was authored by Jimmy's faith-healing sister, Ruth Carter Stapleton (The Gift of Inner Healing, Word Books, $4.95). I'm on dangerous ground here, and I know it. But I insist that Mrs. Stapleton's idiosyncratic outpourings tell us something about the

Would you like
us to mail copies

Special Rate
for bulk orders

second, become conscious of the true identity and mission of our people by attending National Alliance meetings or listening to tape recordings of those meetings; and, third, help spread the consciousness of the great Truth we are teaching to others who are capable of understanding it, so that this Truth can some day be the basis for a worldwide reawakening of our race and the building of a new society.

Q. Briefly, what is this great Truth?

A. There is but one reality, which is the Whole, the Creator, the Self-created.

The purpose of the Whole is self-completion, total self-realization, which is approached through a never-ending evolutionary process.

Each of us is a part of the Whole and, therefore, both an embodiment and an agent of the Creator. Heretofore we have been unconscious agents, and our service of the Creator's purpose has been very imperfect. We have strayed from the one true Path — help you, in the sense of bringing you either wealth or happiness. On the contrary, those who follow the Path, especially in these perverse times, must expect only difficulty, danger, hardship, and sacrifice, for many years.

The reward lies in learning to live a life which expresses in the way you behave, every day, your oneness with the Whole. It lies in a growing consciousness of the Divine Spark inside you. It lies in being able to exchange a purposeless life for a purposeful one. It lies in knowing that your efforts and sacrifices count, that you are living for the sake of eternity and, in so doing, are becoming a part of that eternity.

Q. How can I learn more?

A. You can attend a National Alliance meeting, or, if you don't live in the Washington area, you can listen to a tape recording of a meeting. Write Box 3535, Washington, D.C. 20007, and ask for an Introductory Meeting Cassette. Include $3 with your request. If you later become a member of the Alliance you will have an opportunity to purchase tapes of other meetings.

could be given me free of cost. I assure you that if I receive ATTACK! I will pass it on to other White prisoners, some of them greatly in need of enlightenment.

Thank you, and keep up the good work.

D.R.L.
Tamal, CA

ATTACK! Copied

Gentlemen:

It is interesting to note that the mass-circulation newspapers and magazines are getting around to worrying out loud about some of the social problems which ATTACK! warned about months and even years ago.

Today (August 23) there is an editorial in the Washington Post which begins with the warning that "American productivity is no longer rising the way it used to If you smooth the bumps and jolts out of the graph, you will find that in the United States (unlike Europe or Japan) the growth of productivity has been slackening steadily for two decades. In the early 1950's it grew at a rate of well over 3 per cent a year. The rate now is hardly 1 per cent a tone and intellectual level of the Democratic and Republican national conventions were such that these momentous events might have passed for some crass television game show. One almost expected Monty Hall and that wandering band of zanies dressed as giant rutabagas to materialize at any moment.

Then there were the speeches. Most of the texts might have been snatched from the offices of the National Lampoon.

The Republican self-burlesque was great fun; taken in small doses, their show was the more entertaining. However, I confess to punching my TV's off button as Rocky mounted the rostrum. His performances are strictly Captain Kangaroo and, besides, Nelson's voice could scale a fish.

I did watch Reagan's pitch. His velvet voice and cool self-assurance were extremely impressive. But, alas, the handsome ex-actor was thrown over by his fickle public for a stumbling, dough-faced ex-football player. The Goddess of Democracy can be cruel.

At least we don't have to fret over our national dignity. After all, Jerry Ford never starred in Bedtime for Bonzo or made himself ridiculous by wooing the Cattle Queen of Montana. On the other hand, we may have to suffer the grave misfortune of four more years of Henry Kissinger.

Actually, it is Carter who sort of interests me. On the surface, he is a big smile-face "art" poster (you know, those round, yellow things bearing the message, "Have a Nice Day"). Yet there is more to Carter than his bland public persona. His somnolent delivery obscures his driving ambition, although we catch an occasional glimpse of a querulous sorehead. Some of those who know him best say he's the ultimate poor sport, one given to spooky temper tantrums.

Carter got where he is now by flushing the "real" Carter out of anyone's guess.

In any event, Carter seems to have certain voting blocs locked up:

1) Women: passivity and dependence are two hallmarks of our increasingly effeminate society. Carter is not particularly controversial (yet) and has a nice smile; he does not project a strikingly male personality. In his navy photos, Carter looks every inch a capon. He threatens no one. His never-ending talk of "luv" and momma really gets to the females.

2) Blacks: although they now generally vote Democratic in Presidential elections anyway, this latter-day scalawag's embrace of Martin Luther King, Sr., helped allay certain Black fears.

3) Religious cranks: this overlooked American subculture and underrated voting bloc deserves closer study. Tom Wolfe's provocative article, "The 'ME' Decade and the Third Great Awakening" (New York magazine, August 23, 1976), deals briefly with Carter's appeal to "born again" believers. Perhaps the most revealing Carter study was authored by Jimmy's faith-healing sister, Ruth Carter Stapleton (The Gift of Inner Healing, Word Books, $4.95). I'm on dangerous ground here, and I know it. But I insist that Mrs. Stapleton's idiosyncratic outpourings tell us something valuable about this group of voters.

4) Those justifiably fed up with the Washington gang: a fair percentage of the population who are, once again, being tragically misled. Their interests would be better served by a boycott of the voting booth.

Will this sweet-talking cipher go all the way in November? That is difficult to predict at the present time. (I'll have more to say about him later.) One thing is certain: if Ford and Carter are the best the System has to offer, the American people are in serious trouble.

Would you like
us to mail copies of this ATTACK!
to your friends?

Send us your list of names and enclose payment of 50c per name to cover postage and costs.

Be sure to include correct Zip Code with all addresses.

Special Rate
for bulk orders
of ATTACK!
back issues
only 4¢ each including all shipping charges. Minimum order 100 copies. Use these as giveaways to wake up your community.

National Alliance
Box 3535, Washington, DC 20007

"No Conspiracy," Media Masters Claim

The July/August issue of MORE, a five-year-old New York publication which bills itself as "the media magazine," carried a long article titled "Does a Zionist Conspiracy Control the Media?" The article, after posing the question already answered affirmatively by former Vice President Spiro Agnew, arrives at a conclusion rather different from Agnew's. A great deal of fascinating information is divulged along the way.

After first admitting somewhat bashfully that, well, yes, there are an awful lot of Jews in the news media — in fact, the media are positively lousy with them — the article goes on to argue that this staggering preponderance of Jews really doesn't mean anything, because: 1) most media Jews are not all that Jewey, and 2) they hate each other's guts.

In support of the first argument, it is pointed out that the tendency among media Jews is assimilationist rather than Zionist. A number of them are name-changers: for example, CBS chairman William Paley (Palinsky) and New York Times editor John Oakes (Ochs). Some married non-Jewish spouses: for example, Washington Post owner Katherine Graham (nee Meyer). And some claim they wouldn't be caught dead inside a synagogue: for example, New Yorker publisher Peter Fleishmann.

Some media Jews are so assimilationist-minded they are even anti-Zionist. In support of this contention MORE lists the New York Times as an anti-Zionist newspaper!

Media Jews don't like each other, claims MORE, for several reasons, the most important of which is simple social snobbery. "Old line" Jews from Germany

Unlikely Conspirators: 25 Jews In The News

Henry Grunwald
Managing Editor
Time

William Shawn
Editor-In-Chief
New Yorker

Jann Wenner
Editor/Founder
Rolling Stone

Barbara Walters
Co-anchorman
ABC News

Ron Nessen
Presidential Press Secretary

Joseph Kraft
Syndicated Newspaper
Columnist

Lawrence Grossman
President
Public Broadcasting Service

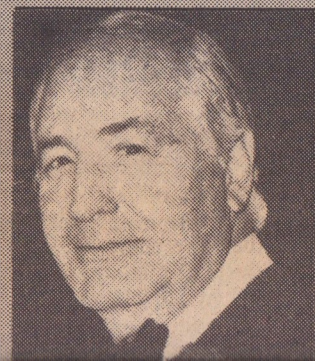

Dorothy Schiff
Publisher
New York Post

S.I. Newhouse
Publisher
Newhouse Newspapers

Howard Simons
Managing Editor
Washington Post

an awful lot of Jews in the news media — in fact, the media are positively lousy with them — the article goes on to argue that this staggering preponderance of Jews really doesn't mean anything, because: 1) most media Jews are not all that Jewey, and 2) they hate each other's guts.

In support of the first argument, it is pointed out that the tendency among media Jews is assimilationist rather than Zionist. A number of them are name-changers: for example, CBS chairman William Paley (Palinsky) and New York Times editor John Oakes (Ochs). Some married non-Jewish spouses: for example, Washington Post owner Katherine Graham (nee Meyer). And some claim they wouldn't be caught dead inside a synagogue: for example, New Yorker publisher Peter Fleishmann.

Some media Jews are so assimilationist-minded they are even anti-Zionist. In support of this contention MORE lists the New York Times as an anti-Zionist newspaper!

Media Jews don't like each other, claims MORE, for several reasons, the most important of which is simple social snobbery. "Old line" Jews from Germany (New York Post owner and publisher Dorothy Schiff) look down their noses at more recently immigrated Jews from Poland and Russia (Paley, Sarnoff, Newhouse), whom they consider "too pushy." The Schiffs referred to late RCA chairman David Sarnoff as "that Russian radio man."

Thus, the article lamely concludes, the idea that the Jews who control America's mass media could form any sort of "cabal" or "conspiracy" is preposterous. The overwhelming Jewish preponderance in the media is simply a coincidence and certainly nothing for the Gentile public to become excited about.

On the other hand, MORE laments, all too many Americans may not see it that way, and the Jewish media masters are plainly worried by Agnew's recent

Henry Grunwald Managing Editor Time	William Shawn Editor-In-Chief New Yorker	Jann Wenner Editor/Founder Rolling Stone	Barbara Walters Co-anchorperson ABC News	Ron Nessen Presidential Press Secretary

Joseph Kraft Syndicated Newspaper Columnist	Lawrence Grossman President Public Broadcasting Service	Dorothy Schiff Publisher New York Post	S.I. Newhouse Publisher Newhouse Newspapers	Howard Simons Managing Editor Washington Post

Walter Annenberg Publisher TV Guide	R. Peter Straus President WMCA	Jack Rosenthal Associate Editor New York Times	William Safire Columnist New York Times	Marvin Stone Editor U.S. News and World Report

Max Frankel Editorial Page Editor-Designate New York Times	Richard Wald President NBC News	Lee Eisenberg Editor Esquire	Irving Kristol Editor The Public Interest	Robert Sarnoff Broadcasting consultant RCA and NBC

some claim they wouldn't be caught dead inside a synagogue: for example, New Yorker publisher Peter Fleishmann.

Some media Jews are so assimilationist-minded they are even anti-Zionist. In support of this contention MORE lists the New York Times as an anti-Zionist newspaper!

Media Jews don't like each other, claims MORE, for several reasons, the most important of which is simple social snobbery. "Old line" Jews from Germany (New York Post owner and publisher Dorothy Schiff) look down their noses at more recently immigrated Jews from Poland and Russia (Paley, Sarnoff, Newhouse), whom they consider "too pushy." The Schiffs referred to late RCA chairman David Sarnoff as "that Russian radio man."

Thus, the article lamely concludes, the idea that the Jews who control America's mass media could form any sort of "cabal" or "conspiracy" is preposterous. The overwhelming Jewish preponderance in the media is simply a coincidence and certainly nothing for the Gentile public to become excited about.

On the other hand, MORE laments, all too many Americans may not see it that way, and the Jewish media masters are plainly worried by Agnew's recent charges: "The reaction among Jews in the media seems to be one of deep uneasiness, coupled with resentment and a kind of fear."

Oh, and, by the way, the editor and publisher of MORE is Michael Kramer; the associate publisher is Arthur Sachs; the executive editor is Ron Rosenbaum; the managing editor is Claudia Cohen; the associate editor is Richard Pollak; the two senior editors are Philip Nobile (?) and David Rubin; and the business manager is Ann Epstein. That's obviously just a coincidence too.

Walter Annenberg Publisher TV Guide	R. Peter Straus President WMCA	Jack Rosenthal Associate Editor New York Times	William Safire Columnist New York Times	Marvin Stone Editor U.S. News and World Report

Max Frankel Editorial Page Editor-Designate New York Times	Richard Wald President NBC News	Lee Eisenberg Editor Esquire	Irving Kristol Editor The Public Interest	Robert Sarnoff Broadcasting consultant RCA and NBC

Anthony Lewis Columnist New York Times	Edward Kosner Editor Newsweek	David Broder Political Columnist Washington Post	Thomas B. Morgan Editor The Village Voice	A.M. Rosenthal Managing Editor New York Times

STRAIGHT from the horse's mouth. This compilation of 25 prominent Jews in the news media, complete with photographs, came from the July/August issue of MORE, a media-oriented magazine with an all-Jewish management. MORE was trying to prove that the news media are not controlled by a Zionist conspiracy, but it pretty well proved just the opposite.

Special Feature

The Secret Origins of World War I

Zionist Control of U.S. Foreign Policy Goes Back More Than 60 Years

As America approaches another Presidential election, the candidates of both major parties are attempting to convince the voters that they are, above all else, men of peace. Even the Republican incumbent, Gerald Ford, is unabashedly advertising his credentials as a "peacemaker," despite the fact that his secretary of state, Henry Kissinger, is feverishly shuttling about the globe, stirring up Black terrorism in southern Africa and laying the groundwork for yet another war in the Middle East — a war into which America, with its team of "observers" now sandwiched directly between the opposing forces, will almost certainly be dragged. The scenario is uncomfortably reminiscent of another one, 60 years ago.

Then the incumbent was a Democrat, Woodrow Wilson, and his "Kissinger" was another Zionist, Louis D. Brandeis. Just as Ford is doing now, Wilson was assuring the American people that he intended to keep America at peace. That was an issue of especial concern to the voters in 1916, because of the war then raging in Europe. But there were other similarities between the situation then and today — less obvious, hidden similarities. We desperately need to discover and understand these, so that we can draw the proper conclusions about our present situation. Then we can take steps to drag into the open the secret makers of war, the alien creatures who use us by the millions as cannon fodder whenever it suits their grandiose schemes of world domination, which they arrogantly view as the "fulfillment of prophecy." But first we need to review the known historical facts about World War I.

The whole business started, so the story goes, when the fanatic Serbian nationalist, Gavrilo Princip, murdered the Austrian archduke, Franz Ferdinand, at Sarajevo on June 28, 1914. Austria then angrily issued an ultimatum to the Serbian government, and when its conditions were not met to the satisfaction of Austria she sent troops into the small Balkan kingdom to enforce her demands.

Russia, having previously threatened to do so in such an event, immediately mobilized her army against Austria. Germany, Austria's ally, was compelled to respond against Russia, and this immediately involved France.

Germany's violation of Belgian neutrality as she moved her troops across Belgium to France was the only excuse England needed. She declared war against Germany on August 4, 1914.

As the conflagration spread across Europe, one country after another joined combat: Montenegro, Japan, Italy, Rumania, Greece, and Portugal on the French-Russian side (Allied Powers), and Turkey and Bulgaria on the side of Germany and Austria-Hungary (Central Powers).

After initial, rapid success in which the right flank of the German army pushed through northern France almost to Paris, a

THE WAR MAKERS: President Woodrow Wilson [right] mouthed liberal platitudes and strutted on the public stage as a high-minded "man of peace." But Wilson was actually only a vain and weak-willed puppet, and the strings were manipulated from behind the stage by Louis Dembitz Brandeis [left], a Zionist leader appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court by Wilson in 1916. Brandeis avoided the political spotlight but remained Wilson's closest "adviser" throughout the latter's two terms as President.

1916 Stalemate

In the east, the events followed an opposite sequence. At first the Russian army pushed forward. Then at the battle of Tannenberg, in East Prussia, von Hindenburg decisively defeated the Russians. This battle took place at the end of August, 1914, and although the Russians continued to advance during the next few months, the tide was already beginning to turn trenches in France and Belgium, zig-zagging across Europe from Switzerland to the Channel.

For two years the men in the trenches carried on the mutual slaughter without major changes in the scheme of things. Attacks and counterattacks were launched now and then, usually accompanied by frightful losses.

In the fall of 1916 the state of affairs was this: Germany had forced an offensive stalemate in rejected the German peace offer. The United States declared war on Germany on April 6, 1917.

On the eastern front the war continued to go in Germany's favor, and finally Russia, disrupted by the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, sued for peace with Germany and dropped out of the war in December of that year. The treaty of Brest Litovsk was signed between Russia and the Central Powers on March 3, 1918.

"observers" now sandwiched directly between the opposing forces, will almost certainly be dragged. The scenario is uncomfortably reminiscent of another one, 60 years ago.

Then the incumbent was a Democrat, Woodrow Wilson, and his "Kissinger" was another Zionist, Louis D. Brandeis. Just as Ford is doing now, Wilson was assuring the American people that he intended to keep America at peace. That was an issue of especial concern to the voters in 1916, because of the war then raging in Europe. But there were other similarities between the situation then and today — less obvious, hidden similarities. We desperately need to discover and understand these, so that we can draw the proper conclusions about our present situation. Then we can take steps to drag into the open the secret makers of war, the alien creatures who use us by the millions as cannon fodder whenever it suits their grandiose schemes of world domination, which they arrogantly view as the "fulfillment of prophecy." But first we need to review the known historical facts about World War I.

The whole business started, so the story goes, when the fanatic Serbian nationalist, Gavrilo Princip, murdered the Austrian archduke, Franz Ferdinand, at Sarajevo on June 28, 1914. Austria then angrily issued an ultimatum to the Serbian government, and when its conditions were not met to the satisfaction of Austria she sent troops into the small Balkan kingdom to enforce her demands.

Russia, having previously threatened to do so in such an event, immediately mobilized her army against Austria. Germany, Austria's ally, was compelled to respond against Russia, and this immediately involved France, Russia's ally. The German-Austrian alliance and the French-Russian alliance thus both came into play at the same time, dragging these four nations into open conflict.

Germany's violation of Belgian neutrality as she moved her troops across Belgium to France was the only excuse England needed. She declared war against Germany on August 4, 1914.

As the conflagration spread across Europe, one country after another joined combat: Montenegro, Japan, Italy, Rumania, Greece, and Portugal on the French-Russian side (Allied Powers), and Turkey and Bulgaria on the side of Germany and Austria-Hungary (Central Powers).

After initial, rapid success in which the right flank of the German army pushed through northern France almost to Paris, a strong French counterattack early in September 1914 drove the Germans from the Marne back to the Aisne. Here the German army dug itself in, and the more-or-less static era of trench warfare began.

THE WAR MAKERS: President Woodrow Wilson [right] mouthed liberal platitudes and strutted on the public stage as a high-minded "man of peace." But Wilson was actually only a vain and weak-willed puppet, and the strings were manipulated from behind the stage by Louis Dembitz Brandeis (left), a Zionist leader appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court by Wilson in 1916. Brandeis avoided the political spotlight but remained Wilson's closest "adviser" throughout the latter's two terms as President.

1916 Stalemate

In the east, the events followed an opposite sequence. At first the Russian army pushed forward. Then at the battle of Tannenberg, in East Prussia, von Hindenburg decisively defeated the Russians. This battle took place at the end of August, 1914, and although the Russians continued to advance during the next few months, the tide was already beginning to turn in favor of the Germans.

Minor campaigns were launched in other areas — Persia and Greece, for instance — but the principal contest remained that between the opposing lines of trenches in France and Belgium, zig-zagging across Europe from Switzerland to the Channel.

For two years the men in the trenches carried on the mutual slaughter without major changes in the scheme of things. Attacks and counterattacks were launched now and then, usually accompanied by frightful losses.

In the fall of 1916 the state of affairs was this: Germany had forced an effective stalemate in the trench warfare in the west, and her submarine activity against England was becoming increasingly uncomfortable for that country. Furthermore, Russian resistance was crumbling on the eastern front, so that Germany could look forward shortly to concentrating all her efforts on the western front.

Wilson Switches

England could see no way out of her predicament without enlisting the full-scale aid of the United States, but she had had no success in her efforts in that direction. Public opinion in America was firmly set against involvement in the war. Woodrow Wilson was, in fact, running for reelection as President of the United States on his pledge not to involve America rejected the German peace offer. The United States declared war on Germany on April 6, 1917.

On the eastern front the war continued to go in Germany's favor, and finally Russia, disrupted by the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, sued for peace with Germany and dropped out of the war in December of that year. The treaty of Brest Litovsk was signed between Russia and the Central Powers on March 3, 1918.

Germany Betrayed

Germany, her armies freed from the war in the east, turned her full attention to the western front. Despite some initial successes in France in the late spring of 1918, however, she was not able to maintain her advantage, for two reasons. One was the rapidly increasing reinforcement of the sagging Allied strength in the west by the United States. The other, and a more serious one, was internal disorder in Germany — strikes and industrial sabotage, mutinies, growing revolutionary agitation — which had been plaguing her ever since Russia's collapse.

Finally, on November 7, Marxists instigated a severe naval mutiny at Kiel, followed on the Sarajevo on June 28, 1914. Austria then angrily issued an ultimatum to the Serbian government, and when its conditions were not met to the satisfaction of Austria she sent troops into the small Balkan kingdom to enforce her demands.

Russia, having previously threatened to do so in such an event, immediately mobilized her army against Austria. Germany, Austria's ally, was compelled to respond against Russia, and this immediately involved France, Russia's ally. The German-Austrian alliance and the French-Russian alliance thus both came into play at the same time, dragging these four nations into open conflict.

declared war against Germany on August 4, 1914. As the conflagration spread across Europe, one country after another joined combat: Montenegro, Japan, Italy, Rumania, Greece, and Portugal on the French-Russian side (Allied Powers), and Turkey and Bulgaria on the side of Germany and Austria-Hungary (Central Powers).

After initial, rapid success in which the right flank of the German army pushed through northern France almost to Paris, a strong French counterattack early in September 1914 drove the Germans from the Marne back to the Aisne. Here the German army dug itself in, and the more-or-less static era of trench warfare began.

appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court in 1916. Brandeis avoided the political spotlight but remained Wilson's closest "adviser" throughout the latter's two terms as President.

1916 Stalemate

In the east, the events followed an opposite sequence. At first the Russian army pushed forward. Then at the battle of Tannenberg, in East Prussia, von Hindenburg decisively defeated the Russians. This battle took place at the end of August, 1914, and although the Russians continued to advance during the next few months, the tide was already beginning to turn in favor of the Germans.

Minor campaigns were launched in other areas — Persia and Greece, for instance — but the principal contest remained that between the opposing lines of trenches in France and Belgium, zig-zagging across Europe from Switzerland to the Channel.

For two years the men in the trenches carried on the mutual slaughter without major changes in the scheme of things. Attacks and counterattacks were launched now and then, usually accompanied by frightful losses.

In the fall of 1916 the state of affairs was this: Germany had forced an effective stalemate in the trench warfare in the west, and her submarine activity against England was becoming increasingly uncomfortable for that country. Furthermore, Russian resistance was crumbling on the eastern front, so that Germany could look forward shortly to concentrating all her efforts on the western front.

Wilson Switches

England could see no way out of her predicament without enlisting the full-scale aid of the United States, but she had had no success in her efforts in that direction. Public opinion in America was firmly set against involvement in the war. Woodrow Wilson was, in fact, running for reelection as President of the United States on his pledge not to involve America in the European war. The campaign slogan of his supporters was: "He kept us out of war."

With generally favorable prospects Germany then proposed an end to the slaughter in her compromise peace offer to England of December 12, 1916. At just about this time, however — that is, immediately after his reelection — Wilson switched his stand, along with the major portion of the press of the United States, from one of non-intervention to one favoring war against Germany.

Encouraged by the prospect of American intervention, England

rejected the German peace offer. The United States declared war on Germany on April 6, 1917.

On the eastern front the war continued to go in Germany's favor, and finally Russia, disrupted by the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, sued for peace with Germany and dropped out of the war in December of that year. The treaty of Brest Litovsk was signed between Russia and the Central Powers on March 3, 1918.

Germany Betrayed

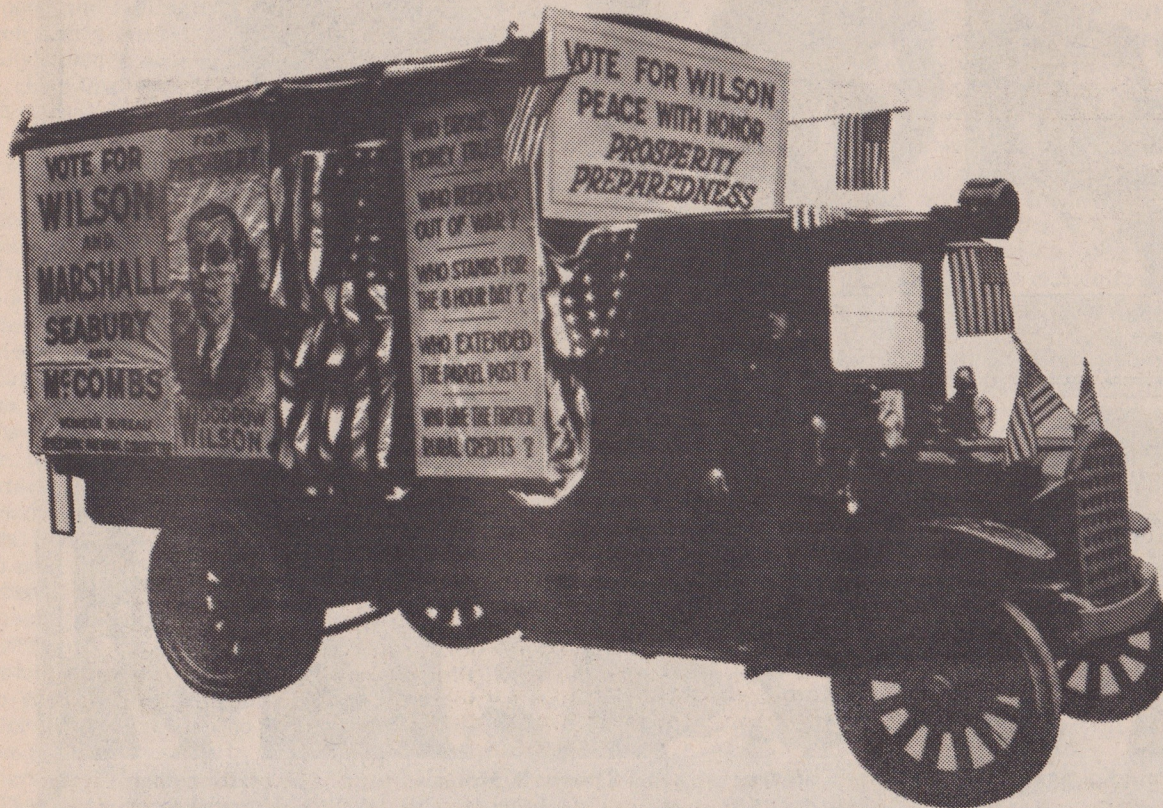

Germany, her armies freed from the war in the east, turned her full attention to the western front. Despite some initial successes in France in the late spring of 1918, however, she was not able to maintain her advantage, for two reasons. One was the rapidly increasing reinforcement of the sagging Allied strength in the west by the United States. The other, and a more serious one, was internal disorder in Germany — strikes and industrial sabotage, mutinies, growing revolutionary agitation — which had been plaguing her ever since Russia's collapse.

Finally, on November 7, Marxists instigated a severe naval mutiny at Kiel, followed on the next day by open communist revolution in Bavaria. On November 9 the German government collapsed, and Emperor William II fled to Holland. It was all over two days later, with the armistice signed at Compiegne.

Genetic Catastrophe

More than eight million combatants — the flower of European manhood, the elite of a whole generation — had been butchered in a little over four years. In addition, twenty-one million young men were maimed, crippled.

See WAR, p. 13

"PEACE WITH HONOR" — It fooled 'em in 1916, and it fooled 'em again in 1972. And it was just as much a lie when Brandeis and Wilson used it as it was when Kissinger and Nixon used it. The American suckers never have figured out why it is that they are always made to fight wars that they shouldn't and kept from fighting those they should. Nor do they understand just whose interests American foreign policy has been serving all these years, but they know it isn't theirs.

Jewish 'Fifth Column' Hit Russia in 1917, Germany in 1918, U.S.A. During Viet War

WAR, from p. 12

pled, and wounded, many doomed to spend the rest of their lives without arms or legs or eyes. Tens of thousands were victims of "shell shock" and would wake up screaming from nightmares night after night, year after year, in veteran's hospitals in Europe and England and America. And large areas of Europe lay in smouldering ruin, the countryside devastated and the crops and livestock destroyed.

Revolution was rampant and began taking its bloody toll in Hungary, Germany, the Baltic States, and elsewhere, as well as in Russia, where the millions murdered in 1918 and 1919 were only the beginning of the grisly program to make Russia safe for Marxism and its promoters.

But the immediate and stunning tragedy remained the irrevocable loss of eight million White warriors — the bravest and best of our race, many too young to have yet become fathers. The consequence of this genetic catastrophe will be with us for many generations to come.

Cover-up

Considering the magnitude of this tragedy, we must certainly all agree on the importance of a thorough understanding of just how it came about, with the hope that its history, diligently studied, will teach us something of value. This possibility was eliminated from the beginning, however, by the conscious and deliberate falsification of everything connected with the war which was taught in our schools, published in our press, and told us by our governments.

Of the accounts of the war given in school history texts and in mass-distribution books for the general public, the only "facts" in more detail what was happening.

German successes against Russia were being made a great deal easier by the large-scale internal subversion being carried out in that country by the Jews, in preparation for the Bolshevik Revolution which was shortly to break out there. (See "Jews, the USSR, and Communism," in ATTACK! No. 43.) This preparatory work involved revolutionary agitation among the Russian troops in the trenches as well as among the industrial workers in the factories. Leaflets were distributed even among front-line troops, openly preaching revolution and urging them to lay down their weapons and to refuse to obey their officers. Shirkers were encouraged to desert, and the criminal elements in the army were incited against their officers.

The Jewish campaign in Russia was similar in many respects to the much more recent one of the Jews in America during the Vietnam war, but was waged on an even larger scale and with far more disastrous consequences.

The Bolsheviks were able to fan the general discontent they had stirred up among the Russian soldiers into wholesale mutiny and desertion in 1917 and, within a few more months, into the complete disintegration of the once-proud Russian army. By the early part of 1918 it had degenerated into a disorganized rabble which butchered its officers en masse.

The Trotsky Affair

One very significant episode should be recalled here. Many of the Bolshevik leaders were in exile outside Russia during the first part of the war. As soon as news

See WAR, p. 14

AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS

March 7, 1919

Largest Paid Circulation in the World of Any English-Jewish Weekly

5 Cents

"The War is Imminent"

Theodore Herzl's Prophecy of the Great War (From My Siberian Diary)

By LITMAN ROSENTHAL

Litman Rosenthal, one of the pioneers of the Zionist movement, was a political prisoner in Siberia when the following article, which forms a part of a diary, was written. It is a striking proof of the wonderful political intuition of Dr. Herzl who, even at the time of the first Zionist Congress in Basle, foretold the climax of the European diplomatic game.

Mr. Rosenthal escaped from Siberia soon after the war began and is now in New York. His remarkable reminiscences of Herzl and other famous leaders of Zionism will appear in early issues of the AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS.—EDITOR.

IT is now the third day since they brought me here to Kuznetzk from the Moscow jail. I have been ill in bed. I was taken here in an open sleigh when the temperature was at Kings" Hotel—an hotel that has no Zionists.

We were sitting

SEPTEMBER 19, 1919

Largest Paid Circulation of any English-Jewish Weekly

THE AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS

WHEN PROPHETS SPEAK

Europe and America. And large areas of Europe lay in smoldering ruin, the countryside devastated and the crops and livestock destroyed.

Revolution was rampant and began taking its bloody toll in Hungary, Germany, the Baltic States, and elsewhere, as well as in Russia, where the millions murdered in 1918 and 1919 were only the beginning of the grisly program to make Russia safe for Marxism and its promoters.

But the immediate and stunning tragedy remained the irrevocable loss of eight million White warriors — the bravest and best of our race, many too young to have yet become fathers. The consequence of this genetic catastrophe will be with us for many generations to come.

Cover-up

Considering the magnitude of this tragedy, we must certainly all agree on the importance of a thorough understanding of just how it came about, with the hope that its history, diligently studied, will teach us something of value. This possibility was eliminated from the beginning, however, by the conscious and deliberate falsification of everything connected with the war which was taught in our schools, published in our press, and told us by our governments.

Of the accounts of the war given in school history texts and in mass-distribution books for the general public, the only "facts" in which the reader may safely put his confidence are the dates and general locations of the principal battles and the identification of the forces engaged on either side. The really vital information — information which might tell us why and how — has been thoroughly suppressed, and deliberately misleading lies have been substituted.

A fact of absolutely fundamental importance which has been suppressed is that the Zionists of Europe and America — a group with wealth and political influence vastly disproportionate to their numbers

USSR, and Communism, in ATTACK! No. 43.) This preparatory work involved revolutionary agitation among the Russian criminal elements in the army were incited against their officers.

The Jewish campaign in Russia was similar in many respects to and desertion in 1917 and, within a few more months, into the complete disintegration of the once-proud Russian army. By the

the Bolshevik leaders were in exile outside Russia during the first part of the war. As soon as news See WAR, p. 14

AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS

March 7, 1919

Largest Paid Circulation in the World
of Any English-Jewish Weekly

5 Cents

ne continued he was. They knew as well as the resources that it would have been aged.

"The War is Imminent"

Theodore Herzl's Prophecy of the Great War (From My Siberian Diary)

By LITMAN ROSENTHAL

Litman Rosenthal, one of the pioneers of the Zionist movement, was a political prisoner in Siberia when the following article, which forms a part of a diary, was written. It is a striking proof of the wonderful political intuition of Dr. Herzl who, even at the time of the first Zionist Congress in Basle, foretold the climax of the European diplomatic game.

Mr. Rosenthal escaped from Siberia soon after the war began and is now in New York. His remarkable reminiscences of Herzl and other famous leaders of Zionism will appear in early issues of the AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS.—EDITOR and yet more warm, we bring to him."

IT is now the third day since they brought me here to Kuznetzk from the Moscow jail. I have been ill in bed. I was taken here in an open sleigh when the temperature was at

And so speaking, Herzl revealed what great prospects there lay before us and before Turkey. His eyes shone like the sun. In the enthusiasm for his plans he outgrew his stature and seemed taller than he was.

The Great War Is Imminent

For some moments he remained silent, then he continued: "It may be that Turkey will refuse or will be unable to understand us. This will not discourage us. We will seek other means to accomplish our end. The Orient question is now a question of the day. Sooner or later it will bring about a conflict among the nations. A European War is imminent."

I allowed myself an ironic smile at Herzl's last words. He turned to me with his magic glance.

"I see you smile," he said. "You are skeptical of what I have told you. The great European War must come. With my watch in hand do I await this terrible moment. After the great European war is ended the Peace Conference will assemble. We must be ready for that time. We will assuredly be called to this great conference of the nations and we must Kings" Hotel—an hotel that has no Zionists.

We were sitting

SEPTEMBER 19, 1919

Largest Paid Circulation of any English-Jewish Weekly

THE AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS

WHEN PROPHETS SPEAK

By Litman Rosenthal

statements in the Zionist idea, but he even arranged that the English government together with the Zionists send an expedition to El-Arish to establish there, near the mountain of Sinai, on the borderline of Palestine, a Jewish colony. Because of certain secret causes this plan did not materialize, but the principal aim of Herzl, the aim to win the sympathy and the interest of England—this aim he achieved.

Now this great progressive world-power, England, has after the pogroms of Kishineff, in token of her sympathy with our poor people, offered through the Zionist Congress the autonomous colony of Uganda to the Jewish nation. Of course, Uganda is in Africa, and Africa is not Zion and never will be Zion, to quote Herzl's own words. But Herzl knows full well that nothing is so valuable to the cause of Zionism as amicable political relations with such a power as England is, and so much more valuable as England's main interest is concentrated in the Orient. Nowhere else is precedent as powerful as in England, and so it is most important to accept a colony out of the hands of England and create thus a precedent in our favor. Sooner or later the oriental question will have to be solved, and the oriental question means, naturally, also the question of Palestine. England, who had addressed a formal, political note to the Zionist Congress—the Zionist Congress which is pledged to the Basle program, England thorough understanding of just how it came about, with the hope that its history, diligently studied, will teach us something of value. This possibility was eliminated from the beginning, however, by the conscious and deliberate falsification of everything connected with the war which was taught in our schools, published in our press, and told us by our governments.

Of the accounts of the war given in school history texts and in mass-distribution books for the general public, the only "facts" in which the reader may safely put his confidence are the dates and general locations of the principal battles and the identification of the forces engaged on either side. The really vital information — information which might tell us why and how — has been thoroughly suppressed, and deliberately misleading lies have been substituted.

A fact of absolutely fundamental importance which has been suppressed is that the Zionists of Europe and America — a group with wealth and political influence vastly disproportionate to their numbers — as an essential step in their program for gaining Palestine for world Jewry, were eagerly anticipating a world war for many years before its actual outbreak in 1914. They talked about it in their meetings and congresses and arrogantly reported their deliberations later in their newspapers, not only those printed in Hebrew, but also those printed in English, German, and other Gentile languages. But that is a whole subject in itself, and we are interested here only in the Zionist role in bringing the United States into the war, thus prolonging it for nearly two years, with catastrophic consequences for Europe and its inhabitants.

Jews at Work

Returning to that critical autumn of 1916, let us examine in

By LITMAN ROSENTHAL

Litman Rosenthal, one of the pioneers of the Zionist movement, was a political prisoner in Siberia when the following article, which forms a part of a diary, was written. It is a striking proof of the wonderful political intuition of Dr. Herzl who, even at the time of the first Zionist Congress in Basel, foretold the climax of the European diplomatic game.

Mr. Rosenthal escaped from Siberia soon after the war began and is now in New York. His remarkable reminiscences of Herzl and other famous leaders of Zionism will appear in early issues of the AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS.—EDITOR.

IT is now the third day since they brought me here to Kuznetzk from the Moscow jail. I have been ill in bed. I was taken here in an open sleigh when the temperature was at um yet more was being to him." And so speaking, Herzl revealed what great prospects there lay before us and before Turkey. His eyes shone like the sun. In the enthusiasm for his plans he outgrew his stature and seemed taller than he was.

The Great War Is Imminent

For some moments he remained silent, then he continued: "It may be that Turkey will refuse or will be unable to understand us. This will not discourage us. We will seek other means to accomplish our end. The Orient question is now a question of the day. Sooner or later it will bring about a conflict among the nations. A European War is imminent."

I allowed myself an ironic smile at Herzl's last words. He turned to me with his magic glance.

"I see you smile," he said. "You are skeptical of what I have told you. The great European War must come. With my watch in hand do I await this terrible moment. After the great European war is ended the Peace Conference will assemble. We must be ready for that time. We will assuredly be called to this great conference of the nations and we must prove to them the urgent importance of a Zionist solution of the Jewish Question. We must prove to them that the problem of the Orient and Palestine is one with the problem of the Jews—both must be solved together. We must prove to them that the Jewish problem is a world problem and that a world problem must be solved by the world. And the solution must be the return of Palestine to the Jewish People."

These words of Dr. Herzl I will never forget. Seventeen years have now passed since those words were spoken and the great moment has come. The watch in Herzl's hand has reached the expected hour.

Will those who now represent us be able to use this great moment in the interests of our people? I would like to believe that they will, but doubts assail me. Sitting here, amid the snow and ice of Siberia, far away from my brothers, I remember that summer day on the banks of the Rhine when the great prophet foretold our future and, remembering that scene, the tears well into my eyes.

Kuznetzk, Siberia, December 15, 1914.

THESE PHOTOGRAPHIC reproductions from the American Jewish News tell the story of Zionist plans for World War I which were hatched at a series of Zionist congresses in Basel, Switzerland, between 1897 and 1903. Litman Rosenthal was a delegate at the congresses. The excerpt from his diaries on the left was published on March 7, 1919, and recalls a conversation between Rosenthal and the Zionist leader Theodore Herzl which took place in 1897, at the First Zionist Congress. At that Kings' Hotel—an hotel that has now been destroyed by the Zionists.

We were sitting

SEPTEMBER 19, 1919

Largest Paid Circulation of any English

THE AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS

WHEN PROPHETS SPEAK

By Litman Rosenthal

statements in the Zionist idea, but he even arranged that the English government together with the Zionists send an expedition to El-Arish to establish there, near the mountain of Sinai, on the borderline of Palestine, a Jewish colony. Because of certain secret causes this plan did not materialize, but the principal aim of Herzl, the aim to win the sympathy and the interest of England—this aim he achieved.

Now this great progressive world-power, England, has after the pogroms of Kishineff, in token of her sympathy with our poor people, offered through the Zionist Congress the autonomous colony of Uganda to the Jewish nation. Of course, Uganda is in Africa, and Africa is not Zion and never will be Zion, to quote Herzl's own words. But Herzl knows full well that nothing is so valuable to the cause of Zionism as amicable political relations with such a power as England is, and so much more valuable as England's main interest is concentrated in the Orient. Nowhere else is precedent as powerful as in England, and so it is most important to accept a colony out of the hands of England and create thus a precedent in our favor. Sooner or later the oriental question will have to be solved, and the oriental question means, naturally, also the question of Palestine. England, who had addressed a formal, political note to the Zionist Congress—the Zionist Congress which is pledged to the Basel program, England will have the deciding voice in the final solution of the oriental question, and Herzl has considered it his duty to maintain valuable relations with this great and progressive power. Herzl knows that we stand before a tremendous upheaval of the whole world. Soon, perhaps, some kind of a world-congress will have to be called, and England, the great, free and powerful England, will then continue the work it has begun with its generous offer to the Sixth Congress. And if you ask me now what has Israel to do in Uganda, then let me tell you as the answer the words of the statesmen of Sardinia, only applied to our case and given in our version: let me tell you the following words as if I were showing you the rungs of a ladder leading upward and upward: Herzl, the Zionist Congress, the English Uganda proposition, the future world war, the peace conference where with the help of England a free and Jewish Palestine will be created."

Like a mighty thunder these last words came to us, and we all were trembling and awestruck as if we had seen a vision of old. And in my ears were sounding the words of our great brother Achad Haam, who said of Nordau's address at the First Congress:

"I felt that one of the great old prophets was speaking to us, that his voice came down from the free hills of Judea, and our hearts were burning in us when we heard his words, filled with wonder, wisdom and vision."

time, 17 years before the actual outbreak of war, Herzl was saying: "The great European War must come. With my watch in hand do I await this terrible moment." The excerpt on the right is from a report on the Sixth Zionist Congress, which was held in 1903. It was published in the same newspaper on September 19, 1919, and relates once again Herzl's enunciation of plans for Zionists to capitalize on "the future world war."

Zionist-British Deal: Swap Jewish Political, Media Influence in U.S. for Palestine

WAR, from p. 13

reached them of the first revolutionary successes of their cohorts still in Russia, they began to return. Lenin (Ulyanov) and many of his associates who had been carrying on their propaganda agitation from the safety of Switzerland were provided by the German government with a special sealed train which carried them across Germany on the first leg of their return trip to Russia, very early in the spring of 1917.

Another Bolshevik group in exile, whose most prominent member was Trotsky (Bronstein), left New York on March 27 by ship. Their trip was interrupted for more than three weeks, however, when British authorities removed them from their ship when it made a stop at Halifax, Nova Scotia, on April 3. An indignant scream of protest went up from Jews around the world at the "outrage," and the British government ordered the authorities at Halifax to let Trotsky et alia continue their journey. They arrived in Russia on May 17, one month after Lenin and his crew, and immediately set to work undermining what was left of law and order in that unfortunate country.

Now, in the light of later developments, the action of the German government in aiding the return of the Bolsheviks to Russia may seem to be unwise. But the Germans were at war against Russia, and they were fighting for their very lives. Anything which would serve to weaken Russian strength could be justified in terms of the current struggle.

On the other hand, however, Britain was an ally of Russia, and her action in letting Trotsky and his kosher comrades leave Nova Scotia constituted a deliberate same reason, the Jews were in more or less unanimous support of the Kaiser — so far.

Jewish organizations helped to keep world Jewish opinion firmly polarized in this direction, not only by broadly hinting that Russia would soon be under Jewish control but by publishing blood-curdling reports of massive retaliation by the still-loyal Russian troops against those Jews who fell into their hands.

The Deal

The situation was a very delicate one, however, requiring careful timing. Just because it was necessary for Germany to maintain the pressure against Russia for a while yet, it was vital not only that Germany not be immediately defeated by the Allies, but it was also vital that there be no compromise settlement which might end the war too soon.

With a stalemate in the west and approaching German success in the east, England might very well be amenable to any reasonable compromise peace offer from Germany. Furthermore, there was very good reason to suspect that the Germans might make such an offer, which, in fact, she did, on December 12, 1916, as mentioned above.

Before this, however, the Jews were ready for their next move. The following document tells its own story. It is a condensed extract from Two Studies in Virtue, a book by Christopher Sykes published in London in 1953. The book is a biography of the author's father, Sir Mark Sykes, who served as an under-secretary to the British Foreign Office during World War I:

Zionism ... had come too late. He told Mr. Malcolm so at their next meeting a few days later. He said arrangements had already been concluded which made it impossible for the British government to take on any new policy in the East, and he added that this was not merely his personal opinion; he had consulted Lord Milner, he explained, and Lord Milner, like himself, found the idea of Zionism ... too radical at this late stage. ... Mr. Malcolm ... then told Sykes of a very curious and powerful influence which Zionists could exert. One of President [Woodrow] Wilson's closest advisers and friends was [Supreme Court] Justice Louis D. Brandeis, a Jew ... It was believed ... that Wilson was attached to Brandeis by ties of peculiar hardness, because, so the story ran, in his earlier days the future President had been saved by this man from appearing in a damaging law suit. It was said that Brandeis was regarded by Wilson as the man to whom he owed his career. These allegations may have been nothing but exaggerations of a known situation, but this situation unadorned was important enough; there could be no doubt that Brandeis was Wilson's intimate adviser, and Brandeis was a Zionist. It followed that ... a Zionist policy was in truth the way to capture American sympathy [for the Allies].

When Sykes heard this he was again moved to confer with Lord Milner, and the latter told the Cabinet of Malcolm's proposals and ideas. The Cabinet showed cautious interest. Their reply was that no harm could be done if Malcolm were to open talks with representative Zionists, but no promise must be made. But Malcolm was not willing to undertake such a mission. "I company of Dr. Weizmann's fellow-Zionists, mostly members of the movement's political committee in England, were assembled to see and hear the negotiator. ... The meeting was not immediately dramatic. When Mr. Malcolm had told everything which had passed between him and Sir Mark Sykes; when he had explained how Sykes had consulted Milner and George Barnes and that the Cabinet had given him a two-fold authorisation to open conversations, he was not received with much acclaim... They watched this new opening in a spirit of incredulity. ... Was Mr. Malcolm perfectly certain that he was really authorised by the British Cabinet? That he had not misunderstood? Malcolm assured him [Weizmann] of the reality of his mission. Dr. Weizmann then put the following question to him: "Are you really and personally convinced that the British Government seriously intend to promise Palestine in return for the help of leading American Jews?" Malcolm said that that was his conviction. Dr. Weizmann asked him another question: "Do you advise us to accept the British Government's offer?" "Yes," said Mr. Malcolm, "I do." Dr. Weizmann rose and shook hands with him, a minute ceremony by which he signified the entry of the Jewish leaders into the negotiation. "When can I meet Sir Mark Sykes?" he asked. Malcolm rang Sykes up then and there and arranged for a meeting at the latter's house in Buckingham Gate [No. 9] on the next day.

On the next day Dr. Weizmann was unable to go because of some appointment at the Admiralty where he held an official post [Director of the Admiralty Chemical Laboratories], and so his ed out that since they were an international body this was especially needful to them, and he suggested that they should be granted governmental privileges, since they could thus attain their object while subjecting themselves to the needs of secrecy and censorship. Sykes promised to put this to the authorities....

The next morning he [Sokolow] got what he had asked for: it was agreed that the War Office and the Foreign Office would send Zionist letters and telegrams by way of [British] Embassies, Consulates or Headquarters. ... The news was given out to Jewish communities all over the world that in return for certain services the British Government would ... satisfy the Jewish longing for Palestine...

It is amusing to note the Jew so masterfully playing the instinctive role of the pawnbroker here: "It's worth nothing; I couldn't use it," he says when presented with a particularly tantalizing tidbit, at the same time mentally computing the profit he will make on the transaction. The feigned incredulity and reluctance on the part of Weizmann and his cohorts, after their long-prepared plans for just such an event, apparently took in not only the British but their self-important go-between, Malcolm.

Press Changes Opinion

The same story related in Sykes's book is told in many other places — except, of course, in the school textbooks and history books intended for the Gentile public. Perhaps the most interesting and authoritative source is a pamphlet written in 1936 by Chaim Weizmann's secretary, Samuel Landman, himself a left New York on March 27 by ship. Their trip was interrupted for more than three weeks, however, when British authorities removed them from their ship when it made a stop at Halifax, Nova Scotia, on April 3. An indignant scream of protest went up from Jews around the world at the "outrage," and the British government ordered the authorities at Halifax to let Trotsky et alia continue their journey. They arrived in Russia on May 17, one month after Lenin and his crew, and immediately set to work undermining what was left of law and order in that unfortunate country.

Now, in the light of later developments, the action of the German government in aiding the return of the Bolsheviks to Russia may seem to be unwise. But the Germans were at war against Russia, and they were fighting for their very lives. Anything which would serve to weaken Russian strength could be justified in terms of the current struggle.

On the other hand, however, Britain was an ally of Russia, and her action in letting Trotsky and his kosher comrades leave Nova Scotia constituted a deliberate and completely indefensible act of sabotage against her own war effort.

As has already been mentioned, public opinion in the United States in the fall of 1916 was strongly non-interventionist, and this attitude was supported by Wilson's public statements and by the press, which was in predominantly Jewish hands. Jewish leaders in America, as elsewhere, were primarily interested in the success of the coming Bolshevik Revolution in Russia. An Allied victory before this revolution had succeeded would ruin their plans by giving the Russian government the chance to set its internal affairs in order at leisure.

Pressure on Russia

One of the most powerful leaders of the New York Jewish community was [Woodrow] Wilson's closest advisers and friends was [Supreme Court] Justice Louis D. Brandeis, a Jew ... It was believed ... that Wilson was attached to Brandeis by ties of peculiar hardness, because, so the story ran, in his earlier days the future President had been saved by this man from appearing in a damaging law suit. It was said that Brandeis was regarded by Wilson as the man to whom he owed his career. These allegations may have been nothing but exaggerations of a known situation, but this situation unadorned was important enough; there could be no doubt that Brandeis was Wilson's intimate adviser, and Brandeis was a Zionist. It followed that ... a Zionist policy was in truth the way to capture American sympathy [for the Allies].

With a stalemate in the west and approaching German success in the east, England might very well be amenable to any reasonable compromise peace offer from Germany. Furthermore, there was very good reason to suspect that the Germans might make such an offer, which, in fact, she did, on December 12, 1916, as mentioned above.

Before this, however, the Jews were ready for their next move. The following document tells its own story. It is a condensed extract from Two Studies in Virtue, a book by Christopher Sykes published in London in 1953. The book is a biography of the author's father, Sir Mark Sykes, who served as an under-secretary to the British Foreign Office during World War I:

The office of the Assistant Secretaries [to the British Cabinet] was in Whitehall Gardens [London]. One day in October of 1916 a certain Mr. James [A.] Malcolm came to visit [Sir] Mark Sykes there. ... Mr. Malcolm was struck by an unaccustomed look of melancholy in Mark Sykes's expression. He asked him what was wrong. Sykes replied that he could see no end to the war. In France there was a military deadlock. At sea the power of the [German] submarine was growing; on land that of the Russian armies failing. In the [Near] East the revolt of the Arabs was producing nothing. [This was before the [T.E.] Lawrence phase had begun.] A decisive victory, or indeed a victory of any kind seemed impossible without American participation on an enormous scale, and of that he saw little likelihood. He knew that the only way to win was in a spirit of incredulity. ... Was Mr. Malcolm perfectly certain that he was really authorised by the British Cabinet? That he had not misunderstood? Malcolm assured him [Weizmann] of the reality of his mission. Dr. Weizmann then put the following question to him: "Are you really and personally convinced that the British Government seriously intend to promise Palestine in return for the help of leading American Jews?" Malcolm said that that was his conviction. Dr. Weizmann asked him another question: "Do you advise us to accept the British Government's offer?" "Yes," said Mr. Malcolm, "I do." Dr. Weizmann rose and shook hands with him, a minute ceremony by which he signified the entry of the Jewish leaders into the negotiation. "When can I meet Sir Mark Sykes?" he asked. Malcolm rang Sykes up then and there and arranged for a meeting at the latter's house in Buckingham Gate [No. 9] on the next day.

On the next day Dr. Weizmann was unable to go because of some appointment at the Admiralty where he held an official post [Director of the Admiralty Chemical Laboratories], and so his place as leader of a Zionist delegation was taken by [Nahum] Sokolow. This was to be the usual pattern of events throughout the negotiations. Dr. Weizmann was the directing mind, but taking little active part in day-to-day business, which was handled by this other man ... When introductions had been made by Mr. Malcolm a memorandum was presented to Sykes for him to convey to the Cabinet. We may suppose that remarks of a formal nature were then exchanged. ... Before the delegation left, Sokolow made a simple request, namely, that the Zionist Committee should have facilities for communication abroad. He pointed out that the only way to get that help is by offering Palestine to the Zionists." By this time Sykes's conversion had been completed.

He [Sykes] discussed the matter afresh with Lord Milner and George Barnes ... [who] put the

They watched this new opening in a spirit of incredulity. ... Was Mr. Malcolm perfectly certain that he was really authorised by the British Cabinet? That he had not misunderstood? Malcolm assured him [Weizmann] of the reality of his mission. Dr. Weizmann then put the following question to him: "Are you really and personally convinced that the British Government seriously intend to promise Palestine in return for the help of leading American Jews?" Malcolm said that that was his conviction. Dr. Weizmann asked him another question: "Do you advise us to accept the British Government's offer?" "Yes," said Mr. Malcolm, "I do." Dr. Weizmann rose and shook hands with him, a minute ceremony by which he signified the entry of the Jewish leaders into the negotiation. "When can I meet Sir Mark Sykes?" he asked. Malcolm rang Sykes up then and there and arranged for a meeting at the latter's house in Buckingham Gate [No. 9] on the next day.

On the next day Dr. Weizmann was unable to go because of some appointment at the Admiralty where he held an official post [Director of the Admiralty Chemical Laboratories], and so his place as leader of a Zionist delegation was taken by [Nahum] Sokolow. This was to be the usual pattern of events throughout the negotiations. Dr. Weizmann was the directing mind, but taking little active part in day-to-day business, which was handled by this other man ... When introductions had been made by Mr. Malcolm a memorandum was presented to Sykes for him to convey to the Cabinet. We may suppose that remarks of a formal nature were then exchanged. ... Before the delegation left, Sokolow made a simple request, namely, that the Zionist Committee should have facilities for communication abroad. He pointed consulates or Headquarters. ... The news was given out to Jewish communities all over the world that in return for certain services the British Government would ... satisfy the Jewish longing for Palestine...

It is amusing to note the Jew so masterfully playing the instinctive role of the pawnbroker here: "It's worth nothing; I couldn't use it," he says when presented with a particularly tantalizing tidbit, at the same time mentally computing the profit he will make on the transaction. The feigned incredulity and reluctance on the part of Weizmann and his cohorts, after their long-prepared plans for just such an event, apparently took in not only the British but their self-important go-between, Malcolm.

Press Changes Opinion

The same story related in Sykes's book is told in many other places — except, of course, in the school textbooks and history books intended for the Gentile public. Perhaps the most interesting and authoritative source is a pamphlet written in 1936 by Chaim Weizmann's secretary, Samuel Landman, himself a Zionist leader. Landman briefly summarized the negotiations between the top Zionists and the British government in October 1916 and then stated that "...immediately after the 'gentleman's' agreement between Sir Mark Sykes ... and the Zionist leaders ... the change in official and public opinion as reflected in the American press in favour of joining the Allies in the War was as gratifying as it was surprisingly rapid."

And so now we know why America went to war in 1917! Now we understand why there was no armistice in 1916 or early developments, the action of the German government in aiding the return of the Bolsheviks to Russia may seem to be unwise. But the Germans were at war against Russia, and they were fighting for their very lives. Anything which would serve to weaken Russian strength could be justified in terms of the current struggle.

See WAR, p. 16

ATTACK!

Back Issues

On the other hand, however, Britain was an ally of Russia, and her action in letting Trotsky and his kosher comrades leave Nova Scotia constituted a deliberate and completely indefensible act of sabotage against her own war effort.

As has already been mentioned, public opinion in the United States in the fall of 1916 was strongly non-interventionist, and this attitude was supported by Wilson's public statements and by the press, which was in predominantly Jewish hands. Jewish leaders in America, as elsewhere, were primarily interested in the success of the coming Bolshevik Revolution in Russia. An Allied victory before this revolution had succeeded would ruin their plans by giving the Russian government the chance to set its internal affairs in order at leisure.

Pressure on Russia

One of the most powerful leaders of the New York Jewish community, Jacob Schiff, had already poured many millions of dollars into the Bolshevik cause, in particular in connection with the abortive revolution of 1905. He had, in fact, financed the Japanese war effort against Russia in 1904 and 1905 while his brethren inside Russia attempted to overthrow the government.

Jewry was concerned, then, that regardless of other considerations the pressure of the German army must be maintained against Russia until that nation had been completely undermined from within. In Germany, for the December 12, 1916, as mentioned above.

Before this, however, the Jews were ready for their next move. The following document tells its own story. It is a condensed extract from Two Studies in Virtue, a book by Christopher Sykes published in London in 1953. The book is a biography of the author's father, Sir Mark Sykes, who served as an under-secretary to the British Foreign Office during World War I:

The office of the Assistant Secretaries [to the British Cabinet] was in Whitehall Gardens [London]. One day in October of 1916 a certain Mr. James [A.] Malcolm came to visit [Sir] Mark Sykes there. ... Mr. Malcolm was struck by an unaccustomed look of melancholy in Mark Sykes's expression. He asked him what was wrong. Sykes replied that he could see no end to the war. In France there was a military deadlock. At sea the power of the [German] submarine was growing; on land that of the Russian armies failing. In the [Near] East the revolt of the Arabs was producing nothing. [This was before the [T.E.] Lawrence phase had begun.] A decisive victory, or indeed a victory of any kind seemed impossible without American participation on an enormous scale, and of that he saw little likelihood. He knew nothing of America at first hand, but he saw the reports which reached the Cabinet. They were discouraging. Mr. Malcolm asked if any progress was being made in the winning of American [public] opinion. Sykes shook his head. "Precious little," he answered. ... At this Mr. Malcolm took occasion to harangue his friend on the principles which should govern British foreign policy regarding the Jewish world... He proceeded to tell him about Zionism...

After reflection the opinion of Sykes was that the prospect of Zionist. It followed that ... a Zionist policy was in truth the way to capture American sympathy [for the Allies].

When Sykes heard this he was again moved to confer with Lord Milner, and the latter told the Cabinet of Malcolm's proposals and ideas. The Cabinet showed cautious interest. Their reply was that no harm could be done if Malcolm were to open talks with representative Zionists, but no promise must be made. But Malcolm was not willing to undertake such a mission. "I cannot go empty-handed," he said to Sykes. "I must be able to tell these people that if the Zionists help the Allied cause, then they will receive the support of the British Government in their claim to rights in Palestine." Mark Sykes explained the chief objection as he saw this at the moment, namely, that such a line of action, especially if supported by a British Government, would be profoundly repugnant to French feelings ... To these explanations Malcolm replied: "The question is, do you want the help of the Jews in the United States? The only way you can get that help is by offering Palestine to the Zionists." By this time Sykes's conversion had been completed.

He [Sykes] discussed the matter afresh with Lord Milner and George Barnes ... [who] put the matter to the Cabinet again. The latter again authorised official conversations though only on the same terms.

This time Malcolm agreed to act the part of go-between. ... As the go-between Mr. Malcolm now arranged to meet the Zionist leaders through his friend Leopold [Jacob] Greenberg [Editor of The Jewish Chronicle].

Greenberg did as he was asked. He took his friend to No. 67 Addison Road, West Kensington [London], the house of Dr. [Chaim] Weizmann. ... A small with him, a minute ceremony by which he signified the entry of the Jewish leaders into the negotiation. "When can I meet Sir Mark Sykes?" he asked. Malcolm rang Sykes up then and there and arranged for a meeting at the latter's house in Buckingham Gate [No. 9] on the next day.

On the next day Dr. Weizmann was unable to go because of some appointment at the Admiralty where he held an official post [Director of the Admiralty Chemical Laboratories], and so his place as leader of a Zionist delegation was taken by [Nahum] Sokolow. This was to be the usual pattern of events throughout the negotiations. Dr. Weizmann was the directing mind, but taking little active part in day-to-day business, which was handled by this other man ... When introductions had been made by Mr. Malcolm a memorandum was presented to Sykes for him to convey to the Cabinet. We may suppose that remarks of a formal nature were then exchanged. ... Before the delegation left, Sokolow made a simple request, namely, that the Zionist Committee should have facilities for communication abroad. He point-not only the British but their self-important go-between, Malcolm.

Press Changes Opinion

The same story related in Sykes's book is told in many other places — except, of course, in the school textbooks and history books intended for the Gentile public. Perhaps the most interesting and authoritative source is a pamphlet written in 1936 by Chaim Weizmann's secretary, Samuel Landman, himself a Zionist leader. Landman briefly summarized the negotiations between the top Zionists and the British government in October 1916 and then stated that "...immediately after the 'gentleman's' agreement between Sir Mark Sykes ... and the Zionist leaders ... the change in official and public opinion as reflected in the American press in favour of joining the Allies in the War was as gratifying as it was surprisingly rapid."

And so now we know why America went to war in 1917! Now we understand why there was no armistice in 1916 or early

See WAR, p. 16

ATTACK! Back Issues

are full of interesting features, editorials, cartoons, etc. Individual copies of most issues are available at only 25¢ each

Order Today

before some issues are gone

National Alliance
Box 3535, Washington, DC 20007

New Zionist Publications—No. 1

GREAT BRITAIN THE JEWS AND PALESTINE

by

SAMUEL LANDMAN

Price 6d.

NEW ZIONIST PRESS

47, Finchley Road, London, N.W. 8

During the critical days of 1916 and of the impending defection of Russia, Jewry, as a whole, was against the Czarist regime and had hopes that Germany, if victorious, would in certain circumstances give them Palestine. Several attempts to bring America into the War on the side of the Allies by influencing influential Jewish opinion were made and had failed. Mr. James A. Malcolm, who was already aware of German pre-war efforts to secure a foothold in Palestine through the Zionist Jews and of the abortive

GREAT BRITAIN, THE JEWS AND PALESTINE

AS the Balfour Declaration originated in the War Cabinet, was consummated in the Foreign Office and is being implemented in the Colonial Office, and as some of those responsible for it have passed away or have retired since its migrations from Department to Department, there is necessarily some confusion or misunderstanding as to its raison d'être and importance to the parties primarily concerned. It would, therefore, seem opportune to recapitulate briefly the circumstances, the inner history and incidents that eventually led to the British Mandate for Palestine.

Those who assisted at the birth of the Balfour Declaration were few in number. This makes it important to bring into proper relief the services of one who, owing above all to his own modesty, has hitherto remained in the background. His services however should take their proper place in the front rank alongside of those Englishmen of vision whose services are more widely known, including the late Sir Mark Sykes, the Rt. Hon. W. Ormsby Gore, The Rt. Hon. Sir Ronald Graham, General Sir George Macdonagh and Mr. G. H. Fitzmaurice.

In the early years of the War great efforts were made by the Zionist Leaders, Dr. Weizmann and Mr. Sokolow, chiefly through the late Mr. C. P. Scott of the Manchester Guardian, and Sir Herbert Samuel, to induce the Cabinet to espouse the cause of Zionism.

These efforts were, however, without avail. In fact, Sir Herbert Samuel has publicly stated that he had no share in the initiation of the negotiations which led to the Balfour Declaration.* The actual initiator was Mr. James A. Malcolm and the following is a brief account of the circumstances in which the negotiations took place.

* "England and Palestine," lecture delivered by Sir Herbert Samuel, published by the Jewish Historical Society, London (February, 1936).

Mr. Malcolm as to the strength and importance of this movement in Jewry, in spite of the fact that many wealthy and prominent international or semi-assimilated Jews in Europe and America were openly or tacitly opposed to it (Zionist movement), or timidly indifferent. MM. Picot and Gout were likewise receptive.

An interesting account of the negotiations carried on in London and Paris, and subsequent developments, has already appeared in the Jewish

SAMUEL LANDMAN

Price 6d.

NEW ZIONIST PRESS

47, Finchley Road, London, N.W. 8

During the critical days of 1916 and of the impending defection of Russia, Jewry, as a whole, was against the Czarist regime and had hopes that Germany, if victorious, would in certain circumstances give them Palestine. Several attempts to bring America into the War on the side of the Allies by influencing influential Jewish opinion were made and had failed. Mr. James A. Malcolm, who was already aware of German pre-war efforts to secure a foothold in Palestine through the Zionist Jews and of the abortive Anglo-French démarches at Washington and New York; and knew that Mr. Woodrow Wilson, for good and sufficient reasons, always attached the greatest possible importance to the advice of a very prominent Zionist (Mr. Justice Brandeis, of the U.S. Supreme Court); and was in close touch with Mr. Greenberg, Editor of the Jewish Chronicle (London); and knew that several important Zionist Jewish leaders had already gravitated to London from the Continent on the qui vive awaiting events; and appreciated and realised the depth and strength of Jewish national aspirations; spontaneously took the initiative, to convince first of all Sir Mark Sykes, Under Secretary to the War Cabinet, and afterwards Monsieur Georges Picot, of the French Embassy in London, and Monsieur Goût of the Quai d'Orsay (Eastern Section), that the best and perhaps the only way (which proved so to be) to induce the American President to come into the War was to secure the co-operation of Zionist Jews by promising them Palestine, and thus enlist and mobilise the hitherto unsuspectedly powerful forces of Zionist Jews in America and elsewhere in favour of the Allies on a quid pro quo contract basis. Thus, as will be seen, the Zionists, having carried out their part, and greatly helped to bring America in, the Balfour Declaration of 1917 was but the public confirmation of the necessarily secret "gentleman's" agreement of 1916 made with the

Those who assisted at the birth of the Balfour Declaration were few in number. This makes it important to bring into proper relief the services of one who, owing above all to his own modesty, has hitherto remained in the background. His services however should take their proper place in the front rank alongside of those Englishmen of vision whose services are more widely known, including the late Sir Mark Sykes, the Rt. Hon. W. Ormsby Gore, The Rt. Hon. Sir Ronald Graham, General Sir George Macdonagh and Mr. G. H. Fitzmaurice.

In the early years of the War great efforts were made by the Zionist Leaders, Dr. Weizmann and Mr. Sokolow, chiefly through the late Mr. C. P. Scott of the Manchester Guardian, and Sir Herbert Samuel, to induce the Cabinet to espouse the cause of Zionism.

These efforts were, however, without avail. In fact, Sir Herbert Samuel has publicly stated that he had no share in the initiation of the negotiations which led to the Balfour Declaration.* The actual initiator was Mr. James A. Malcolm and the following is a brief account of the circumstances in which the negotiations took place.

* "England and Palestine," lecture delivered by Sir Herbert Samuel, published by the Jewish Historical Society, London (February, 1936).

3

Mr. Malcolm as to the strength and importance of this movement in Jewry, in spite of the fact that many wealthy and prominent international or semi-assimilated Jews in Europe and America were openly or tacitly opposed to it (Zionist movement), or timidly indifferent. MM. Picot and Goût were likewise receptive.

An interesting account of the negotiations carried on in London and Paris, and subsequent developments, has already appeared in the Jewish press and need not be repeated here in detail, except to recall that immediately after the "gentleman's" agreement between Sir Mark Sykes, authorised by the War Cabinet, and the Zionist leaders, cable facilities through the War Office, the Foreign Office and British Embassies, Legations, etc., were given to the latter to communicate the glad tidings to their friends and organisations in America and elsewhere, and the change in official and public opinion as reflected in the American press in favour of joining the Allies in the War, was as gratifying as it was surprisingly rapid.

The Balfour Declaration, in the words of Professor H. M. V. Temperley,* was "a definite contract between the British Government and Jewry." The main consideration given by the Jewish people (represented at the time by the leaders of the Zionist Organisation) was their help in bringing President Wilson to the aid of the Allies. Moreover, officially interpreted at the time by Lord Robert Cecil as "Judea for the Jews" in the same sense as "Arabia for the Arabs," the Declaration sent a thrill throughout the world. The prior Sykes-Picot Treaty of 1916, according to which Northern Palestine was to be politically detached and included in Syria (French sphere), was subsequently, at the instance of the Zionist leaders, amended† so that the Jewish National Home should comprise

NEW ZIONIST PRESS

47, Finchley Road, London, N.W. 8

During the critical days of 1916 and of the impending defection of Russia, Jewry, as a whole, was against the Czarist regime and had hopes that Germany, if victorious, would in certain circumstances give them Palestine. Several attempts to bring America into the War on the side of the Allies by influencing influential Jewish opinion were made and had failed. Mr. James A. Malcolm, who was already aware of German pre-war efforts to secure a foothold in Palestine through the Zionist Jews and of the abortive Anglo-French démarches at Washington and New York; and knew that Mr. Woodrow Wilson, for good and sufficient reasons, always attached the greatest possible importance to the advice of a very prominent Zionist (Mr. Justice Brandeis, of the U.S. Supreme Court); and was in close touch with Mr. Greenberg, Editor of the Jewish Chronicle (London); and knew that several important Zionist Jewish leaders had already gravitated to London from the Continent on the qui vive awaiting events; and appreciated and realised the depth and strength of Jewish national aspirations; spontaneously took the initiative, to convince first of all Sir Mark Sykes, Under Secretary to the War Cabinet, and afterwards Monsieur Georges Picot, of the French Embassy in London, and Monsieur Goût of the Quai d'Orsay (Eastern Section), that the best and perhaps the only way (which proved so to be) to induce the American President to come into the War was to secure the co-operation of Zionist Jews by promising them Palestine, and thus enlist and mobilise the hitherto unsuspectedly powerful forces of Zionist Jews in America and elsewhere in favour of the Allies on a quid pro quo contract basis. Thus, as will be seen, the Zionists, having carried out their part, and greatly helped to bring America in, the Balfour Declaration of 1917 was but the public confirmation of the necessarily secret "gentleman's" agreement of 1916 made with the previous knowledge, acquiescence and/or approval of the Arabs and of the British, American, French and other Allied Governments, and not merely a voluntary altruistic and romantic gesture on the part of Great Britain as certain people either through pardonable ignorance assume or unpardonable illwill would represent or rather misrepresent.

Sir Mark Sykes was Under-Secretary to the War Cabinet specially concerned with Near Eastern affairs, and, although at the time scarcely acquainted with the Zionist movement, and unaware of the existence of its leaders, he had the flair to respond to the arguments advanced by

REPRODUCED HERE are the title page and the first three pages of text from a booklet published in London in 1936 by Samuel Landman, secretary to Chaim Weizmann and Nahum Sokolow during the British-Zionist negotiations of October 1916 which led to the Zionist-controlled press in America swinging American public opinion in favor of intervention in World War I. Landman later became general secretary of the

Mr. Malcolm as to the strength and importance of this movement in Jewry, in spite of the fact that many wealthy and prominent international or semi-assimilated Jews in Europe and America were openly or tacitly opposed to it (Zionist movement), or timidly indifferent. MM. Picot and Goût were likewise receptive.

An interesting account of the negotiations carried on in London and Paris, and subsequent developments, has already appeared in the Jewish press and need not be repeated here in detail, except to recall that immediately after the "gentleman's" agreement between Sir Mark Sykes, authorised by the War Cabinet, and the Zionist leaders, cable facilities through the War Office, the Foreign Office and British Embassies, Legations, etc., were given to the latter to communicate the glad tidings to their friends and organisations in America and elsewhere, and the change in official and public opinion as reflected in the American press in favour of joining the Allies in the War, was as gratifying as it was surprisingly rapid.

The Balfour Declaration, in the words of Professor H. M. V. Temperley,* was "a definite contract between the British Government and Jewry." The main consideration given by the Jewish people (represented at the time by the leaders of the Zionist Organisation) was their help in bringing President Wilson to the aid of the Allies. Moreover, officially interpreted at the time by Lord Robert Cecil as "Judea for the Jews" in the same sense as "Arabia for the Arabs," the Declaration sent a thrill throughout the world. The prior Sykes-Picot Treaty of 1916, according to which Northern Palestine was to be politically detached and included in Syria (French sphere), was subsequently, at the instance of the Zionist leaders, amended† so that the Jewish National Home should comprise the whole of Palestine in accordance with the promise previously made to them for their services by the British, Allied and American Governments and to give full effect to the Balfour Declaration, the terms of which had been settled and known to all Allied and associated belligerents, including Arabs, before they were made public.

In Germany, the value of the bargain to the Allies, apparently, was duly and carefully noted. In his "Through Thirty Years" Mr. Wickham

* History of the Peace Conference in Paris, 1920, volume 6, page 173.

† Franco-British Convention, December 1920 (Cmd. 1195).

World Zionist Organization (1917-1922). Note his indication on page 4 above that the top Zionist leaders had already quietly drifted into London in anticipation of the approaching deal. After Germany's defeat, German awareness of the Jewish stab in the back described above led to much resentment against Jews. Thus, the Jews brought on themselves the later actions taken against them in Germany.

Years of Scheming, Treachery Paid Off for Plotters

WAR, from p. 14

1917! Now we see why the war had to go on for another two years and there had to be another three million White soldiers killed!

It required five months for the controlled press to swing American public opinion away from its non-interventionist stance. Those were the months between "he-kept-us-out-of-war" Wilson's reelection in November 1916 and his call to the Congress for a declaration of war in his "the-world-must-be-made-safe-for-democracy" speech of April 2, 1917. But it is evident that the wirepullers behind the scenes had been laying the groundwork for a pro-war propaganda campaign much earlier than November 1916.

Lusitania Affair

German submarine warfare against British shipping provided a number of incidents which were later used effectively in this campaign. The most important of these incidents was the sinking of the British auxiliary cruiser Lusitania on May 7, 1915. The shocking hanky-panky involved in the Lusitania affair, such as the Lusitania's illicit cargo of munitions, has been described authoritatively in several places, most notably in Colin Simpson's excellent book, The Lusitania.

What a study of U.S. governmental actions in 1915 and 1916, not only in regard to the Lusitania affair but also in the entire field of U.S.-German relations, strongly suggests is that there was a secret anticipation of the changes to come. Instead of striving to avoid friction Wilson and his associates went out of their way to insure

Flynn then brazenly goes on to boast that the information he supplied Wilson from his eavesdropping enabled Wilson to sidestep German diplomatic efforts to maintain the most cordial possible relations with America:

Through the secret information thus obtained, the State Department was able to outwit the German Foreign Office in the bitterly waged diplomatic battle that preceded our declaration of war. Using leads supplied by official wire tappers, the Secret Service was able to keep a close watch on the German government's prewar activities. Some of the information that came over tapped wires contributed as much as any other factor to our ultimate breaks with Germany and Austria.

Flynn gives several specific examples of the way in which Wilson used his wiretap information. If the United States were really to play the neutral role that Wilson gave lip service to before the Jewish-British deal, her natural action would be to strive to avoid having unfortunate encounters between United States citizens and German submarines. Senator Gore introduced a Senate resolution with this aim in mind, and when Wilson learned from Flynn how strongly the Germans desired this resolution to pass, Wilson redoubled his efforts to block it and was successful:

...He [one of German Ambassador von Bernstorff's aides] ... told all he and Bernstorff were doing to avert a break with America ... On March 1, 1916, they talked about the threat of

THE SLAUGHTER in the battle-torn fields of Europe was so heavy that it was often months before the dead could all be buried, and they rotted in the open by the hundreds of thousands, like this young German soldier on the Somme battlefield. Wilson's intervention not only prevented a compromise peace settlement and led to an additional three million battle deaths, but it also led to the communist takeover of Russia and, eventually, to World War II.

All this indicates that Brandeis had been whispering into Wilson's ear from the time of Wilson's first election, two years before his about-face on the question of American intervention in the war in Europe. Certainly, we know that Jewish financiers, such as Schiff, had been actively backing the Bolshevik faction in Russia as early as 1904 and that the Zionist faction had been developing its plans involving the war since 1897.

Apparently there was a careful coordination of the plans of these two factions, and the change from 1916 also leads inevitably to the conclusion that this deal was not as fortuitous as it may have seemed to some observers at the time, but instead was something which already had been in the works for many months.

Nor was Mr. Malcolm's role as crucial as he imagined. Rather than being the innovator of the whole proceedings he merely served the Jews' purpose of having the issue broached first from the British side instead of their own, thus giving the Jews the more advantageous bargaining position. Had Malcolm not been involved in the October 1916 negotiations, only Landman gave Malcolm the credit he thought he deserved. Neither Weizmann nor Sokolow even bothered to mention Malcolm in their memoirs.

Vengeance Waits

But although Landman remembered Malcolm, there were others he forgot, just as Weizmann and Sokolow did. None of the Zionist leaders ever made even a passing reference to those millions who died, without knowing it, for the simultaneous triumph of Bolshevism and Zion-declaration of war in his "the-world-must-be-made-safe-for-democracy" speech of April 2, 1917. But it is evident that the wirepullers behind the scenes had been laying the groundwork for a pro-war propaganda campaign much earlier than November 1916.

Lusitania Affair

German submarine warfare against British shipping provided a number of incidents which were later used effectively in this campaign. The most important of these incidents was the sinking of the British auxiliary cruiser Lusitania on May 7, 1915. The shocking hanky-panky involved in the Lusitania affair, such as the Lusitania's illicit cargo of munitions, has been described authoritatively in several places, most notably in Colin Simpson's excellent book, The Lusitania.

What a study of U.S. governmental actions in 1915 and 1916, not only in regard to the Lusitania affair but also in the entire field of U.S.-German relations, strongly suggests is that there was a secret anticipation of the changes to come. Instead of striving to avoid friction Wilson and his associates went out of their way to insure that there would be incidents which could later be used in an anti-German campaign. This ties in with disclosures made 10 years after the war by the former U.S. Secret Service chief, William J. Flynn, in an article in the June 2, 1928, issue of Liberty:

In 1915, two years before this country entered the World War, the United States Secret Service tapped the telephone wires of the German and Austrian embassies in Washington. Thereafter I received each night a stenographic report of every conversation, trivial and important, of the previous twenty-four hours. ...

Ordinarily, it is against the law to tap telephone wires and you can be sent to jail for doing it. The Secret Service got government authority to tap the wires in the German and Austrian embassies that preceded our declaration of war. Using leads supplied by official wire tappers, the Secret Service was able to keep a close watch on the German government's prewar activities. Some of the information that came over tapped wires contributed as much as any other factor to our ultimate breaks with Germany and Austria.

Flynn gives several specific examples of the way in which Wilson used his wiretap information. If the United States were really to play the neutral role that Wilson gave lip service to before the Jewish-British deal, her natural action would be to strive to avoid having unfortunate encounters between United States citizens and German submarines. Senator Gore introduced a Senate resolution with this aim in mind, and when Wilson learned from Flynn how strongly the Germans desired this resolution to pass, Wilson redoubled his efforts to block it and was successful:

...He [one of German Ambassador von Bernstorff's aides] ... told all he and Bernstorff were doing to avert a break with America ... On March 1, 1916, they talked about the threat of Congress to pass a resolution warning Americans to stay off armed passenger vessels, and President Wilson's determination to prevent such an action. ...

On Friday, March 3, the Senate tabled the Gore resolution warning Americans off armed merchantmen, which was what the President wanted. ...

Flynn then relates how he discovered, early in March, 1916, that von Bernstorff was planning to go to New York to meet Wilson's adviser, Colonel E.M. House, upon the latter's return from Europe, in the hope of having discussions with him that might lead to an easing of American-German tensions. Wilson, forewarned, sent House a telegram, ordering him to avoid von Bernstorff:

THE SLAUGHTER in the battle-torn fields of Europe was so heavy that it was often months before the dead could all be buried, and they rotted in the open by the hundreds of thousands, like this young German soldier on the Somme battlefield. Wilson's intervention not only prevented a compromise peace settlement and led to an additional three million battle deaths, but it also led to the communist takeover of Russia and, eventually, to World War II.

All this indicates that Brandeis had been whispering into Wilson's ear from the time of Wilson's first election, two years before his about-face on the question of American intervention in the war in Europe. Certainly, we know that Jewish financiers, such as Schiff, had been actively backing the Bolshevik faction in Russia as early as 1904 and that the Zionist faction had been developing its plans involving the war since 1897.

Apparently there was a careful coordination of the plans of these two factions, and the change from a pro-German to an anti-German stance at the end of 1916 was a move which had been foreseen for at least two years. The critical decision to be made was merely one of timing, of choosing the

A careful study of the great volume of material published in the Jewish press about the Zionist-British deal of October

1916 also leads inevitably to the conclusion that this deal was not as fortuitous as it may have seemed to some observers at the time, but instead was something which already had been in the works for many months.

Nor was Mr. Malcolm's role as crucial as he imagined. Rather than being the innovator of the whole proceedings he merely served the Jews' purpose of having the issue broached first from the British side instead of their own, thus giving the Jews the more advantageous bargaining position. Had Malcolm not been available, Weizmann and company would simply have used another shabbos goy.

This was brought out by the controversy surrounding Malcolm's later complaints that he had never received adequate recognition from the Jews for his services. Of all the Zionist leaders involved in the October 1916 negotiations, only Landman gave Malcolm the credit he thought he deserved. Neither Weizmann nor Sokolow even bothered to mention Malcolm in their memoirs.

Vengeance Waits

But although Landman remembered Malcolm, there were others he forgot, just as Weizmann and Sokolow did. None of the Zionist leaders ever made even a passing reference to those millions who died, without knowing it, for the simultaneous triumph of Bolshevism and Zionism. After all, they were only goyim, only Gentile cattle!

Eight million young men with their brains blown out, their limbs ripped off, their flesh seared, their entrails spilled on the ground, their rotting corpses strewn over the face of Europe; how their blood cries out for vengeance!

Do you have a friend with a closed mind?

Help him unlock it with a 3-month trial subscription

ATTACK!

Lusitania's illicit cargo of munitions, has been described authoritatively in several places, most notably in Colin Simpson's excellent book, The Lusitania.

What a study of U.S. governmental actions in 1915 and 1916, not only in regard to the Lusitania affair but also in the entire field of U.S.-German relations, strongly suggests is that there was a secret anticipation of the changes to come. Instead of striving to avoid friction Wilson and his associates went out of their way to insure that there would be incidents which could later be used in an anti-German campaign. This ties in with disclosures made 10 years after the war by the former U.S. Secret Service chief, William J. Flynn, in an article in the June 2, 1928, issue of Liberty:

In 1915, two years before this country entered the World War, the United States Secret Service tapped the telephone wires of the German and Austrian embassies in Washington. Thereafter I received each night a stenographic report of every conversation, trivial and important, of the previous twenty-four hours. ...

Ordinarily, it is against the law to tap telephone wires and you can be sent to jail for doing it. The Secret Service got government authority to tap the wires in the German and Austrian embassies. The procedure was approved by the State Department and carried out by the best telephone men in America. ... We rented an apartment and the telephone men led the wires in and hooked them up so that we had a telephone matching every telephone in the two embassies.

When a receiver was taken down in the embassy a light flashed in the Secret Service apartment. When a phone rang in the embassy one rang in our apartment.

Four stenographers worked in relays, all of them expert linguists. ...

citizens. Wilson's German sympathies, Senator Gore introduced a Senate resolution with this aim in mind, and when Wilson learned from Flynn how strongly the Germans desired this resolution to pass, Wilson redoubled his efforts to block it and was successful:

...He [one of German Ambassador von Bernstorff's aides] ... told all he and Bernstorff were doing to avert a break with America ... On March 1, 1916, they talked about the threat of Congress to pass a resolution warning Americans to stay off armed passenger vessels, and President Wilson's determination to prevent such an action. ...

On Friday, March 3, the Senate tabled the Gore resolution warning Americans off armed merchantmen, which was what the President wanted. ...

Flynn then relates how he discovered, early in March, 1916, that von Bernstorff was planning to go to New York to meet Wilson's adviser, Colonel E.M. House, upon the latter's return from Europe, in the hope of having discussions with him that might lead to an easing of American-German tensions. Wilson, forewarned, sent House a telegram, ordering him to avoid von Bernstorff:

Colonel House had arrived from Europe March 5, and Bernstorff had gone to New York in an effort to see him before he came to Washington. House relates in his Intimate Papers that President Wilson had sent him a Marconi message warning him that Bernstorff was "laying for" him and advising him not to see him. Our daily reports of the embassy telephone conversations had informed the President of Bernstorff's trip to New York.

Bernstorff waited in New York several days, but House gave him the slip, and went to Washington.

ear from the time of Wilson's first election, two years before his about-face on the question of American intervention in the war in Europe. Certainly, we know that Jewish financiers, such as Schiff, had been actively backing the Bolshevik faction in Russia as early as 1904 and that the Zionist faction had been developing its plans involving the war since 1897.

Apparently there was a careful coordination of the plans of these two factions, and the change from a pro-German to an anti-German stance at the end of 1916 was a move which had been foreseen for at least two years. The critical decision to be made was merely one of timing, of choosing the

A careful study of the great volume of material published in the Jewish press about the Zionist-British deal of October

as fortuitous as it may have seemed to some observers at the time, but instead was something which already had been in the works for many months.

Nor was Mr. Malcolm's role as crucial as he imagined. Rather than being the innovator of the whole proceedings he merely served the Jews' purpose of having the issue broached first from the British side instead of their own, thus giving the Jews the more advantageous bargaining position. Had Malcolm not been available, Weizmann and company would simply have used another shabbos goy.

This was brought out by the controversy surrounding Malcolm's later complaints that he had never received adequate recognition from the Jews for his services. Of all the Zionist leaders

Malcolm the credit he thought he deserved. Neither Weizmann nor Sokolow even bothered to mention Malcolm in their memoirs.

Vengeance Waits

But although Landman remembered Malcolm, there were others he forgot, just as Weizmann and Sokolow did. None of the Zionist leaders ever made even a passing reference to those millions who died, without knowing it, for the simultaneous triumph of Bolshevism and Zionism. After all, they were only goyim, only Gentile cattle!

Eight million young men with their brains blown out, their limbs ripped off, their flesh seared, their entrails spilled on the ground, their rotting corpses strewn over the face of Europe; how their blood cries out for vengeance!

Do you have a friend with a closed mind?

Help him unlock it with a 3-month trial subscription to ATTACK!

Here's how it works:

You send us $5 for a packet of 5 subscription coupons and addressed reply envelopes. You sell the coupons for $1 each and keep the money. Just have each buyer fill in his or her name and address and mail the coupon to us in the reply envelope (or you can do it for him). Each coupon is good for a 3-month trial subscription to ATTACK! (new subscribers only).

Send me a packet of 5 trial subscription coupons. Enclosed is $5.

Name _____
 Street _____ City _____ State _____ Zip _____